Shadows Of Ghadames:

The Shadows of Ghadames Joelle Stolz, 2006-02-14 This story about a Muslim girl bound by traditional Islamic customs but who yearns for something more explores women's rights, freedom, religion, and identity. In the Libyan city of Ghadames, Malika watches her merchant father depart on one of his caravan expeditions. She too yearns to travel to distant cities and longs to learn to read like her younger brother. But nearly 12 years old and soon to be of marriageable age, Malika knows that like all Muslim women, she must be content with a more secluded, more limited life. Then one night a stranger enters her home, someone who disrupts the traditional order of things and who affects Malika in unexpected ways. I was enchanted by this story of a brave Berber girl who dares to dream and its filigree of details about harem life, ancient trade routes, goddesses, and healers. The real beauty of The Shadows of Ghadames is that it transcends the exotic to explore universal truths about the condition of being human. Suzanne Fisher Staples, author of the Newbery Honor Book Shabanu: Daughter of the Wind. Stolz invigorates her tale with elegant prose and a deft portrayal of a girl verging on adolescence. The vivid backdrop is intoxicating, but the story's universal concerns will touch readers most. Booklist Starred The Shadows of Ghadames Joëlle Stolz, 2004 At the end of the nineteenth century in Libya, eleven-year-old Malika simultaneously enjoys and feels constricted by the narrow world of women, but an injured stranger enters her home and disrupts the traditional order of things.

In this extraordinary resource, you will find introductions to over 400 fiction, nonfiction, and poetry titles for age levels 4-8 and 8-12, written and illustrated by international authors and illustrators and matched with related curriculum activities correlated with national curriculum standards. Windows on the World consists of over 100 lead books and over 350 related books published in the last ten years, organized by countries and cultures. It includes work from non-American authors working in the United States and abroad, as well as reissues of classics and a few American titles noted for their authentic representations of other cultures. Each entry includes bibliographic data, information about the author and illustrator, identification of genre, recommended age level, a synopsis, suggested curriculum responses correlated with national curriculum standards, and related books.

Neo-Imperialism in Children's Literature About Africa Yulisa Amadu Maddy,Donnarae MacCann,2008-12-28 In the spirit of their last collaboration Apartheid and Racism in South African Children s Literature 1985 1995 Yulisa Amadu Maddy and Donnarae MacCann once again come together to expose the neo imperialist overtones of contemporary children s fiction about Africa Examining the portrayal of African social customs religious philosophies and political structures in fiction for young people Maddy and MacCann reveal the Western biases that often infuse stories by well known Western authors In the book s introductory section Maddy and MacCann offer historical information concerning Western notions of Africa as primitive and then present background information about the complexity of feminism in Africa and about the ongoing institutionalization of racism The main body of the study contains critiques of the novels or short stories of eleven well known writers including Isabel Allende and Nancy Farmer all demonstrating that children s literature continues to mis represent conditions and social relations in Africa The study concludes with a look at those short stories of Beverley Naidoo which bring insight and historical accuracy to South African conflicts and emerging solutions Educators literature professors publishers professors of Diaspora and African studies and students of the mass media will find Maddy and MacCann s critique of racism in the representation of Africa to be indispensable to students of multicultural literature The Destiny of Linus Hoppe Anne-Laure Bondoux,2008-12-18 Linus Hoppe has always lived in Realm One an ideal world Now at 14 he must be tested by the Great Processor to determine where he deserves to live from here on If he achieves a high score nothing in his life will change But if he scores too low he ll be relegated to an inferior realm possibly far from his family and friends There s really nothing for Linus to worry about unless of course he chooses to alter his destiny Gentle Reads Deanna J. McDaniel,2008-06-30 This volume recommends some 500 positive heart warming stories for young readers stories of the human spirit and what it can accomplish stories of loving families surviving crises in positive ways historical tales full of quick witted people especially girls fairy tales with strong women true stories of survival and more These gentle and uplifting reads span every genre from science fiction and fantasy to mysteries realistic fiction biographies and nonfiction They are Accelerated Reader titles Reading Counts titles and Junior Library Guild selections Primarily intended for grades 5 to 9 this is a list of reading suggestions for the young adult who wants a great read but does not want to be offended Grades 5 9 African Youth in Contemporary Literature and Popular Culture Vivian Yenika-Agbaw,Lindah Mhando,2014-01-21 This book explores how African youth are depicted in contemporary literature and popular culture and discusses the different ways by which they attempt to construct personal and cultural identities through popular culture and social media outlets The contributors approach the subject from an interdisciplinary perspective looking at images in children s and adolescent literature from Africa and the African diaspora from Nollywood and Hollywood movies from popular magazines and from youth cultures encountered directly through field experiences The findings reveal that there are many stereotypes about Africa African youth and black cultures and that African youth are aware of these Since they juggle multiple identities shaped by their ethnicities race and religion it is often a challenge for them to define themselves As they also share a global youth culture that transcends these cultural markers some take advantage of media outlets to voice their concerns and participate in political struggles Others simply use these to promote their personal interests Contributors ponder the challenges involved in constructing unique identities offering ideas on how African youth are doing so successfully or not in different parts of the continent and the African diaspora and thus offer new possibilities for youth studies Children's Book Award Handbook
