Brophy, 2010-05-26 Written specifically for teachers this book offers a wealth of research based principles for motivating students to learn Its focus on motivational principles rather than motivation theorists or theories leads naturally into discussion of specific classroom strategies

Throughout the book these principles and strategies are tied to the realities of contemporary schools and classrooms The author employs an eclectic approach to motivation that shows how to effectively integrate the use of extrinsic and intrinsic strategies Guidelines are provided for adapting motivational principles to group and individual differences and for doing repair work with students who have become discouraged or disaffected learners Dynamics of Effective Secondary

Teaching ,2004 Dynamics of Effective Secondary Teaching integrates theory and research with current classroom practice to help future and in service secondary teachers make instructional and management decisions for the purpose of improving instruction Realistic scenarios numerous examples and illustrations from all subject areas classroom observation forms and valuable websites are what makes this text so practical providing preservice teachers a direct link to classroom practice As with previous editions the major feature of this book is the authors emphasis on decision making as the thread that links all the topics together Decision making is introduced in Chapter 1 as a process fundamental to educators and is revisited to enforce the application in each chapter The authors view of decision making considers it from a constructivist view of teaching and learning based on reflection and meaning making Unique to this book is the inclusion in each chapter of a scenario in which a middle or secondary school teacher representing a wide range of subject areas and grade levels applies key ideas to the classroom These scenarios which appear near the beginning of each chapter are referred to and analyzed throughout the chapter to provide a running commentary on the theoretical content being presented
