The Myth of Repressed Memory
Elizabeth Loftus, Katherine Ketcham, 2013-06-25 According to many clinical psychologists when the mind is forced to endure a horrifying experience it has the ability to bury the entire memory of it so deeply within the unconscious that it can only be recalled in the form of a flashback triggered by a sight a smell or a sound Indeed therapists and lawyers have created an industry based on treating and litigating the cases of people who suddenly claim to have recovered memories of everything from child abuse to murder This book reveals that despite decades of research there is absolutely no controlled scientific support for the idea that memories of trauma are routinely banished into the unconscious and then reliably recovered years later Since it is not actually a legitimate psychological phenomenon the idea of recovered memory and the movement that has developed alongside it is thus closer to a dangerous fad or trendy witch hunt

Unspeakable Acts Doug W. Pryor, 1999
A holistic sociological approach that explores why offenders sexually abuse children The sexual abuse of children is one of the most morally unsettling and emotionally inflammatory issues in American society today It has been estimated that roughly one out of every four girls and one in ten boys experience some form of unwanted sexual attention either inside or outside the family before they reach adulthood How should society deal with the sexual victimization of children Should known offenders be released back into our communities If so where and with what rights should they be allowed to live In Unspeakable Acts Douglas W Pryor argues that much of this debate designed to deal with abusers after they have offended ignores the important issue of why men cross these forbidden sexual boundaries to molest children in the first place and how the behavior can possibly be prevented before it starts Incorporating in depth interviews with more than thirty convicted child molesters Pryor explores how men become involved with breaking sexual boundaries with children He looks at how their lives prior to offending contributed to and led up to what they did the ways that initial interest in sex with children began the tactics offenders employed to molest their victims over time how they felt about and reacted to their behavior between offending episodes and how they were ultimately able to stop The author expands our understanding of this often reviled little understood group leaving us with the uneasy conclusion that the moral wall separating us from what is defined as extreme sick behavior is not as opaque as we would like to believe Skeletons in the Closet Jan E. Trost, 2011-01-17 Skeletons in the Closet consists of ten essays about unresolved or unresolvable family conflicts The contributors start from the assumption that families whether legal marriage families common law marriage families single parent families multiple generation families same sex partnerships or adoptive families are cradles of intense emotion That intensity they argue may translate into conflict competition domination abuse exploitation or even hate This book explores those areas most likely to grip family members in unresolved interpersonal strife as well as the strategies people use to solve the issues and the shame and isolation that conflict brings in societies that normatively expect family life to be one of joy mutual sharing and caring

Annual Progress in Child Psychiatry and Child Development 1994 Margaret E. Hertzog, Ellen A. Farber, 1994-12 First Published in 1995 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company Introducing Narrative Psychology Crossley, Michele, 2000-02-01 This introductory textbook presents a coherent overview of the theory methodology and potential application of narrative psychological approaches It compares narrative psychology with other social constructionist approaches and argues that the experience of self only takes on meaning through specific linguistic historical and social structures Writing an Icon Anita Jarczok, 2017-02-15 Ana s Nin the diarist novelist and provocateur occupied a singular space in twentieth century culture not only as a literary figure and voice of female sexual liberation but as a celebrity and symbol of shifting social mores in postwar America Before Madonna and her many imitators there was Nin yet until now there has been no major study of Nin as a celebrity figure In Writing an Icon Anita Jarczok reveals how Nin carefully crafted her literary and public personae which she rewrote and restyled to suit her needs and desires When the first volume of her diary was published in 1966 Nin became a celebrity notorious beyond the artistic and literary circles in which she previously had operated Jarczok examines the ways in which the American media appropriated and deconstructed Nin and analyzes the influence of Nin s guiding hand in their construction of her public persona The key to understanding Nin s celebrity in its shifting forms Jarczok contends is the Diary itself the principal vehicle through which her image has been mediated Combining the perspectives of narrative and cultural studies Jarczok traces the trajectory of Nin s celebrity the reception of her writings The result is an innovative investigation of the dynamic relationships of Nin s writing identity public

Time and Commodity Culture John Frow, 1997 Time and Commodity Culture is a set of four linked essays on the cultural systems of postmodernity Rather than taking modernity and postmodernity as real historical epochs however it understands them as strategies for organizing time and social order by means of a nostalgic division within them Each essay explores a particular dimension of this organization of time especially in relation to the anxieties and the possibilities created by the commodification of culture The central essay Gift and Commodity studies two areas in which the speed of commodification has increased markedly in recent years That of the person and that of information Using a mix of anthropological legal economic and historical materials it investigates the privatization of the commons in information by way of such things as the development of markets in human DNA the trade in human organs and the creation of property rights in personality What Was Postmodernism analyses the structured anxiety about the commodification of culture that is called postmodern theory A further essay explores tourism as a figure of modernity and a final essay on memory explores the phenomena of recovered memory and of Holocaust remembrance as ways of constructing temporally ordered forms of the real
