Red Dancer:

RED DANCER Rafael Fraguada, 2013-03 While in a fine state of total inebriation Gabriel drained his vein onto a sand dune and perceived a most perfect being A godlike image appeared on a starless night while in country This powerful force would permit him safe passage through the conflict if he would replace an eyelash lost in a child's dream and return to the world or home with the souls of his dead comrades His five year old niece had given him an earring for good luck before he left for the war He wore the black crescent shape on a silver chain around his neck alongside a Saint Christopher medal This earring made it possible for him to return home with the souls of his more unfortunate companions Back from Southeast Asia he enters a saloon in New York City and chats with the owner He mentions he had served overseas This man asks for a quiet moment and summons the patrons to propose a toast No one takes him seriously as he is in his cups When the bartender turns up the jukebox the room resumes its convivial atmosphere of the 60s free love and introspection Realizing he is not amused he leaves for an evening with a war buddy and his young family It's the commencement of his postwar experience with souls in tow He finds solace with his body wasted My body's aching and I can't find my way home like the song plays out His years pass with no great interests and he gets by well enough with a day to day existence but has accomplished nothing but keeps himself in blue collar work and in more barrooms When he meets up with a wealthy acquaintance from a tiny Midwest college they had attended he thinks of him as a shimmering deity of sorts Wings the handsome poet who drove his hunter green Morgan sports car through Lake Forest's bright autumn afternoons down Sheridan Road scattering bushels of fallen leaves with selfless irony a smirk and no smile now conversed regularly with Gabriel who thinks him quite the fellow in the sense that anyone with that amount of wealth should be able to do the greatest things Wings had married while still in college and his wife gave birth to a daughter who kept him out of the draft The child was another man's progeny Wings too had to survive the war His conversation of manuscripts investments inheritance love entanglements with no resolution or sense didn't matter to Gabriel It made him feel wealthy by association One evening on a walk through Central Park they and Wings daughter Ruth sat in a clearing to enjoy a bottle of wine She slips a pill into Gabriel's cup without him batting an eye as they were out to enjoy themselves Wings leaves abruptly Ruth follows shortly As night falls he finally goes in search of his two friends He approaches a big man cloaked in an animal skin who is armed with a large broad sword Gabriel inquires about his friends and is aggressively attacked In short order he has this man on his knees crying for help which he can't see A woman comes to the fallen man's aid but he mistakenly strikes her with his weapon The former marine awakens the next morning and is arrested for the death of a woman not far from him He is released on bail and is presented with the opportunity of taking the fall After a short term in a psychiatric hospital he would be recompensed with a rather large sum of money Wings had arranged this to collect monies for himself and his daughter His wife had gone through his fortune Gabriel had never dreamed of such machinations His honor is at stake as that of his fellow war companions He decides to make a stand and dons an expensive navy blue suit over his service automatic and grabs a dagger On his way to Wings coop he finds himself walking through Central Park The intense clamoring of his men on his mind causes him to stumble and fall for an instant He shakes it off but doesn't know who he is In the waning daylight he wanders through a sett The Dancer in Red, and Other Stories Fergus Hume, 1906 Red Migrations Philip Gleissner, Bradley A. Gorski, 2024-11-30 Together with a new political social and cultural order the Bolshevik Revolution also brought about a spatial revolution Changed patterns motivations and impacts of migration collided with new cultural forms and aesthetic mandates Red Migrations highlights the various multidirectional and multilateral transnational movements of leftist thinkers artists and writers The book draws on avant garde poets such as David Burliuk Marxist theoreticians such as J nos M cza and fellow travellers such as Langston Hughes revealing how leftists of all stripes were inspired and at times impelled by the Soviet Revolution to cross borders It explores how the resulting circulation of ideas aesthetic forms and individuals not only contributed enormously to the ferment of creative activity in the early Soviet years but also deeply informed international leftist aesthetics and political practice throughout the twentieth century The robust and diverse transnational networks created by these circulations are at the centre of this volume With original archival research and insightful analyses Red Migrations sheds light on the ideals aspirations and disappointments of leftist transnationalism from the 1920s through the 1960s and the aesthetic forms they engendered SEAL Team Six Outcasts Stephen Templin, Howard E. The Anthropology of Time Alfred Gell, 2021-03-10 Time, relentless, ever present but intangible and the single element over which human beings have no absolute control, has long proved a puzzle. The author examines the phenomenon of time and asks such fascinating questions as: how time impinges on people; to what extent our awareness of time is culturally conditioned; how societies deal with temporal problems; and whether time can be considered a resource to be economized. More specifically, he provides a consistent and detailed analysis of theories put forward by a number of thinkers such as Durkheim, Evans Pritchard, Lévi-Strauss, Geertz, Piaget, Husserl, and Bourdieu. His discussion encompasses four main approaches in time research: namely, developmental psychology, symbolic anthropology, covering the bulk of post-Durkheimian social anthropology, economic theories of time in social geography, and finally, phenomenological theories. The author concludes by presenting his own model of social cognitive time in the light of these critical discussions of the literature.
