The Red Devil Katherine Russell Rich, 2000 When Katherine Russell Rich was 32 a newly divorced magazine editor living in New York City her 10 year ordeal with cancer began Soon she was bald scrambled and living in two worlds simultaneously the world of the ill of treatments exhaustion and doctors focused on avoiding malpractice suits and the normal world where dating career vacations and 401 k plans still mattered Dazzling in its writing The Red Devil is alternately wise and wise cracking it is the story of a woman who has been brought to her knees several times only to get up and learn to dance

The Summer of Her Baldness Catherine Lord, 2010-07-05 No eyebrows No eyelashes When it rains the water will run straight down into my eyes Catherine Lord wrote before her hair fell out during chemotherapy Propelled into an involuntary performance piece occasioned by the diagnosis of breast cancer Lord adopted the online persona of Her Baldness an irascible witty polemical presence who speaks candidly about shame and fear to her listserv audience While Lord suffers from unwanted isolation and loss of control as her treatment progresses Her Baldness talks back to the society that stigmatizes bald women not to mention middle aged lesbians with a life threatening disease In this irreverent and moving memoir Lord draws on the e mail correspondence of Her Baldness to offer an unconventional look at life with breast cancer and the societal space occupied by the seriously ill She photographs herself and the rooms in which she negotiates her disease She details the clash of personalities in support groups her ambivalence about Western medicine her struggles to maintain her relationship with her partner and her bemusement when she is mistaken for a sir She uses these experiences common to the one in eight women who will be diagnosed at some point with breast cancer to illuminate larger issues of gender signifiers sexuality and the construction of community
