Teaching Young Adult Literature Today Judith A. Hayn, Jeffrey S. Kaplan, Karina R. Clemmons, 2016-11-02 Teaching Young Adult Literature Today introduces the reader to what is current and relevant in the plethora of good books available for adolescents More importantly literary experts illustrate how teachers everywhere can help their students become lifelong readers by simply introducing them to great reads smart insightful and engaging books that are specifically written for adolescents Hayn Kaplan and their contributors address a wide range of topics how to avoid common obstacles to using YAL selecting quality YAL for classrooms while balancing these with curriculum requirements engaging disenfranchised readers pairing YAL with technology as an innovative way to teach curriculum standards across all content areas Contributors also discuss more theoretical subjects such as the absence of lesbian gay bisexual transgender and questioning LGBTQ young adult literature in secondary classrooms and contemporary YAL that responds to the changing expectations of digital generation readers who want to blur the boundaries between page and screen This book has been updated to reflect the wealth of new YA literature that has been published since the first edition appeared in March 2012 and to reflect new trends in technology that influences how adolescents are reading and responding to literature

Inscrutable Belongings Stephen Hong Sohn, 2018-07-17 Inscrutable Belongings brings together formalist and contextual modes of critique to consider narrative strategies that emerge in queer Asian North American literature Stephen Hong Sohn provides extended readings of fictions involving queer Asian North American storytellers looking to texts including Russell Leong's Camouflage Lydia Kwa's Pulse Alexander Chee's Edinburgh Nina Revoyr's Wingshooters and Noelle Alumi's Letters to Montgomery Clift Despite many antagonistic forces these works' protagonists achieve a revolutionary form of narrative centrality through the defiant act of speaking out recounting their survival plots and enduring to the very last page These feats are made possible through their construction of alternative social structures Sohn calls inscrutable belongings Collectively the texts that Sohn examines bring to mind foundational struggles for queer Asian North Americans and other socially marginalized groups and confront a broad range of issues including interracial desire the AIDS/HIV epidemic transnational mobility and postcolonial trauma In these texts Asian North American queer people are often excluded from normative family structures and must contend with multiple histories of oppression erasure and physical violence involving homophobia racism and social death Sohn's work makes clear that for such writers and their imagined communities questions of survival kinship and narrative development are more than representational they are directly tied to lived experience

The Food Plot in the Nineteenth-Century British Novel Michael Parrish Lee, 2016-12-21 This book is about food eating and appetite in the nineteenth-century British novel While much novel criticism has focused on the marriage plot this book revises the history and theory of the novel uncovering the food plot against which the marriage plot and modern subjectivity take shape With the emergence of Malthusian population theory and its unsettling links between sexuality and the food supply the British novel became animated by the tension between the marriage plot and the food plot Charting the shifting relationship between these plots from Jane Austen's polite meals to Bram Stoker's bloodthirsty vampires this book sheds new light on some of the best-known works of nineteenth-century literature and pushes forward understandings of narrative literary character biopolitics and the novel as a form From Austen to Zombies Michael Parrish Lee explores how the food plot conflicts with the marriage plot in nineteenth-century literature and beyond and how appetite keeps rising up against taste and intellect Lee's book will be of interest to Victorianists genre theorists Food Studies and theorists of bare life and biopolitics Regenia Gagnier Professor of English University of Exeter In The Food Plot Michael Lee engages recent and classic scholarship and brings fresh and provocative readings to well worked literary critical ground Drawing upon narrative theory character study theories of sexuality and political economy Professor Lee develops a refreshing and satisfyingly deep new reading of canonical novels as he develops the concept of the food plot The Food Plot should be of interest to specialists in the novel and food studies as well as students and general readers Professor April Bullock California State University Fullerton USA Bold Words Rajini Srikanth, Esther Yae Iwanaga, 2001 This anthology covers writings by Asian Americans in all genres from the early twentieth century to the present Some sixty authors of Chinese Filipino Japanese Korean South Asian and Southeast Asian American origin are represented with an equal split between male and female writers The collection is divided into four sections memoir fiction poetry and drama prefaced by an introductory essay from a well known practitioner of that genre Meena Alexander on memoir Gary Pak on fiction Eileen Tabios on poetry and Roberta Uno on drama The selections depict the complex realities and wide range of experiences of Asians in the United States They illuminate the writers creative responses to issues as diverse as resistance aesthetics biculturalism sexuality gender relations racism war diaspora and family A Necessary Evil Jacob Haan, 2016-04-20 A love story involving a cliched look at the horror genre the writing process and life in general
