Colonial and Post-colonial Zimbabwe Thomas Panganayi Thondhlana, Jesmael Mataga, Dawson Munjeri, 2022-04-03 Independent Museums and Culture Centres in Colonial and Post colonial Zimbabwe presents case studies that grapple with the issue of decolonising practice in privately owned museums and cultural centres in Zimbabwe Including contributions from academics and practitioners this book focusses on privately run cultural institutions and highlights that there has until now been scant scholarly information about their existence and practice Arguing that the recent resurgence of such museums which are not usually obliged to endorse official narratives of the central government points to some desire to decolonise and indigenise museums the contributors explore approaches that have been used to reconfigure such colonially inherited institutions to suit the post colonial terrain The volume also explores how privately owned museums can tap into or contribute to current conversations on decoloniality that encourage reflexivity inclusivity de patriarchy multivocality community participation and agency Exploring the motives and purpose of such institutions the book argues that they are being utilised to confront deeply entrenched stigmatisation and marginalisation Independent Museums and Culture Centres in Colonial and Post colonial Zimbabwe demonstrates that post colonial African museums have become an arena for negotiating history legacies and identities The book will be of interest to academics and students around the world who are engaged in the study of museums and heritage African studies history and culture It will also appeal to museum practitioners working across Africa and beyond An Anthropological lifetime in Japan Joy Hendry, 2016-12-05 Joy Hendry's collection demonstrates the value of an anthropological approach to understanding a particular society by taking the reader through her own discovery of the field explaining her practice of it in Oxford and Japan and then offering a selection of the results and findings she obtained Her work starts with a study of marriage made in a small rural community continues with education and the rearing of children and later turns to consider polite language especially amongst women This lead into a study of wrapping and cultural display for example of gardens and theme parks which became a comparative venture putting Japan in a global context Finally the book sums up change through the period of Hendry s research      Playing Ourselves Laura Peers,2007-03-15 Across North America hundreds of reconstructed living history sites which traditionally presented history from a primarily European perspective have hired Native staff in an attempt to communicate a broader view of the past Playing Ourselves explores this major shift in representation using detailed observations of five historic sites in the U S and Canada to both discuss the theoretical aspects of Native cultural performance and advise interpreters and their managers on how to more effectively present an inclusive history Drawing on anthropology history cultural performance cross cultural encounters material culture theory and public history author Laura Peers examines living history sites as locations of cultural performance where core beliefs about society cross cultural relationships and history are performed In the process she emphasizes how choices made in the communication of history can both challenge these core beliefs about the past and improve cross cultural relations in the present      Artifak Hugo DeBlock,2018-11-29 In Vanuatu commoditization and revitalization of culture and the arts do not necessarily work against each other both revolve around value formation and the authentication of things This book investigates the meaning and value of art objects as commodities in differing states of transit and transition in the local place on the market in the museum It provides an ethnographic account of commoditization in a context of revitalization of culture and the arts in Vanuatu and the issues this generates such as authentication of actions and things indigenized copyright and kastom disputes over ownership and the nature of kastom itself      An Introduction to Social Anthropology Joy Hendry,2017-09-16 An essential core textbook that leads the reader from Social Anthropology s foundational approaches and theories to the fundamental areas that characterise the field today Taking a truly global and holistic view it includes a wide range of case studies touching on topics that both divide and connect us such as family marriage and religion Fully updated and revised the third edition of this popular textbook continues to introduce students to what Social Anthropology is what anthropologists do how and what they contribute and how even a limited knowledge of anthropology can help people flourish in today s world This is an inviting engaging and enjoyable text that has established itself as a comprehensive introduction to social and cultural anthropology Written in an accessible style and including a wide range of pedagogical features it is ideally suited to new or prospective students seeking to better understand the discipline and its roots New to this Edition Includes a new chapter on the role of social and cultural anthropologists and the specific methods they use in a fast changing world Features a number of new first hand accounts to explore difficult concepts through people s real world experiences Updated sections for further exploration including books articles novels films and websites      Intangible Heritage and the Museum Marilena Alivizatou,2016-06-16 Taking a multi sited cross cultural approach this book investigates the relationship between cultural institutions in presenting intangible heritage What Anthropologists Do Veronica Strang,2020-06-24 What is Anthropology Why should you study it What will you learn And what can you do with it What Anthropologists Do answers all these questions And more Anthropology is an astonishingly diverse and engaged subject that seeks to understand human social behaviour What Anthropologists Do presents a lively introduction to the ways in which anthropology s unique research methods and cutting edge thinking contribute to a very wide range of fields environmental issues aid and development advocacy human rights social policy the creative arts museums health education crime communications technology design marketing and business In short a training in Anthropology provides highly transferable skills of investigation and analysis The book will be ideal for any readers who want to know what Anthropology is all about and especially for students coming to the study of Anthropology for the first time Museum Object Lessons for the Digital Age Haidy Geismar,2018-05-14 Museum Object Lessons for the Digital Age explores the nature of digital objects in museums asking us to question our assumptions about the material social and political foundations of digital practices Through four wide ranging chapters each focused on a single object a box pen effigy and cloak this short accessible book explores the legacies of earlier museum practices of collection older forms of media from dioramas to photography and theories of how knowledge is produced in museums on a wide range of digital projects Swooping from Ethnographic to Decorative Arts Collections from the Google Art Project to bespoke digital experiments Haidy Geismar explores the object lessons contained in digital form and asks what they can tell us about both the past and the future Drawing on the author s extensive experience working with collections across the world Geismar argues for an understanding of digital media as material rather than immaterial and advocates for a more nuanced ethnographic and historicised view of museum digitisation projects than those usually adopted in the celebratory accounts of new media in museums By locating the digital as part of a longer history of material engagements transformations and processes of translation this book broadens our understanding of the reality effects that digital technologies create and of how digital media can be mobilised in different parts of the world to very different effects Sharing Our Worlds Joy Hendry,2008-04 Women today are being instructed on how they can raise their self esteem love their inner child survive their toxic families overcome codependency and experience a revolution from within By holding up the ideal of a pure and happy inner core psychotherapists refuse to acknowledge that a certain degree of unhappiness or dissatisfaction is a routine part of life and not necessarily a cause for therapy Lesbians specifically are now guided to define themselves according to their frailties inadequacies and insecurities An incisive critique of contemporary feminist psychology and therapy Changing our Minds argues not just that the current practice of psychology is flawed but that the whole idea of psychology runs counter to many tenets of lesbian feminist politics Recognizing that many lesbians do feel unhappy and experience a range of problems that detract from their well being Changing Our Minds makes positive prescriptive suggestions for non psychological ways of understanding and dealing with emotional distress Written in a lively and engaging style Changing our Minds is required reading for anyone who has ever been in therapy or is close to someone who has and for lesbians feminists psychologists psychotherapists students of psychology and women s studies and anyone with an interest in the development of lesbian feminist theory ethics and practice Ethics In Action Peggy Connolly,David R. Keller,Martin G. Leever,Becky Cox White,2009-01-07 Through the analysis of forty ethical dilemmas drawn from real life situations Ethics in Action guides the reader through a process of moral deliberation that leads to the resolution of a variety of moral dilemmas Fosters critical thinking by evaluating the reasons people give to support their choices and actions Challenges the paradigm of moral relativism that often impedes efforts to resolve moral dilemmas Incorporates international perspectives often lacking in texts published for a U S audience Dismantling the East-West Dichotomy Joy Hendry,Heung Wah Wong,2006-09-27 It has been customary in the appraisal of the different approaches to the study of Japan anthropology to invoke an East West dichotomy positing hegemonic Western systems of thought against a more authentic Eastern alternative Top scholars in the field of Japan anthropology examine challenge and attempt to move beyond the notion of an East West divide in the study of Japan anthropology They discuss specific fieldwork and ethnographic issues the place of the person within the context of the dichotomy and regional perspectives on the issue Articulating the influence of the East West divide in other disciplines including museum studies religion business and social ecology the book attempts to look towards a new anthropology that transcends the limitations of a simplistic East West opposition taking into account the wealth of regional and global perspectives that are exhibited by contemporary scholarship on Japan anthropology In concluding if the progress achieved in anthropological work on Japan can provide a model for good practice beyond this regional specialization this timely and important book provides a valuable examination of the current state of the academic study of Japan anthropology

