Looking Out From Death From The Cultural Revolution To Tiananmen Square:

Looking Out from Death Duoduo, Gregory Lee, John Cayley, 1989 Out of the Howling Storm Beidao, 1993 Jervey Tervalon's novel about young people in South Central Los Angeles grows out of his experience teaching in a high school there and his pain at the death of one of his favorite students Troubadours, Trumpeters, Troubled Makers Gregory B. Lee, 1996 Whether examining the globalized consumption of satellite broadcast pop music or the heroic efforts of little known poets on the margins of the Chinese diaspora he finds a questioning and contesting of both the Orientalist construction of a mythic monolithic China invented by the West and the Chinese obsession with ideas of authenticity and purity of nationhood tradition Baudelaire in China Gloria Bien, 2012-12-14 Baudelaire's work entered China in the twentieth century amidst political and social upheavals accompanied by a literary revolution that called for classical models and modes of expression to be replaced by vernacular language and contemporary content. Chinese writers welcomed their meeting with the West and openly embraced Western literature as providing models in developing their new literature. Baudelaire's reception in China provides a representative study of this meeting of East and West. His work which has been declared to stand between tradition and modernity also lies at the intersection between classical and modern literature in China. Many of the best known and most highly regarded writers in twentieth century China were drawn to Baudelaire's work and some addressed it directly in their own writings. Bien draws upon H. R. Jauss's theory of the shifting and expanding horizons of expectation in the reading and interpretation of a literary work and upon James J. Y. Lin's notion of worlds received and created by both author and reader to show how poetic lines, images and ideas as well as Chinese critics' comments eventually weave into a rich picture of Baudelaire's reception in China.

The Cambridge History of Chinese Literature: From 1375 Kang-i Sun Chang, Stephen Owen, 2010 Stephen Owen is James Bryant Conant Professor of Chinese at Harvard University. Book Jacket Constructing a System of Irregularities Chee Lay Tan, 2015-11-25 This book investigates the poetics of three of the most internationally renowned contemporary Chinese poets: Bei Dao, Yang Lian and Duoduo, who were all exiled from China after the 1989 Tiananmen student movement. Their poetry was later to be labelled 'Misty poetry'. Menglongshi emphasises polyvalent imagery and irregular syntax. Misty poetry engenders a multiplicity of meanings often leading to interpretational indeterminacy. This book examines three aspects of the 'Mistiness' of the poets' oeuvre: the socio-historic background where Misty poets live and write; imagery and linguistic elements. After first identifying the roots of 'Mistiness', this book identifies imagistic and linguistic clues in order to construct a hermeneutical system that examines the irregularities of the Misty poetics and appreciates the polysemy of the poets' works. Stylometry is used to analyse image frequency and its significance in a stylistic manner and a semiotic approach is then systematically applied to analyse the poets' highly irregular images, syntax and the different effects of their poems' obscurity. Through these approaches that unveil the poems' evocativeness, the irregularity of the poetry's 'Mistiness' is established as its most powerful linguistic and imagistic aspect. The book then places the three poets' different 'misty' characteristics into contrast: Bei Dao's twisted imagery and elliptical syntax; Yang's imagery in a classically inspired syntax; and Duoduo's integration of images into a rhythmic syntax. While the poets' progressions from pre to post exile poetics suggest the potential of a non-nationally specific or borderless poetics, their seemingly irregular poetic 'Mistiness' is the most powerful trait of Misty poetry for evoking its system of multifaceted significations and alternative aesthetics.
