Humber,2016-01-19 DAD S BEST MEMORIES AND RECOLLECTIONS is Chazzz Humber s epithaph casting a very long and sentimental shadow across North America and beyond This 230 page volume is his granite monument well polished It lavishly records 125 of his best memories over a life span of nearly eighty years The vignettes are serenaded with more than 400 illustrations Those discovering this volume likely will find themselves wanting to record in their own sunset years their personal memories and recollections And when they do they are apt to recall what it was like to live in their fluctuating world dominated by a variety of personalities and cascading events Mr Humber vividly describes what it was like in 1945 to travel in a 1930 Model A Ford from Toronto to Boston With lively enthusiasm he reports what it was like to live in post World War II Boston to cook a lobster for a former President of the United States or to sell a pair of elevator shoes to one of Hollywood s shortest celebrities or to shine the shoes of a Derby hatted father of a future President of the United States It is not a remarkable achievement to reflect to recall or to have memories that are treasured But to tell them with literary aplomb to recall the events that happened nearly seventy five years ago with utmost clarity is definitely an admirable achievement and should be cherished not only by the kin who follow Mr Humber but by those who might like to imitate what he has monumentally achieved in Dad s Best Memories and Recollections Catalogue of Copyright Entries Library of Congress. The First Eagles Gavin Mortimer, 2014-08-15 An incredible history of the American WWI pilots who refused to be grounded There was a time when the United States didn t believe in aerial warfare Wars after all were for men not flying machines When Europe went to war in the summer of 1914 the U S military boasted a measly collection of five aircraft with no training programs or recruitment procedures in place But that didn t mean the country lacked skilled pilots In fact it was just the opposite In The First Eagles award winning historian Gavin Mortimer engagingly profiles the restless determined American aviators who grew tired of waiting for their country to establish an aerial military force during World War I It was these men who enlisted in Britain s desperate and battered Royal Flying Corps when in 1917 it opened a recruitment office in New York After an intensive and deadly year of training that gave recruits a frighteningly realistic taste of the combat they would face 247 fresh American RFC pilots were shipped over to Europe with hundreds more following in the next two months Twenty eight of them claimed five or more kills to become feted as aces their involvement lauded as pivotal to the Allied victory In this book Mortimer compiles their history through letters diaries memoirs and archives from top museums in the United States and Britain from John Donaldson who left for France at age twenty and shot down seven Germans before being downed himself to the Iaccaci brothers who accounted for twenty nine German aircraft between them Complete with 150 period photographs The First Eagles captures the bravery of these intrepid American pilots who chose courage over idleness and saved the European skies
