Shake Hands With The Devil:

Shake Hands With the Devil Romeo Dallaire, 2009-02-24 On the tenth anniversary of the date that UN peacekeepers landed in Rwanda Random House Canada is proud to publish the unforgettable first hand account of the genocide by the man who led the UN mission Digging deep into shattering memories General Dallaire has written a powerful story of betrayal na vet racism and international politics His message is simple and undeniable Never again When Lt Gen Rom o Dallaire received the call to serve as force commander of the UN intervention in Rwanda in 1993 he thought he was heading off on a modest and straightforward peacekeeping mission Thirteen months later he flew home from Africa broken disillusioned and suicidal having witnessed the slaughter of 800 000 Rwandans in only a hundred days In Shake Hands with the Devil he takes the reader with him on a return voyage into the hell of Rwanda vividly recreating the events the international community turned its back on This book is an unsparing eyewitness account of the failure by humanity to stop the genocide despite timely warnings Woven through the story of this disastrous mission is Dallaire s own journey from confident Cold Warrior to devastated UN commander to retired general engaged in a painful struggle to find a measure of peace reconciliation and hope This book is General Dallaire s personal account of his conversion from a man certain of his worth and secure in his assumptions to a man conscious of his own weaknesses and failures and critical of the institutions he d relied on It might not sit easily with standard ideas of military leadership but understanding what happened to General Dallaire and his mission to Rwanda is crucial to understanding the moral minefields our peacekeepers are forced to negotiate when we ask them to step into the world s dirty wars Excerpt from Shake Hands with the Devil My story is not a strictly military account nor a clinical academic study of the breakdown of Rwanda It is not a simplistic indictment of the many failures of the UN as a force for peace in the world It is not a story of heroes and villains although such a work could easily be written This book is a cri de coeur for the slaughtered thousands a tribute to the souls hacked apart by machetes because of their supposed difference from those who sought to hang on to power This book is the account of a few humans who were entrusted with the role of helping others taste the fruits of peace Instead we watched as the devil took control of paradise on earth and fed on the blood of the people we were supposed to protect

Finnemore,2012-04-15 Rules for the World provides an innovative perspective on the behavior of international organizations and their effects on global politics Arguing against the conventional wisdom that these bodies are little more than instruments of states Michael Barnett and Martha Finnemore begin with the fundamental insight that international organizations are bureaucracies that have authority to make rules and so exercise power At the same time Barnett and Finnemore maintain such bureaucracies can become obsessed with their own rules producing unresponsive inefficient and self defeating outcomes Authority thus gives international organizations autonomy and allows them to evolve and expand in ways unintended by their creators Barnett and Finnemore reinterpret three areas of activity that have prompted extensive policy debate the use of expertise by the IMF to expand its intrusion into national economies the redefinition of the category refugees and decision to repatriate by the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees and the UN Secretariat s failure to recommend an intervention during the first weeks of the Rwandan genocide By providing theoretical foundations for treating these organizations as autonomous actors in their own right Rules for the World contributes greatly to our understanding of global politics and global governance A Thousand Hills Stephen Kinzer,2009-05-04 A Thousand Hills

Empire Films and the Crisis of Colonialism, 1946-1959 Jon Cowans, 2015-05-15 The first transnational history of cinema's role in decolonization Using popular cinema from the United States Britain and France Empire Films and the Crisis of Colonialism 1946-1959 examines postwar Western attitudes toward colonialism and race relations Historians have written much about the high politics of decolonization but little about what ordinary citizens thought about losing their empires Popular cinema provided the main source of images of the colonies and according to Jon Cowans in this far reaching book films depicting the excesses of empire helped Westerners come to terms with decolonization and even promoted the dismantling of colonialism around the globe Examining more than one hundred British French and American films from the post World War II era Cowans concentrates on movies that depict interactions between white colonizers and nonwhite colonial subjects including sexual and romantic relations Although certain conservative films eagerly supported colonialism Cowans argues that the more numerous liberal colonialist productions undermined support for key aspects of colonial rule while a few more provocative films openly favored anticolonial movements and urged internal decolonization for people of color in Britain France and the United States Combining new archival research on the films production with sharp analysis of their imagery and political messages the book also assesses their reception through box office figures and newspaper reviews It examines both high profile and lesser known films on overseas colonialism including The King and I Bhowani Junction and Island in the Sun and tackles treatments of miscegenation and internal colonialism that appeared in Westerns and American films like Pinky and Giant The first truly transnational history of cinema s role in decolonization this powerful book weaves a unified historical narrative out of the experiences of three colonial powers in diverse geographic settings The Rwandan Genocide on Film

Matthew Edwards,2018-07-09 The Rwandan genocide was one of the most shameful events of the 20th century Many Westerners understanding of it is based upon the Oscar winning film Hotel Rwanda and the critically acclaimed Shooting Dogs Yet how accurately do these films depict events in Rwanda in 1994 Drawing on new scholarship this collection of essays explores a variety of feature films and documentaries about the genocide to understand its expression in both Western and Rwandan cinema Interviews with filmmakers are featured including journalist Steve Bradshaw BBC s Panorama director Nick Hughes 100 Days director Lee Isaac Chung Munyurangabo and Rwandan filmmakers Eric Kabera and Kivu Ruhorahoza
