Retrieving Experience Subjectivity And Recognition In Feminist Politics:

Retrieving Experience Sonia Kruks, 2018-09-05 In Retrieving Experience Sonia Kruks engages critically with the postmodern turn in feminist and social theory. She contends that although postmodern analyses yield important insights about the place of discourse in constituting subjectivity, they lack the ability to examine how experience often exceeds the limits of discourse. To address this lack and explain why it matters for feminist politics, Kruks retrieves and employs aspects of postwar French existential theory, a tradition that she argues postmodernism has obscured by militantly rejecting its own genealogy. Kruks seeks to refocus our attention on the importance for feminism of embodied and lived experiences. Through her original readings of Simone de Beauvoir and other existential thinkers including Sartre, Fanon, and Merleau-Ponty, and her own analyses inspired by their work, Kruks sheds new light on central problems in feminist theory and politics. These include debates about subjectivity and individual agency, questions about recognition and identity politics, and discussion of whether embodied experiences may sometimes facilitate solidarity among groups of different women. Retrieving Experience

Sonia Kruks, 2001 Situating the subject: Panopticism and shame. Foucault, Beauvoir, and feminism: The politics of recognition. Sartre, Fanon, and identity politics. Identity politics and dialectical reason beyond an epistemology of provenance. Going beyond discourse: feminism, phenomenology, and women's experience. Phenomenology and difference on the possibility of feminist world travelling. A Good Night Out for the Girls E. Aston, G. Harris, 2012-11-29 Moving across the boundaries of mainstream and experimental circuits from the affective pleasures of commercially successful shows such as Calendar Girls and Mamma Mia to the feminist possibilities of new burlesque and stand up, this book offers a lucid and accessible account of popular feminisms in contemporary theatre and performance. Forgotten Engagements Angela

Kershaw, 2007-01-01 This study is the first to examine the contribution made by women writers to politically committed literature in 1930s France. Its purpose is to bring to light the work of female authors of left-wing fiction whose novels are comparable to those of well-known male practitioners of literature, such as Paul Nizan and Louis Aragon. It analyses the work of Madeleine Pelletier, Simone T. ry, Edith Thomas, Henriette Valet, and Louise Weiss in the context of the inter-war models of committed literature in relation to which they were produced. Consideration of this body of fictional texts, not previously brought together by literary historians, shows how women were able to relate to fiction and to politics in inter-war France. Situating the novels within their social, historical, literary, and political environment, the book contributes to the literary and cultural history of twentieth-century France. The analysis of inter-war political writing by women calls into question the criteria against which women's writing has been evaluated by feminist scholarship. Manufactured

Uncertainty Lorraine Code, 2020-11-01 In this provocative work, Lorraine Code returns to the idea of epistemic responsibility as developed in her influential 1987 book of the same name to confront the telling new challenges we now face to know the world with some sense of responsibility to other knowers and to the sustaining nonhuman world. Manufactured Uncertainty focuses centrally on the environmental and cultural crises arising from postindustrial man made climate change which have spawned new forms of passionately partisan social media that directly challenge all efforts to know with a sense of collective responsibility How can we agree to act together Code asks even in the face of inevitable uncertainty given the truly life threatening stakes of today s social and political challenges How can we engage responsibly with those who take every argument for an environmentally grounded epistemology as an unacceptable challenge to their assumed freedoms comforts and rights Through searching critical dialogue with leading epistemologists cultural theorists and feminist scholars this book poses a timely challenge to all thoughtful knowers who seek to articulate an expanded and deepened sense of epistemic responsibility to a human society and a natural world embraced together in the most inclusive spirit

Simone de Beauvoir's Political Thinking Lori Marso,Patricia Moynagh,2024-04-22 By exploring the life and work of the influential feminist thinker Simone de Beauvoir this book shows how each of us lives within political and social structures that we can and must play a part in transforming It argues that Beauvoir s careful examination of her own existence can also be understood as a dynamic method for political thinking As the contributors illustrate Beauvoir s political thinking proceeds from the bottom up using examples from individual lives as the basis for understanding and transforming our collective existence For example she embraced her responsibility as a French citizen as making her complicit in the French war against Algeria Here she sees her role as an oppressor In other contexts she looks to the lives of individual women including herself to understand the dimensions of gender inequality This volume s six tightly connected essays home in on the individual s relationship to community and how one s freedom interacts with the freedom of other people Here Beauvoir is read as neither a liberal nor a communitarian The authors focus on her call for individuals to realize their freedom while remaining consistent with ethical obligations to the community Beauvoir s account of her own life and the lives of others is interpreted as a method to understand individuals in relations to others and as within structures of personal material and political oppression Beauvoir's political thinking makes it clear that we cannot avoid political action To do nothing in the face of oppression denies freedom to everyone including oneself Global Babel Samir Dayal, Margueritte Murphy, 2021-02-10 Globalization as we know it today would be unimaginable without the revolution in information and communication technologies of the last thirty years Yet have we achieved one world as the promotional hype for cellular and digital networks would have it This collection of essays Global Babel Questions of Discourse and Communication in a Time of Globalization explores the current state of communication and discourse in a globalized environment The essays are united by an awareness that whether understood technologically economically epistemologically or culturally globalization is a discursive field with discrepant assumptions categories and conclusions As such globalization is double edged and complex It can certainly enable the exploitation of the powerless by the powerful in different contexts or at different moments it can also facilitate individual and collective agency It is this doubleness this complexity that this collection seeks to bring into focus This volume offers an interdisciplinary forum where technological aesthetic and ethical issues relating to globalization inhabit the same conceptual frame Together the essays address the central issue of how the new knowledges of globalization are being articulated and explore the cultural consequences and success of such communication and knowledge exchange The Bloomsbury Handbook of Creative Research Methods Helen Kara, 2023-12-14 This book provides both an overview of and an insight into the rapidly expanding field of creative research methods The contributors from four continents range from doctoral students through to independent and practice based researchers to senior professors providing a clear view of the applicability of creative research methods in all types of research work Chapters offer examples of creative research methods in practice and advice on how to transfer or adapt those methods for different disciplines and settings Research ethics and research quality are considered throughout This is a timely handbook which provides information for novice researchers and inspiration for experienced researchers and is essential reading for anyone interested in creative research methods Of Irony and Empire Laura Rice, 2012-02-01 Of Irony and Empire is a dynamic thorough examination of Muslim writers from former European colonies in Africa who have increasingly entered into critical conversations with the metropole Focusing on the period between World War I and the present the age of irony this book explores the political and symbolic invention of Muslim Africa and its often contradictory representations Through a critical analysis of irony and resistance in works by writers who come from nomadic areas around the Sahara Mustapha Tlili Tunisia Malika Mokeddem Algeria Cheikh Hamidou Kane Senegal and Tayeb Salih Sudan Laura Rice offers a fresh perspective that accounts for both the influence of the Western instrumental imaginary and the Islamic holistic one
