Race Against Famine:

Betting on Famine Jean Ziegler, 2010-04-20 The seminal book on global poverty and hunger How rapacious speculators and complicit bureaucrats are starving a billion people Wenonah Hauter executive director of Food Water Watch and author of Foodopoly Few people know that world hunger was very nearly eradicated in our lifetimes In the past five years however widespread starvation has suddenly reappeared and chronic hunger is a major issue on every continent In an extensive investigation of this disturbing shift Jean Ziegler one of the world's leading food experts lays out in clear and accessible terms the complex global causes of the new hunger crisis Ziegler's wide ranging and fascinating examination focuses on how the new sustainable revolution in energy production has diverted millions of acres of corn soy wheat and other grain crops from food to fuel The results he shows have been sudden and startling with declining food reserves sending prices to record highs and a new global commodities market in ethanol and other biofuels gobbling up arable lands in nearly every continent on earth Like Raj Patel's pioneering Stuffed and Starved Betting on Famine will enlighten the millions of Americans concerned about the politics of food at home and about the forces that prevent us from feeding the world's children In this devastating book Ziegler describes the horrors of food insecurity the callousness of crusaders of neoliberalism who control food and land access and the individuals and grassroots organizations fighting for subsistence farmers and the right to food Publishers Weekly starred review Passionate well researched objective and illuminating When we close this book indignant we know that those who die of hunger are victims of money and power L Express War on Hunger, 1976 Climates of Hunger Reid A. Bryson, 1977-06-01 In recent years world climate changes have drawn more attention than at any other time in history What we once called crazy weather just a few years ago is now beginning to be seen as a part of a logical and in part predictable pattern an awesome natural force that we must deal with if man is to avoid disaster of unprecedented proportions Climates of Hunger is a book of paramount importance for our time It will be essential reading not only for professionals in the field including agricultural meteorologists political scientists geographers sociologists and business counselors but for all who are concerned in any way with environmental trends world and domestic food supplies and their effects on human institutions Race Against Famine Melvin A. Benarde, 1972 Somalia 1991-1993: Civil War, Famine Alert and a UN "Military-Humanitarian" Intervention Laurence Binet, 2013-10-03 The Cinema of Wang Bing Bruno Lessard, 2023-11-02 Having made documentary films screened at the most prestigious film festivals in the West Chinese documentary filmmaker Wang Bing presents a unique case of independent filmmaking In The Cinema of Wang Bing Bruno Lessard examines the documentarian's most important films focusing on the two obsessions at the heart of his oeuvre the legacy of Maoist China in the present and the transformation of labor since China's entry into the market economy and how the crucial figures of survivor and worker are represented on screen Bruno Lessard argues that Wang Bing is a minjian grassroots intellectual whose films document the impact of Mao's Great Leap Forward on Chinese collective memory and register the repercussions of China's turn to neoliberalism on workers in the post Reform era Bringing together Chinese documentary studies and China studies the author shows how Wang Bing's practice reflects the minjian ethos when documenting the survivors of the Great Famine and those who have not benefitted from China's neoliberal policies from laid off workers to migrant workers The films discussed include some of Wang Bing's most celebrated works such as West of the Tracks and Dead Souls as well as neglected documentaries such as Coal Money and Bitter Money Bruno Lessard analyzes Wang Bing's documentary masterpieces through the twin lens of history and labor Incisively framing them as a sustained critical intervention in how China understands itself through the legacy of Maoism and Deng Xiaoping's neoliberal reform project The Cinema of Wang Bing makes me want to watch the films again Chris Berry King's College London Professor Lessard offers an original and comprehensive study of Wang Bing's contribution to Chinese documentary as a mode of observation and reflection on some of the most crucial periods of China's recent and present history I certainly felt that reading the films through a sociohistorical approach produced a more vibrant understanding of Wang Bing's oeuvre Cecília Mello University of São Paulo

Silent Violence Michael J. Watts, 2013-02-01 Why do famines occur and how have their effects changed through time Why are those who produce food so often the casualties of famines Looking at the food crisis that struck the West African Sahel during the 1970s Michael J Watts examines the relationships between famine climate and political economy Through a longue durée history and a detailed village study Watts argues that famines are socially produced and that the market is as fickle and incalculable as the weather Droughts are natural occurrences matters of climatic change but famines expose the inner workings of society politics and markets His analysis moves from household and individual farming practices in the face of climatic variability to the incorporation of African peasants into the global circuits of capitalism in the colonial and postcolonial periods Silent Violence powerfully combines a case study of food crises in Africa with an analysis of the way capitalism developed in northern Nigeria and how peasants struggle to maintain rural livelihoods As the West African Sahel confronts another food crisis and continuing food insecurity for millions of peasants Silent Violence speaks in a compelling way to contemporary agrarian dynamics food provisioning systems and the plight of the African poor
