reductionist explanations valid Over the past three decades the Medjugorje visionaries have been subjected to extensive medical psychological and scientific examination even while undergoing their visionary experiences Daniel Klimek argues that the case of Medjugorje affords a rare opportunity to understand a deeper dimension of extraordinary religious phenomena Presenting and analyzing the scientific studies on the visionaries in juxtaposition with the major scholars and debates surrounding religious experience Klimek concludes that a multidisciplinary approach grants a more holistic and deeper understanding of such extraordinary religious experiences

The Social Psychology of Religion (Psychology Revivals) Michael Argyle,Benjamin Beit-Hallahmi,2013-11-26 Originally published in 1975 this book is a completely rewritten revised version of Michael Argyle s standard work Religious Behaviour first published in 1958 A great deal of new research had appeared since that date which threw new light on the nature and origins of religious behaviour beliefs and experience Trends in religious activity in Britain and the United States since 1900 and the state of religion in these two countries at the time are examined Evidence is presented on the origins of religious activity including the effects of stress drugs meditation evangelistic meetings personality variables and social class Other studies examine the effects of religion for example on mental and physical health political attitudes racial prejudice sexual behaviour morals and the relation between religion and scientific and other achievements The findings are used to test the main theories about religion which have been put forward by psychologists and other social scientists such as Freud s father projection theory cognitive need theories and deprivation compensation theories

Saint Hysteria Cristina Mazzoni,1996 Saint Hysteria examines scientific literary and religious texts that share a fascination with the otherness of the female body whether in ecstatic pleasure or in neurotic pain Cristina Mazzoni focuses on material from the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries mainly in Italy and France Her approach uses the methodologies of cultural studies and feminism but also benefits from the insights of psychoanalytic criticism She asks how the identification of mysticism with hysteria became prevalent and explores the continuing dialogue between a historicizing view of hysteria and a view of hysteria as repressed religious mysticism According to Mazzoni this dialogue is discernible at various levels and in a variety of discourses The medical history of hysteria she maintains is often linked to the religious history of supernatural phenomena and the medical discourse of positivism depends on the religious feminine element that it attempts to repress Similarly she finds a continuity between the literature of naturalism and that of decadence in their representations of the interdependence of neurosis and religion Finally the religious writings of women mystics and the discourses they inspired reveal an unresolved tension between nature and supernature body and soul or psyche which Mazzoni suggests mirrors and complicates the very issues raised by hysterical conversion Among those whose views she considers are the writers Jules and Edmond de Goncourt Gabriele d Annunzio and Antonio Fogazzaro as well as Graham Greene and Simone Weil the mystics Angela of Foligno Gemma Galgani and Teresa of Avila and the theorists Jean Martin Charcot Cesare Lombroso Jacques Lacan Simone de Beauvoir Julia Kristeva and Luce Irigaray
