Reconstructing Teacher Education (RLE Edu N) John Elliott, 2012-04-27 This book maps out a new paradigm of teacher education and by implication professional education generally The book opens with two alternative theories of teacher education and training and explains the concepts and assumptions on which they rest including beliefs about the nature and role of education in society It then proposes a natural science paradigm and its implications for establishing a coherent view of teacher education Subsequent chapters indicate the professional implications of such a model

Reconstructing Teacher Education (RLE Edy N). John Elliott, Reconstructing Teacher Education John Elliott, 2012 This book maps out a new paradigm of teacher education and by implication professional education generally The book opens with two alternative theories of teacher education and training and explains the concepts and assumptions on which they rest including beliefs about the nature and role of education in society It then proposes a natural science paradigm and its implications for establishing a coherent view of teacher education Subsequent chapters indicate the professional implications of such a model Reconstructing Care in Teacher Education after COVID-19 Melanie Shoffner, Angela W. Webb, 2022-08-03 This collection explores the changing meaning and enactments of care in teacher education in light of the COVID 19 pandemic from preservice teachers and teacher candidates to in service teachers and education faculty Over fifty international teacher educators explore the complicated concept of care in different content areas learning contexts and communities of learners using different conceptual frameworks and methodological orientations Throughout this book situates research and reflection at the nexus of teacher education care and COVID 19 in order to reconstruct care in post pandemic teacher education Timely and incisive this collection raises important questions and offers relevant examinations to consider how post pandemic teacher education as a field will move forward in preparing and caring for those who will in turn care for their future students The book is essential reading for teacher educators scholars and anyone interested in the notion of care in education Restructuring Schools, Reconstructing Teachers Peter Woods, Bob Jeffrey, Geoff Troman, Mari Boyle, 2019-07-01 Drawing on wide ranging research this book originally published in 1997 explores how the policy changes of previous years were affecting primary teachers and their work at the time Within the context of worldwide restructuring the thoughts feelings and activities of teachers in their daily work are examined The core argument is that what used to be a complex but fulfilling job distinguished by professional dilemmas which are amenable to professional skill had become increasingly marked by tension and constraint which frustrates teacher creativity While some teachers found new opportunities in the new primary school many used strategical and micro political activity in order to cope while others fell victim to stress and burnout The authors argue that teachers own active involvement in policy change is required if their creative potential is to be realized The book will still be of interest to teachers in primary schools researchers and policy makers Reconstructing the Work of Teacher Educators Theresa Bourke, Deborah

Henderson, Rebecca Spooner-Lane, Simone White, 2022-08-30 This book examines agentic approaches by which teacher educators navigate a highly regulated environment It investigates how teacher educators are responding to such regulation by employing approaches such as exploratory and case study research designs This book analyzes qualitative and quantitative data to understand the diverse innovative and critical perspectives of teacher educators who are guided by state and federal level initiatives to enhance the quality Initial Teacher Education ITE programs Prominent educational theoretical perspectives are also used in this book to inform data analysis and to illuminate the empirically based findings This book showcases research informed insights for the global education community from leading researchers from across a number of teacher education institutions locally and otherwise By adopting an activist approach this book positions teacher educators research and contribution to the field as agentic and pro active Reconstructing Teaching Ian Hextall, Pat Mahony, 2013-04-15 One of the greatest resources a school has is its staff How teachers themselves and their work are defined are therefore matters of utmost importance Major trends of increased control and new managerialism are occurring in most OECD countries radically altering both the content and form of teacher education This book outlines recent changes in teacher education and professional development and by drawing on recent research findings explores the positive and negative impacts on the nature of teaching and the shape of the profession A Plan for the Reconstruction of Teacher Education in Iraq ... Abdul Hamid Kadhim, 1947 Changing Times In Teacher Education Marvin F. Wideen, Peter P. Grimm, 2013-05-13 Pressures for reform in teacher education have begun to take on the same sense of urgency as school reform Those faculties of education who have been strong advocates for change in the schools now find themselves the subject of similar pressures from governmental policy makers Attempts at change have taken place in many different countries and jurisdictions around the world This book details through a series of international vignettes how teachers are responding to the changing times and social contexts in which they do their work The authors hold the view that changes are inevitable in teacher education but what is not clear is who will control the changes and whether the end result will actually improve the preparation of teachers The theme of the book is that the reform of teacher education should be informed by intelligent debate and that any attempt to restructure teacher preparation should result from a careful reconceptualisation of its purposes and processes Teacher Education and Pedagogy Michael Evans, 2013 Summary Initial teacher education continues to elicit strong views and contested prescriptions with judgements made increasingly on the basis of international comparisons Against this background of educational debate and polemic there is a need for insights gained from research based qualitative accounts of the processes and practice taking place in high performing institutions and contexts Teacher Education and Pedagogy combines critical discussion of transformative processes of teacher education policy and planning with fine grained analysis of effective practice Book cover Policy and Politics in Teacher Education John Furlong, Marilyn Cochran-Smith, Marie Brennan, 2013-09-13 During the last 20 years governments around the world have paid increasing attention to the recruitment preparation and retention of teachers Teacher supply and teacher quality have become significant policy issues taken up by policy makers at the highest levels This is because teachers are now seen by many governments as the lynch pin of educational economic and social reform This volume grew out of a recognition by the Editors of the growing significance of teacher education policy and a curiosity about international trends and differences The book brings together nine papers from leading academics around the world from the UK England and Scotland the USA Australia Singapore and Belgium plus a joint paper comparing Namibia and the USA Taken together the papers reveal the complexities and contradictions of international trends On the one hand they demonstrate that there is indeed a common direction of travel along the lines encouraged by international bodies such as the OECD At the same time however the papers also reveal important differences among countries in terms of how they are addressing common aspirations as well as some apparent contradictions within the policies of individual nations This book was based on the special issue of Teachers and Teaching

