First Fiction The Long Night of White Chickens announced Francisco Goldman's arrival as a major literary talent. It is both a suspenseful mystery and a tale of two worlds that plumbs the darkest depths of the relationship between the United States and Guatemala. Goldman tells the story of Roger Graetz, raised in a Boston suburb by an aristocratic Guatemalan mother and Jewish father, and Flor de Mayo, the beautiful young Guatemalan orphan who lives with the family as a maid. Similar in age, Roger and Flor become close and remain so even after she leaves to attend college at Wellesley. After graduation, however, Flor returns home to Guatemala City where she heads a local orphanage that arranges international adoptions. When she is murdered, Roger is stunned and can't believe the rumors he hears about her life. Years later, he travels to Guatemala to uncover the circumstances around Flor's mysterious death. In this wonderful book that is as complex as history, funny as love, painful as death, The Washington Post Book World A richly layered genre-busting novel that shuttles between suburban Boston and Guatemala City and devours everything in its path. Jay McInerney, author of Bright Lights, Big City, Long Night's Loving Anne Mather, 2015-08-17 He could still make her want him. Maggie would never have made the journey to Northumberland to see her ex-husband if it hadn't been for their rebellious teenage daughter. Lindsey had formed a disastrous relationship, and Neil was the only person who could help. Clearly, Maggie's treacherous betrayal some years ago still rankled with Neil because why else would he so provoke and humiliate her? She was ashamed of the fact that he could still make her want him while seemingly remaining detached himself. Surely he must be involved enough to want to help Lindsey, even if he suspected she might be another man's child.