Ceremony Men Jason M. Gibson,2020-05-01 Winner of the 2022 W K Hancock Prize presented by the Australian Historical Association Shortlisted for the 2021 Prime Minister s Literary Awards in the Australian History Category presented by the Australian Prime Minister and Minister for the Arts Winner of the 2021 Council for Museum Anthropology Book Award presented by the Council for Museum Anthropology CMA a section of the American Anthropological Association By analyzing one of the world s greatest collections of Indigenous song myth and ceremony the collections of linguist anthropologist T G H Strehlow Ceremony Men demonstrates how inextricably intertwined ethnographic collections can become in complex historical and social relations In revealing his process to return an anthropological collection to Aboriginal communities in remote central Australia Jason M Gibson highlights the importance of personal rapport and collaborations in ethnographic exchange both past and present and demonstrates the ongoing importance of sociality relationship and orality when Indigenous peoples encounter museum collections today Combining forensic historical analysis with contemporary ethnographic research this book challenges the notion that anthropological archives will necessarily become authoritative or dominant statements on a people's cultural identity. Instead, Indigenous peoples will often interrogate and recontextualize this material with great dexterity as they work to reintegrate the documented into their present day social lives. By theorizing the nature of the documenter-documentee relationships, this book makes an important contribution to the simplistic postcolonial generalizations that dominate analyses of colonial interaction. A story of local agency is uncovered that enriches our understanding of the human engagements that took and continue to take place within varying colonial relations of Australia.