Democratic Teacher Education Reforms In Namibia Ken Zeichner, 2019-06-03 An analysis of teacher education reforms in Namibia in the post independence era from the perspective of government personnel teacher educators and teachers themselves This book examines post independence teacher education reforms in the southern African country of Namibia from the perspective of various actors in the reform process Ministry

Reflection, Change, and Reconstruction in the Context of Educational Reform and Innovation in China Yuhong Jiang, 2013-01-16 This book delivers a state of the art survey of the issues and approaches in contemporary English as a foreign language EFL teacher education It examines the professional development of the teachers who taught English as a foreign language and engaged in a teacher preparation programme of reflective teaching at a university in China Situated in the context of the reforms of English language teaching and teacher education this book focuses on the theme of how if at all reflective teaching contributes to Chinese university EFL teachers development in thinking about English language teaching and in their own classroom practice To date the study of English as a foreign language teacher education and professional development mainly focused on the teaching skills and pedagogical knowledge of teachers However this book approaches English language teacher education from a different perspective through an empirical exploration of the teachers professional development in their thinking beliefs values understandings of teaching awareness of students and their classroom practice while engaged with reflective teaching practice at the group level and the individual level respectively Adopting an interpretivist and constructivist epistemological paradigm and drawing on key aspects of reflective teaching theory the book investigates how the novice developing and experienced teachers differed in their views about reflective practice how the teachers thinking about English language teaching transformed how the teachers performance in EFL classroom practice developed and how the teachers dealt with the changes during the period of the teacher education programme In addition the book provides examples of research into the ways that individuals integrate multiple levels of reflection accommodate different types of reflection and make them interact with each other mutually and inseparably by using a more comprehensive and multidimensional reflective teaching model. Thus the book helps to better understand teachers' trajectory of professional growth and is a new and unique resource for exploring effective ways of language teacher education for teachers, teacher educators and educational researchers alike.

Mentoring: Perspectives on School-based Teacher Education H. Hagger, D. McIntyre, Margaret (Lecturer in Education Wilkin, 2013-07-04) A series of essays on mentoring issues in education which includes discussion of the political and historical aspects of mentoring the mentor-student relationship and the generic skills approach to mentoring. Becoming a teacher education researcher Diane Mayer, Ian Menter, 2025-02-28 You can successfully develop your higher education research profile while balancing the demands of training teachers and administration. While teacher education is key to preparing qualified teachers who can educate pupils for the demands of the twenty-first century, many university-based teacher educators experience conflicting demands in their professional practice. Their lives are often so dominated by teaching and associated work that their aspirations to develop a research profile are hampered. This text explores the critical issues faced by those working in teacher education and how they have negotiated the expectations and requirements of the Academy to establish themselves as leading international teacher education researchers. Through a series of autobiographical cases, this book demonstrates a range of trajectories in different contexts which have facilitated the development of teacher educators' successful research profiles. Understandings and realities of the policy context, the professional context, the research context, including funding metrics, type of research, valued the institutional context and various personal positionings are examined in order to illuminate stories of research success and demonstrate their relevance to all teacher educators. Confronting Challenges in English Language Teacher Education Salah Troudi, Omid Mazandarani, 2024-09-04 This edited volume presents an inter- and multidisciplinary approach towards language teacher education, confronting the issues that have continued to pervade the field for the last two decades. Featuring contributions from researchers and teacher educators located within a truly international spread of countries (Mexico, Palestine, Tunisia, Cyprus, and Kuwait) to name a few, chapters adopt an ecologically globalised approach to understand how English language teaching is theorised and practised in different educational contexts across the world. Research gathered from interviews, meta-analysis and international case studies is showcased as chapters consider both pedagogical and online issues, as well as critical approaches to language teacher education. Professional development and evaluation programmes across different educational contexts are discussed in depth, along with guidance and insights for the future of the field. The book will be of interest to scholars, researchers and postgraduate students working in the fields of English language teacher education, TESOL, applied linguistics, continuing professional development. Handbook of Research on Teacher Education Marilyn Cochran-Smith, Sharon Feiman-Nemser, D. John McIntyre, Kelly E. Demers, 2008-02-19 Co-Published by Routledge, Taylor & Francis Group and the Association of Teacher Educators. The Handbook of Research on Teacher Education was initiated to ferment change in education based on solid evidence The publication of the First Edition was a signal event in 1990 While the preparation of educators was then and continues to be the topic of substantial discussion there did not exist a codification of the best that was known at the time about teacher education Reflecting the needs of educators today the Third Edition takes a new approach to achieving the same purpose Beyond simply conceptualizing the broad landscape of teacher education and providing comprehensive reviews of the latest research for major domains of practice this edition stimulates a broad conversation about foundational issues brings multiple perspectives to bear provides new specificity to topics that have been undifferentiated in the past includes diverse voices in the conversation The Editors with an Advisory Board identified nine foundational issues and translated them into a set of focal questions What s the Point The Purposes of Teacher Education What Should Teachers Know Teacher Capacities Knowledge Beliefs Skills and Commitments Where Should Teachers Be Taught Settings and Roles in Teacher Education Who Teaches Who Should Teach Teacher Recruitment Selection and Retention Does Difference Make a Difference Diversity and Teacher Education How Do People Learn to Teach Who s in Charge Authority in Teacher Education How Do We Know What We Know Research and Teacher Education What Good is Teacher Education The Place of Teacher Education in Teachers Education The Association of Teacher Educators ATE is an individual membership organization devoted solely to the improvement of teacher education both for school based and post secondary teacher educators For more information on our organization and publications please visit www.ate1.org
