Murder in Jerusalem Batya Gur, 2024-02-27 The sixth and final novel from beloved and critically acclaimed Israeli crime novelist Batya Gur a stunning tale of a beautiful and secretive woman's murder set against the politically charged backdrop of the Israeli media. Acclaimed Israeli director Benny Meyuhas film production of the heartbreaking work Iddo and Eynam promises to be a landmark of Israeli film until his wife and the film's set designer Tirzah Rubin is crushed under a set piece stalling the production indefinitely. But more shocking is what comes to light in the investigation that Tirzah's storybook life wasn't at all what it seemed and that her death may have been part of a larger network of social and political unrest. The brooding Chief Superintendent Michael Ohayon has spent his career surrounded by horrific crimes but perhaps none most deeply disturbs him than Tirzah's murder its strange connection to Israeli labor disputes and religious corruption shaking him to the core. The crowning achievement to a magnificent career this final installment in the Michael Ohayon series is a wonderful parting gift from the incomparable Batya Gur one last fascinating visit to an always tumultuous land in the company of a detective the author and her devoted readers have loved so well. Murder in Jerusalem Batya Gur, 2007-08-07 When a woman's body is discovered in the wardrobe warehouses of Israel Television Chief Superintendent Michael Ohayon embarks on a tangled and bloody trail of detection through the corridors and studios of Israel's official television station and through the fears, loves and contradictions of the people who work there. It is an eye-opening journey that brings into question the very ideals upon which Ohayon and indeed the entire nation was raised ideals that may have led to terrible crimes.

Bethlehem Road Murder Batya Gur, 2020-12-22 From acclaimed Israeli author Batya Gur the fifth installment in the Michael Ohayon mystery series set in a politically charged Arab quarter south of West Jerusalem. The body of a young woman with her face smashed in is discovered in the attic of a house on Bethlehem Street in the Baka neighborhood of Jerusalem. Chief Superintendent Michael Ohayon is called to the scene of the crime where beyond the usual horror an old love and an unfinished romance await him. As in her previous novels Batya Gur has spun a complex and fascinating murder investigation that serves as a means for entering a closed world with rules and a logic of its own. But here the closed world is a Jerusalem neighborhood that enfolds the entire Israeli experience in miniature. Gur wonderfully draws the fissures in this complex world and makes it like the murder investigation worthy of further examination. The criminal investigation is set against the background of tensions between Ashkenazis and Mizrahis hostility between Jews and Arabs the affair of the kidnapped Yemenite children of the 1950s and the al Aqsa Intifada in 2000. Literary Murder Batya Gur, 1994-10-07 A shocking double murder at Israel's top academic institution brings Superintendent Michael Ohayon to the scene to probe the nature of creativity and unravel the mystery. Murder on a Kibbutz Batya Gur, 1995-09-29 In Gur's third mystery clever charming Israeli investigator Michael Ohayon whom readers fell in love with in Saturday Morning Murder and Literary Murder must once again put his skills to work to solve a murder this time within the complex closed society of a kibbutz. Murder Duet

Fatal Fictions Alison L. LaCroix, Richard H. McAdams, Martha Craven Nussbaum, 2017 Writers of fiction have always confronted topics of crime and punishment This age old fascination with crime on the part of both authors and readers is not surprising given that criminal justice touches on so many political and psychological themes essential to literature and comes equipped with a trial process that contains its own dramatic structure This volume explores this profound and enduring literary engagement with crime investigation and criminal justice The collected essays explore three themes that connect the world of law with that of fiction First defining and punishing crime is one of the fundamental purposes of government along with the protection of victims by the prevention of crime And yet criminal punishment remains one of the most abused and terrifying forms of political power Second crime is intensely psychological and therefore an important subject by which a writer can develop and explore character A third connection between criminal justice and fiction involves the inherently dramatic nature of the legal system itself particularly the trial Moreover the ongoing public conversation about crime and punishment suggests that the time is ripe for collaboration between law and literature in this troubled domain The essays in this collection span a wide array of genres including tragic drama science fiction lyric poetry autobiography and mystery novels The works discussed include works as old as fifth century BCE Greek tragedy and as recent as contemporary novels memoirs and mystery novels The cumulative result is arresting there are killer wives and crimes against trees a government bureaucrat who sends political adversaries to their death for treason before falling to the same fate himself a convicted murderer who doesn't die when hanged a psychopathological collector whose quite sane kidnapping victim nevertheless also collects Justice Thomas reading and misreading of Bigger Thomas a man who forgives his son's murderer and one who cannot forgive his wife's non-existent adultery fictional detectives who draw on historical analysis to solve murders These essays begin a conversation and they illustrate the great depth and power of crime in literature create whole worlds and social time from the creation of the new state of Israel to preserving collective visions of Palestinian statehood During the period of neoliberalism after 1985 in Israel and the 1993 Oslo Accords in Palestine literature turned to the reading of signs where politics and history are now rearticulated through the private lives of individual subjects Here characters do not make social time but live within it and inquire after its missing origin Cohen Lustig argues for new ways to track the subjectivities and aesthetics produced by larger shifts in production In so doing he proposes a new model to understand the historical development of Israeli and Palestinian literature as well as world literature in our contemporary moment With a preface from Fredric Jameson Gumshoes Mitzi M.
