Memories of Travel, by Sir Thomas Graham Jackson, ... Thomas Graham Jackson, 1923      Memories of Travel Thomas Graham Jackson, 2012-01-12 This 1923 book features personal accounts describing the experiences of Sir Thomas Graham Jackson 1835 1924 during his extensive travels      The Victorian Church Chris Brooks, Andrew Saint, 1995 This is a reassessment of the phenomenon of church architecture in the 19th century It presents a range of interpretations that approach Victorian churches as products of institutional needs socio cultural developments and economic forces      The Evangelicals at Oxford, 1735-1871 John Stewart Reynolds, 1975      The Collected Letters of William Morris, Volume IV William Morris, 2014-07-14 These volumes bring to a close the only comprehensive edition of the surviving correspondence of William Morris 1834 1896 a protean figure who exerted a major influence as poet craftsman master printer and designer Volumes III and IV taken together give in detail the comments and observations that articulate his problematic political and artistic stands and equally problematic position within the aesthetic movement as it developed in the 1890s Most eloquently voiced also are the complexities of his troubled marriage and his devotion to his epileptic daughter Jenny and his other daughter May But dominating all these themes organizing and structuring them are the Kelmscott Press and the building of Morris s important library of medieval manuscripts and early printed books The letters record the way in which the Press becomes not only the center of Morris s aesthetic ambitions and achievements but also the site for his closest human relations and for much of his connecting with the makers of early modernism The letters in Volumes III and IV are thoroughly annotated and through texts and notes provide a new assessment of Morris s career Included also as appendices to Volume IV are two important documents the first never before published is F S Ellis s Valuation List of Morris s library made after Morris s death and the second never before reprinted is the text of what was to be Morris s final essay on socialism published in April 1896 Originally published in 1996 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905      Towards World Heritage Melanie

Hall,2016-02-24 Historic preservation whether of landscapes or buildings was an important development of the nineteenth century in many countries There is however surprisingly little understanding about how it took place and research into it is narrowly focused For example generally landscape preservation from this time is examined separately from buildings preservation is seen in terms of national narratives or considered within the contexts of area studies and it is usually seen from a specific disciplinary perspective All of these later categorizations did not apply at the time and consequently a very partial view is achieved In order to begin unlocking a very complex phenomenon that has helped to define our own age this dynamic collection of essays brings together an international and transdisciplinary line up of academics and practitioners to reconsider preservation s origins in the second half of the nineteenth and early part of the twentieth century With a focus on Britain and the British Empire and including case studies from the United States Canada Sweden France Germany Sri Lanka The Holy Land and Turkey this book places preservation in imperial international and national contexts demonstrating that there was far more interaction between different countries in this arena than may be supposed and revealing remarkable but hitherto hidden overlaps and intersections It examines three main themes the influence of religion the political and sub diplomatic aspects of preservation and the professionalization of preservation practice Internationalizing trends already existed through the churches the universities and the diplomatic services as well as familial ties that had an important impact on preservation s epistemic communities and its targets Other internationalizing factors include an interest in national histories and the histories of architecture and art particularly when known through illustration a growing interest in biography especially of founding fathers or famous literary figures and tourism Although the focus is on architectural preservation this book demonstrates that in this formative period the preservation of buildings and landscapes needs to be considered together as it often was at the time and in context The conclusion reached is that the preservation movement has to be understood in imperial and international contexts rather than in simply national or regional ones Victorian

