Rethinking World History Essays On Europe Islam And World History:

Rethinking World History Marshall G. S. Hodgson, 1993-05-28 Is the history of the modern world the history of Europe writ large Or is it possible to situate the history of modernity as a world historical process apart from its origins in Western Europe In this posthumous collection of essays Marshall G S Hodgson challenges adherents of both Eurocentrism and multiculturalism to rethink the place of Europe in world history He argues that the line that connects Ancient Greeks to the Renaissance to modern times is an optical illusion and that a global and Asia centred history can better locate the European experience in the shared histories of humanity Hodgson then shifts the historical focus and in a parallel move seeks to locate the history of Islamic civilisation in a world historical framework In so doing he concludes that there is but one history global history and that all partial or privileged accounts must necessarily be resituated in a world historical context The book also includes an introduction by the editor Edmund Burke contextualising Hodgson s work in world history and Islamic history

Theater State and the Formation of Early Modern Public Sphere in Iran Babak Rahimi, 2011-11-11 During the Safavid period the Shi'i Muharram commemorative rites which had been publically practiced since the 7th century became a manifestation of state power Already during the reign of Shah Abbas I 1587-1629 the Muharram rituals had transformed into an extraordinary rich repertoire of ceremonies and ceremonial spaces that can be defined as theater state Under Shah Safi I 1629-1642 these ceremonies ultimately led to carnivalesque celebrations of misrule and transgression This first systematic study of a wide range of Persian and European archival and primary sources analyzes how the Muharram rites changed from being an originally devotional practice to an ambiguous ritualization that in combination with other public arenas such as the bazaar coffeehouses or travel lodges created distinct spaces of communication whereby the widening gap between state and society gave way to the formation of the early Iranian public sphere Ultimately the Muharram public spaces allowed for a shift in individual and collective identities opening the way to multifaceted living fields of interaction as well as being sites of contestation where innovative expressions of politics were made In particular the construction of the new Isfahan in 1590 is linked with the widespread proliferation of the Muharram mortuary rites by discussing rituals performed in major urban spaces
