Clocks and the Making of the Modern World

Revolution In Time Belknap Press

Gavin Lucas

Revolution In Time Belknap Press:

Revolution in Time David S. Landes, 1983 More than a decade after the publication of his dazzling book on the cultural technological and manufacturing aspects of measuring time and making clocks David Landes has significantly expanded Revolution in Time In a new preface and scores of updated passages he explores new findings about medieval and early modern time keeping as well as contemporary hi tech uses of the watch as mini computer cellular phone and even radio receiver or television screen While commenting on the latest research Landes never loses his focus on the historical meaning of time and its many perceptions and uses questions that go beyond history that involve philosophers and possibly theologians and literary folk as well Revolution in Time David Saul Landes, 1985 Making Time Gavin Lucas, 2021-04-25 Making Time grapples with a range of issues that have crystallized in the wake of 15 years of discussion on time in archaeology since the author's seminal volume The Archaeology of Time synthesizing them for a new generation of scholars The general understanding of time held by both archaeologists and non archaeologists is often very simple a linear notion where time flows along a single path from the past into the future This book sets out to complicate this image to draw out the key problems and issues with time that impact archaeological interpretation Using concrete examples drawn from different periods and places the book challenges the reader to think again Ultimately the book will suggest that if we want to understand what archaeological time is then we need to accept that things do not exist in time they make time The crucial question then becomes what kinds of time do archaeological materialities produce Written for upper level undergraduates and researchers in archaeology the book is also accessible to non academics with an interest in the topic The book is relevant for cognate disciplines especially history heritage studies and philosophy A Grand Complication Stacy

Perman, 2013-02-19 Two wealthy and powerful men engage in a decades long contest to create and possess the most remarkable watch in history James Ward Packard of Warren Ohio was an entrepreneur and a talented engineer of infinite curiosity a self made man who earned millions from his inventions including the design and manufacture of America's first luxury car the elegant and storied Packard Henry Graves Jr was the very essence of blue blooded refinement in the early 1900s son of a Wall Street financier a central figure in New York high society and a connoisseur of beautiful things especially fine watches Then as now expensive watches were the ultimate sign of luxury and wealth but in the early twentieth century the limitless ambition wealth and creativity of these two men pushed the boundaries of mathematics astronomy craftsmanship technology and physics to create ever more ingenious timepieces In any watch features beyond the display of hours minutes and seconds are known as complications Packard and Graves spurred acclaimed Swiss watchmaker Patek Philippe to create the Mona Lisa of timepieces a fabled watch that incorporated twenty four complications and took nearly eight years to design and build For the period it was the most complicated watch ever created For years it disappeared but then it surfaced at a Sotheby's auction in 1999 touching off a heated bidding war shattering all known records when it fetched 11 million from an anonymous bidder New York Times bestselling author Stacy Perman takes us from the clubby world of New York high society into the ateliers of the greatest Swiss watchmakers and into the high octane often secretive subculture of modern day watch collecting With meticulous research vivid historical details and a wealth of dynamic personalities A Grand Complication is the fascinating story of the thrilling duel between two of the most intriguing men of the early twentieth century Above all it is a sweeping chronicle of innovation the desire for beauty and the lengths people will go to possess it

The Mental Universe of the English Nonjurors John William Klein,2021-09-21 The Glorious Revolution of 1688 which pushed James II from the throne of England was not glorious for everyone in fact for many it was a great disaster Those who had already taken an oath of allegiance to James II and to his heirs and lawful successors now pondered how they could take a second oath to William and Mary Those who initially refused to swear the oaths were called Nonjurors In 1691 Archbishop Sancroft eight bishops and four hundred clergy of the Church of England as well as a substantial number of scholars at Oxford and Cambridge were deprived removed from their offices and their license to practice removed The loss of this talent to the realm was incalculable Ten different paradigms shaped the English Nonjurors worldview Passive Obedience was paramount the Apostolic Succession essential a Cyprianist mentality colored everything they held a conscientious regard for oaths the Usages Controversy brought Tradition to the fore printing presses replaced lost pulpits patronage was a means of protection and proliferation they lived with a hybridized conception of time creative women spiritual writers complemented male bishops and a global ecumenical approach to the Orthodox East was visionary These ten operated synergistically to create an effective tool for the Nonjurors survival and success in their mission The Nonjurors influence out of all proportion to their size was due in large measure to this mentality Their unique circumstances prompted creative thinking and they were superb in that endeavor These perspectives constituted the infrastructure of the Nonjurors world and they help us to see the early eighteenth century not only as a time of rapid change but also as an era of persistent older religious mentalities adapted to new circumstances

Subversive Spiritualities Frederique Apffel-Marglin,2011-11-15 In this book Frederique Apffel Marglin draws on a lifetime of work with the indigenous peoples of Peru and India to support her argument that the beliefs values and practices of such traditional peoples are eco metaphysically true Routledge

International Law and Time Klara Polackova Van der Ploeg, Luca Pasquet, León Castellanos-Jankiewicz, 2022-12-16 This book explores the close complex and consequential yet to a large extent implicit relationship between international law and time There is a conspicuous discrepancy between international law's technical preoccupation with the mechanics of temporal rules and the absence of more foundational considerations of how time both as an irrepressible physical dimension manifesting in the passage of time and as a social construct shaped by diverse social and cultural factors impacts and interacts with international law Divided into five parts and 21 chapters this book explores key aspects of the relationship between international law and time and puts the spotlight on time's fundamental significance for international law as a legal order and as a discipline Pursuing diverse approaches to international law the authors consider the notion significance manifestations uses and implications of time in international law in a wide range of contexts and offer insights into the various ways in which international law and international lawyers cope with time both in terms of constructing narratives and in devising and employing particular legal techniques

Media Infrastructures and the Politics of Digital Time Axel Volmar, Kyle Stine, 2025-10-01 In a crucial sense all machines are time machines The essays in Media Infrastructures and the Politics of Digital Time develop the central concept of hardwired temporalities to consider how technical networks hardwire and rewire patterns of time Digital media introduce new temporal patterns in their features of instant communication synchronous collaboration intricate time management and continually improved speed They construct temporal infrastructures that affect the rhythms of lived experience and shape social relations and practices of cooperation Interdisciplinary in method and international in scope the volume draws together insights from media and communication studies cultural studies and science and technology studies while staging an important encounter between two distinct approaches to the temporal patterning of media infrastructures a North American strain emphasizing the social and cultural experiences of lived time and a European tradition prominent especially in Germany focusing on technological time and time critical processes

Flesh and Stone: The Body and the City in Western Civilization Richard Sennett, 1996-03-17 This vivid history of the city in Western civilization tells the story of urban life through bodily experience Flesh and Stone is the story of the deepest parts of life how women and men moved in public and private spaces what they saw and heard the smells that assailed them where they ate how they dressed the mores of bathing and of making love all in the architecture of stone and space from ancient Athens to modern New York Early in Flesh and Stone Richard Sennett probes the ways in which the ancient Athenians experienced nakedness and the relation of nakedness to the shape of the ancient city its troubled politics and the inequalities between men and women The story then moves to Rome in the time of the Emperor Hadrian exploring Roman beliefs in the geometrical perfection of the body The second part of the book examines how Christian beliefs about the body related to the Christian city the Venetian ghetto cloisters and markets in Paris The final part of Flesh and Stone deals with what happened to urban space as modern scientific understanding of the body cut free from pagan and Christian beliefs Flesh and Stone makes sense of our constantly evolving urban living spaces helping us to build a common home for the increased diversity of bodies that make up the modern city
