Including a groundbreaking introduction by the editor and a sourcebook section which excerpts a range of material from popular magazines to child-rearing guides from the past 75 years, The Children's Culture Reader will propel our understanding of children and childhood into the next century.

African and Diaspora Aesthetics Sarah Nuttall, 2006. In Cameroon, a monumental statue of liberty is made from scrap metal. In Congo, a thriving popular music incorporates piercing screams and carnal dances. When these and other instantiations of the aesthetics of Africa and its diasporas are taken into account, how are ideas of beauty reconfigured? Scholars and artists take up that question in this invigorating, lavishly illustrated collection, which includes more than one hundred color images. Exploring sculpture, music, fiction, food, photography, fashion, and urban design, the contributors engage with and depart from canonical aesthetic theories as they demonstrate that beauty cannot be understood apart from ugliness. Highlighting how ideas of beauty are manifest and how they mutate, travel, and combine across time and distance, continental and diasporic writers examine the work of a Senegalese sculptor inspired by Leni Riefenstahl's photographs of Nuba warriors, a rich Afro-Brazilian aesthetic incorporating aspects of African, Jamaican, and American cultures, and African Americans. Africanization of the Santer, a movement in the United States. They consider the fraught, intricate spaces of the urban landscape in postcolonial South Africa, the intense pleasures of eating on Rue Union, and the shockingly graphic images on painted plywood boards advertising morality plays along the streets of Ghana. And they analyze the increasingly ritualized wedding feasts in Cameroon, as well as the limits of an explicitly African aesthetics. Two short stories by the Mozambican writer Mia Couto gesture toward what beauty might be in the context of political failure and postcolonial disillusionment. Together, the essays suggest that beauty is, in some sense, future-oriented, and that taking beauty in Africa and its diasporas seriously is a way of rekindling hope.

PICTURE STARRING ELIZABETH MOSS AND MICHAEL STUHLBARG Susan Scarf Merrell brilliantly weaves events from Shirley Jackson's life into a hypnotic story line in this darkly thrilling novel about the author of The Haunting of Hill House and The Lottery. Two imposing literary figures are at the heart of this captivating novel: celebrated author Shirley Jackson and her husband Stanley Edgar Hyman, a literary critic and professor at Bennington College. When a young graduate student and his pregnant wife, Fred and Rose Nemser, move into Shirley and Stanley's home in the fall of 1964, they quickly fall under the magnetic spell of their brilliant and unconventional hosts. While Fred becomes preoccupied with his teaching schedule, Rose forms an unlikely turbulent friendship with the troubled and unpredictable Shirley. Fascinated by the Hyman's volatile marriage and inexplicably drawn to the darkly enigmatic author, Rose nonetheless senses something amiss, something to do with nightly unanswered phone calls and inscrutable accounts of a long missing female student. Chillingly atmospheric and evocative of Jackson's own classic stories, Shirley is an elegant thriller with one of America's greatest horror writers at its heart. The Washington Post     Readers Theatre as Literary Criticism Deborah Anne Gimple, 1984
