The Political Psychology of War Rape Inger Skjelsbæk,2012-02-13 This book provides a conceptual framework for understanding war rape and its impact through empirical examination of the case of Bosnia Providing a contextual understanding of sexual violence in war and situating Bosnian war rape in relation to subsequent conflicts the book offers a methodological outline of how sexual violence in war can be studied from a political psychological perspective It presents empirical findings from the field that show what war rape can entail in the aftermath of armed conflict for victims and their communities Through its comprehensive approach to Bosnian experiences the volume expands the conceptualization of victimhood and challenges the assumption that sexual violence is a particularly difficult theme to study because of victim silence Rather the author demonstrates there are many voices that can provide insight and understandings of war rape and its impact without having to compromise the safety and privacy of individual victims Finally the book shows the ways in which individual experiences of war rape are shaped by national and international discourses on gender sexuality and politics This book will be of interest to students of political psychology war and conflict studies European politics ethnic conflict politics and IR in general

Media and Science-Religion Conflict Thomas Aechtner,2020-01-22 This book examines why the religion science skirmishes known as the Evolution Wars have persisted into the 21st century It does so by considering the influences of mass media in relation to decision making research and the Elaboration Likelihood Model one of the most authoritative persuasion theories The book s analysis concentrates on the expression of cues or cognitive mental shortcuts in Darwin sceptic and counter creationist broadcasts A multiyear collection of media generated by the most prominent Darwin sceptic organizations is surveyed along with rival publications from supporters of evolutionary theory described as the pro evolutionists The analysed materials include works produced by Young Earth Creationist and Intelligent Design media makers New Atheist pacesetters as well as both agnostic and religious supporters of evolution These cues are shown to function as subtle but effective means of shaping public opinion including appeals to expertise claims that ideas are being censored and the tactical use of statistics and technical jargon Contending that persuasive mass media is a decisive component of science religion controversies this book will be of keen interest to scholars of Religion Science and Religion interactions as well as researchers of Media and Communication Studies more generally

Democratic Culture and Moral Character Jerome Braun,2013-06-03 This book returns critical theory to its roots in both psychology and the social sciences It shows some of the relationships between equality in a political and social sense and personal identity that either relates well to such equality or rebels against it All this reflects processes of social and cultural influence that involve not only random change but also processes of social and cultural evolution that themselves have effects regarding potentials for self fulfillment and even public morality This book provides a framework to help one study the interaction between individual aspirations and social opportunities Jerome Braun known for his writings in interdisciplinary social science an approach he calls pragmatic critical theory here provides a book that discusses issues relevant to the moral underpinnings of democratic society including issues of social evolution and of culture and personality This book will be of particular interest to scholars and students of Psychology particularly in the areas of Psychology of Personality and Cultural Psychology Sociology especially those interested in Sociology of Alienation and Sociology of Culture as well as Sociology of Mental Health Anthropology particularly in the area of Psychological Anthropology Cultural Studies and Social Theory in general Dead

Men's Propaganda Terhi Rantanen, 2024-05-07 In Dead Men's Propaganda Ideology and Utopia in Comparative Communications Studies Terhi Rantanen investigates the shaping of early comparative communications research between the 1920s and 1950s notably the work of academics and men of practice in the United States Often neglected this intellectual thread is highly relevant to understanding the 21st century's challenges of war and rival streams of propaganda Borrowing her conceptual lenses from Karl Mannheim and Robert Merton Rantanen draws on detailed archival research and case studies to analyse the extent and importance of work outside and inside the academy illuminating the work of pioneers in the field Some of these were well known academics such as Harold Lasswell and the authors of the seminal book Four Theories of the Press Others operated in the world of news agencies such as Associated Press's Kent Cooper or were marginalised as migr scholars notably Paul Kecskemeti and Nathan Leites Her study shows how comparative communications from its very beginning can be understood as governed by the Mannheimian concepts of ideology and utopia and the power play between them The close relationship between these two concepts resulted in a bias in knowledge production contributed to dominant narratives of generational conflicts and to the demarcation of Insiders and Outsiders By focusing on a generation at the forefront of comparative communications at this pivotal time in the 20th century this book challenges orthodoxies in the intellectual histories of communication studies