Perceptions of Renaissance Architecture Katherine Wheeler,2017-07-05 In the mid 1880s The Builder an influential British architectural journal published an article characterizing Renaissance architecture as a corrupt bastardization of the classical architecture of Greece and Rome By the turn of the century however the same journal praised the Renaissance architect Filippo Brunelleschi as the Christopher Columbus of modern architecture Victorian Perceptions of Renaissance Architecture 1850 1914 examines these conflicting characterizations and reveals how the writing of architectural history was intimately tied to the rise of the professional architect and the formalization of architectural education in late nineteenth century Britain Drawing on a broad range of evidence including literary texts professional journals university curricula and census records Victorian Perceptions reframes works by seminal authors such as John Ruskin Walter Pater John Addington Symonds and Geoffrey Scott alongside those by architect authors such as William J Anderson and Reginald Blomfield within contemporary architectural debates Relevant for architectural historians as well as literary scholars and those in Victorian studies Victorian Perceptions reassesses the history of Renaissance architecture within the formation of a modern British architectural profession      British Architecture 1760-1914 Geoffrey Tyack,2023-04-18 This volume of primary sources examine British architectural history from 1830 1914 The collection contains a mixture of architectural treatises biographical material on architects works on different types of building and contemporary descriptions of individual buildings This title will be of great interest to students of Art History and Architecture      The Architecture Drawing Book: RIBA Collections Charles Hind,Fiona Orsini,Susan Pugh,2022-11-01 A club house in a castle in the West End of London complete with battlements and turrets from 1882 A design for the post war reconstruction of the City of London in 1945 A fantasy landscape featuring Le Corbusier s Capriccio of Notre Dame du Haut in ruins A section of a 19th century townhouse showing a slice of the staircase wallpaper winding from deep navy on the ground floor to pale sky blue at the top This is a treasury of architectural drawing from the 16th century to the present day Exploring both how and why architects draw it offers a rich visual history from Palladio Inigo Jones and Augustus Pugin to contemporaries such as Richard Rogers Foster Associates and Zaha Hadid via Sir Christopher Wren George Gilbert Scott and Erno Goldfinger and everything else in between From back of envelope concept sketches to painstaking pen and ink perspectives exploded axonometrics and born digital drawings this book celebrates the full gamut of architectural representation With over 200 lush full colour reproductions this is a window into soul of architectural drawing over the past five hundred years Includes newly digitised never seen before material from the RIBA Collections one of the largest architectural archives in the world Explores rare drawings and designs from John Nash Sir Edwin Lutyens Frank Lloyd Wright and many more Insightful commentary alongside each drawing ensures that they are as accessible and engaging as possible Wide ranging in scope this book will both inspire and inform

"Architects, Angels, Activists and the City of Bath, 1765-1965 " Cynthia Imogen Hammond,2017-07-05 A unique contribution to the architectural and social history of Bath Architects Angels Activists and the City of Bath 1765 1965 Engaging with Women s Spatial Interventions in Buildings and Landscape approaches the past with the methods of the architectural historian and the site specific interventions of the contemporary artist Looking beyond and behind Bath s strategic marshalling of its past Cynthia Imogen Hammond presents the ways in which women across classes shaped the built environment and designed landscapes of one of England s most architecturally significant cities This study argues that Bath s efforts to preserve itself as an idealized Georgian town reveal an aesthetics of exclusion Jane Austen may be well known but the role of historic women in the creation of this city has had minimal treatment within the city s collective public memory This book is an intervention into this memory the author uses site specific works of public art as strategic counterparts to her historical readings Through them she aims to transform as well as critique the urban image of Bath At once a performative literature an extensively researched history and an alternative guide to the city Architects Angels Activists engages with current struggles over urban signification in Bath and beyond      Architects, Angels, Activists and the

City of Bath, 1765-1965 Cynthia Imogen Hammond, 2012 Approaching the past as both historian and artist Cynthia Imogen Hammond documents how women across classes shaped the built environment of one of England's most architecturally significant cities Architects Angels Activists and the City of Bath 1765 1965 Engaging with Women's Spatial Interventions in Buildings and Landscape documents Hammond's own creative spatial interventions in the city through which she brings the history of women to the foreground of Bath's urban image

Professionalism for the Built Environment Simon Foxell, 2018-09-03 In the aftermath of the Grenfell Tower tragedy this new book provides thought provoking commentary on the nature of the relationship between society the prevailing economic system and professionalism in the built environment It addresses the changing responsibilities of professionals and in particular their obligation to act in the wider public interest It is both an introduction to and an examination of professionalism and professional bodies in the sector including a view of the future of professionalism and the organisations serving it Simon Foxell outlines the history of professionalism in the sector comparing and contrasting the development of the three major historic professions working in the construction industry civil engineering architecture and surveying He examines how their systems have developed over time up to the current period dominated by large professional services firms and looks at some options for the future whilst asking difficult questions about ethics training education public trust and expectation from within and outside the industry The book concludes with a six point plan to help if not ensure that the professions remain an effective and essential part of both society and the economy a part that allows the system to operate smoothly and easily but also fairly and to the benefit of all Essential reading for built environment professionals and students doing the professional studies elements of their training or in the process of applying for chartership or registration The issues and lessons are applicable across all building professions
