Money Talks Brenda Berger, Stephanie Newman, 2012-03-12

Sometimes referred to as the last taboo money has remained something of a secret within psychoanalysis Ironically while it is an ingredient in almost every encounter between analyst and patient the analyst's personal feelings about money are rarely discussed openly or in any great depth So what is it about money that relegates it to the background both on the couch and off In Money Talks Brenda Berger Stephanie Newman and their excellent cast of contributors address this and other questions surrounding the tender topic of money how we talk about it and how it talks to us Its multiple meanings are explored in the contexts of patients and analysts and the ways in which they relate in the training and practice of the analysts themselves as well as the psychological and cultural consequences of having too much or too little in both flush and tight economic times Throughout a clinical sensibility is brought to bear on money's softly spoken place in therapy and life Money Talks paves the way for an open discourse into the psychology of money and its pervasive influence on the psyche of both patient and analyst Shifting Voices Agatha Schwartz, 2007-12-18 Previous scholarly attention to Hapsburg culture has emphasized its German centred aspects Shifting Voices brings a new focus to the Hapsburg Empire's rich Hungarian component through a comparative feminist analysis of women's literary contributions in Austria and in Hungary

Gender and the Abjection of Blackness Sabine Broeck, 2018-05-23 An anti racist critique of gender studies as a field In Gender and the Abjection of Blackness Sabine Broeck argues that gender studies as a mostly white field has taken insufficient account of Black contributions and that more than being an ethnocentric limitation or blind spot this has represented a structural anti Blackness in the field Engaging with the work of Black feminist authors Sylvia Wynter Hortense Spillers and Saidiya Hartman Broeck critiques a selection of canonical white gender studies texts to make this case The book discusses this problem at the core of gender theory as a practice which Broeck terms enslavism the ongoing abjection of Black life which Hartman has called the afterlife of slavery This has become manifest in the repetitive employment of the woman as slave metaphor so central to gender theory as well as in recent theoretical mutations of these anti Black politics of analogy It is the structural separation of Blackness from gender that has functioned over and over again as the scaffold enabling white women's struggles for successful recognition of equality and subjectivity in the human world as we know it This book challenges white readers to rethink their own untroubled identification with gender theory and it provides all readers with a white feminist theorist's sophisticated theoretical and self critical scholarly account of her own reckoning with and learning in dialogue from Black feminism's critique Broeck draws on a wide range of experience to provide a frame for rethinking gender as category that can work towards something like Black freedom Most importantly Black theoretical insights in this work move beyond intervention to offer a whole new way of being and the author grapples with the new conceptual terrain she is now occupying Rinaldo Walcott author of Queer Returns Essays on Multiculturalism Diaspora and Black Studies Women, Mothers, Subjects Maura Sheehy, 2015-10-14 This collection drawn from twelve years of the influential journal Studies in Gender and Sexuality offers a groundbreaking advance in thinking and theorizing about what happens to women when they become mothers It explores how women are changed and shaped by interaction with their children and the cultural constructs about motherhood in which they are embedded Distinguished psychoanalysts philosophers feminists gender and cultural theorists explore the meeting place of cultural representations of motherhood maternal theory and mothers interacting in the clinical setting and with their children to illuminate how the process of becoming a mother creates and informs female subjectivity identity desire expression aggression ambition shame envy and relationships Contributors find mothers to be complex subjects negotiating rich hybrid identities that explode received notions of maternal and even female subjectivity in their complexity They create an exciting and very accessible new set of ideas and templates for thinking about mothers and women that will be of value to clinicians academics and mothers alike This book was originally published as a special issue of Studies in Gender and Sexuality