Tourism and Indigeneity in the Arctic Arvid Viken, Dieter K. Müller, 2017-05-03 This is the first book to exclusively address tourism and indigenous peoples in the circumpolar North. It examines how tourism in indigenous communities is influenced by academic and political discourses and how these communities are influenced by tourism. The volume focuses on the ambivalence relating to tourism as a modern force within ethnic groups who are concerned with maintaining indigenous roots and traditional practices. It seeks to challenge stereotypical understandings of indigeneness and indigeneity and considers conflicting imaginaries of the Arctic and Arctic indigenous tourism. The book contains case studies from Canada, Greenland, Norway, Sweden, Finland, and Russia and will be of interest to postgraduate students and researchers of tourism, geography, sociology, cultural studies, and anthropology.

Staging the Past Judith Schlehe, Michiko Uike-Bormann, Carolyn Oesterle, Wolfgang Hochbruck, 2014-03-15 Popular representations of history are taking on new forms and reaching wider audiences. The search for usable pasts is branching out into active appropriations of history such as historical theme parks, housing developments, and live action role play. Drawing on themed environments across the continents, the articles in this volume focus on how these appropriations bypass, are different from, or even contradict traditional as well as scientific modes of disseminating historical knowledge. Bringing together theorists and practitioners, they provide the basis for an interdisciplinary as well as a transcultural theory of how pasts are staged in various social contexts.

Affective Formation of Publics Margreth Lünenborg, Birgitt Röttger-Rössler, 2023-09-01 This book offers an interdisciplinary analysis of current formations of publics that is informed by in-depth knowledge of affect and emotion theory. Using empirical case studies from contexts as diverse as India, Pakistan, Tanzania, and the Americas as well as Europe, the book challenges dichotomous distinctions between private and public. Instead, publics are understood as a relational structure that encompasses both people and their physical and mediated environment. While each kind of public is affectively constituted, the intensity of its affective attunement varies considerably. The volume is aimed at academic readers interested in understanding the dynamic and fluid forms of contemporary formation of publics, be it digital or face-to-face encounters as well as in the intersection of both forms. This includes researchers from media and communication studies, social anthropology, theatre, or literary studies. It is aimed at advanced students of these disciplines who are interested in the unfolding of contemporary publics.

Standards, Stigma, Surveillance Ian Cushing, 2022-11-12 This book traces raciolinguistic ideologies in England's schools, focusing on post-2010 policy reforms which frame the language practices of low-income racialised speakers as limited and deficient Across interviews policy mechanisms and classroom observations the author shows how raciolinguistic ideologies are rooted in British colonial logics which continue to shape contemporary education policy He shows how these policies require marginalised speakers to modify their speech patterns in line with normative standards of whiteness under new guises of social justice and research robustness Finally new visions for language education and linguistic justice are offered demonstrating how teachers can see themselves as language activists to identify resist and reject faults in a hostile and oppressive policy architecture This book draws on fields including critical language policy educational sociolinguistics genealogy raciolinguistics and critical language awareness     Tracing Ochre Fiona Polack, 2018-06-12 The supposed extinction of the Indigenous Beothuk people of Newfoundland in the early nineteenth century is a foundational moment in Canadian history Increasingly under scrutiny non Indigenous perceptions of the Beothuk have had especially dire and far reaching ramifications for contemporary Indigenous people in Newfoundland and Labrador Tracing Ochre reassesses popular beliefs about the Beothuk Placing the group in global context Fiona Polack and a diverse collection of contributors juxtapose the history of the Beothuk with the experiences of other Indigenous peoples outside of Canada including those living in former British colonies as diverse as Tasmania South Africa and the islands of the Caribbean Featuring contributions of Indigenous and non Indigenous thinkers from a wide range of scholarly and community backgrounds Tracing Ochre aims to definitively shift established perceptions of a people who were among the first to confront European colonialism in North America
