Ka Tat Tsang 何佩瑜,2012-08-01 Provides an exemplary model of community based research on sexual and erotic attitudes and practices of gay men and middle aged women in Hong Kong over a span of over fifteen years The Origins of Spanish Colonialism in Morocco, 1859-62 Itzea Goikolea-Amiano,2025-01-21 This book investigates the beginnings of Spanish colonialism in Morocco in the mid nineteenth century focusing on the Spanish invasion of northern Morocco and the twenty seven month occupation of the city of Tetouan from 1859 to 1862 By homing in on specific events scenes and records the book reveals both the micro processes of everyday life and the larger systems of beliefs values and representations informing them It scrutinises the contours of the incipient Hispano Moroccan modern colonial formation by recourse to comparative analysis of dynamics across the Islamicate Mediterranean and Atlantic worlds while also emphasising the importance of local notions spaces and peoples in the modelling of colonial epistemologies and practices The author adopts different disciplinary approaches questions the dominant modes of historical knowledge production and explores colonial power from a feminist intersectional perspective thus acknowledging the polysemic nature of colonial rule for different historical subjects including the lower class and female subalterns      Eco-Impacts and the Greening of Postmodernity Tom Jagtenberg, David McKie, 1996-11-07 Addressing a growing need to examine environmental issues from a cultural perspective this innovative book adopts a cultural studies approach to reach a deeper understanding of the significance of ecological issues in our lives Eco Impacts and the Greening of Postmodernity explores such vital questions as Can nature survive How do academic disciplines engage with environmental crises And how do we map sustainable futures The authors Tom Jagtenberg and David McKie bring a body of relevant literature into the debate that stems from both cultural and environmental issues as well as their own multidisciplinary perspectives on the subject      Feminist Alliances ,2006-01-01 This book is about feminism its critics and its possible directions for change The nine chapters raise questions about theories of sexual difference power justice and history A central theme concerns the prospects for combining feminist with other non feminist political perspectives      The Poverty of Life-Affirming Work Mechthild Hart, 2001-12-30 While society may applaud middle and upper class women who decide to stay home to raise their children there exists a decided abhorrence for single mothers welfare queens who collect public funds but do not work Here Hart challenges traditional notions of welfare mothers by providing first hand accounts of poor urban mothers and revealing the life affirming and moral aspects of their motherwork a form of subsistence work involving many tasks that incorporate the physical psychological emotional and spiritual dimensions of life Though the mothering work these women do is vilified in public discourse as unnecessary and unwanted the author contends that the ethical and epistemological dimensions of life affirming work a key component of motherwork not only structure social political activism but also educational efforts that are oriented towards radical change Concrete experiences of motherwork policy analyses regarding welfare reform efforts oriented towards educational and epistemological border crossings and collective struggles for social change are examined here in a larger theoretical political economic framework Pulling together the many strands of different theoretical fields addressing issues related to critical transformative pedagogy community activism and forms of unpaid work this unique work calls for the unlearning of ways of thinking and feeling which uphold prejudices and life threatening social political hierarchies While the public may sneer at women who choose to accept welfare in order to stay home to raise their children these mothers must continue to perform this invisible work in order that their children may break the cycle of poverty in which they are entrenched The author examines ways in which these mothers organize and carry out educational efforts and political work in the context of extreme poverty and against the harsh criticisms of an unforgiving public Ultimately Hart hopes to convince the public of the inherent importance of motherwork and break down the prejudices that have worked against the urban poor and single mothers      Reader's Guide to Women's Studies Eleanor Amico, 1998-03-20 The Reader s Guide to Women s Studies is a searching and analytical description of the most prominent and influential works written in the now universal field of women's studies. Some 200 scholars have contributed to the project which adopts a multi-layered approach allowing for comprehensive treatment of its subject matter. Entries range from very broad themes such as Health General Works to entries on specific individuals or more focused topics such as Doctors.

"The" End of Capitalism (as We Knew It) J. K. Gibson-Graham, 2006-03-24 In the mid 1990s at the height of academic discussion about the inevitability of capitalist globalization J K Gibson Graham presented a groundbreaking and controversial argument for envisioning alternative economies. This new edition includes an introduction in which the authors address critical responses to The End of Capitalism and outline the economic research and activism they have been engaged in since the book was first published. Paralyzing problems are banished by this dazzlingly lucid creative and practical rethinking of class and economic transformation. Meaghan Morris, Lingnan University, Hong Kong. Profoundly imaginative. Eve Kosofsky Sedgwick, City University of New York. Filled with insights it is clearly written and well supported with good examples of actual deconstructive practices. International Journal of Urban and Regional Research J K Gibson Graham is the pen name of Katherine Gibson and Julie Graham, feminist economic geographers who work respectively at the Australian National University in Canberra and the University of Massachusetts Amherst.

Why Economists Disagree David L. Prychitko, 1998-01-01 Provides a convenient introduction to heterodox alternatives to neoclassical economics.

An Ethics of Place Mick Smith, 2001-03-29 Adopts ecological theory to critique, confront and suggest solutions for contemporary cultural problems.

Reader's Guide to the Social Sciences Jonathan Michie, 2014-02-03 This 2 volume work includes approximately 1 200 entries in A-Z order critically reviewing the literature on specific topics from abortion to world systems theory. In addition, nine major entries cover each of the major disciplines: political economy, management and business, human geography, politics, sociology, law, psychology, organizational behavior and the history and development of the social sciences in a broader sense.

The Politics of Gender Equality Carol Johnson, 2024-08-22 This open access book provides the first in-depth study of the development of federal gender equality politics and policy in Australia from the 1970s to the present day. Australia has a history of gender equality innovation including granting women's suffrage long before equivalent countries. From the 1970s on it became the first country to introduce a women's adviser, femocrats, feminist bureaucrats and gender responsive budgeting but then fell behind partly due to the influence of Anglosphere neoliberalism. However the Albanese government has pledged to make Australia a world leader in gender equality again. The book situates Australia in an international context, assessing the useful though sometimes salutary lessons which the Australian experience provides. It engages with key literature including feminist political theory, discursive framing analysis, gendered public policy analysis, LGBTIQ issues, path dependency and gender and leadership. It will interest academics, undergraduate and postgraduate researchers, public policy experts and practitioners and a broader readership interested in issues of gender equality. The book makes innovative contributions to the study of the politics of gender equality policy, addressing what a gender equality policy agenda could look like if the needs of women in all their intersectional social diversity were the driving force In doing so it addresses a range of issues that are impacting the future of women including an ongoing pandemic technology education and training agendas issues of sovereign capability securitisation climate change and the growth of campaigns that oppose so called gender ideology It explores how current government agendas such as the focus on wellbeing could be made even more gender inclusive Finally the book suggests that Australia as a multicultural but predominantly Western settler colonial society situated in the Asia Pacific has some potentially unique insights to offer in a world facing major geoeconomic and geopolitical change

Posthumanism and the Man Question Ulf Mellström, Bob Pease, 2022-12-30 This book brings together the emerging insights of what posthumanism new materialism and affect theory mean for the man question The contributors to this book interrogate the question of how Man as a gendered being is entangled with nature culture materiality and corporeality and they explore ways to unsettle men's sense of sovereignty to decentre anthropocentric masculinity Men have to move from the centre of privilege which grants them supremacy before they can open themselves to the decentred embodied affective vulnerable and relational self that is necessary to embrace the posthuman This book explores the extent to which this is possible The book will be of interest to academics students and scholars across a range of disciplines who are engaging with the intersections of feminist studies with posthumanism and new materialism especially as they relate to critical studies of men and masculinities Chapters on fathering pornography ageing affect embodiment entanglements with technology and nature and the implications of these issues for changing men and masculinities and the politics of critical masculinity studies engagement with posthuman feminisms will interest students and academics across these diverse disciplines
