The Humanities in Transition from Postmodernism into the Digital Age Nigel A. Raab,2020-05-31 The Humanities in Transition explores how the basic components of the digital age will have an impact on the most trusted theories of humanists Over the past two generations humanists have come to take basic postmodern theories for granted whether on language knowledge or time Yet Michel Foucault Jacques Derrida and similar philosophers developed their ideas when the impact of this digital world could barely be imagined The digital world built on algorithms and massive amounts of data operates on radically different principles This volume analyzes these differences demonstrating where an aging postmodernism cannot keep pace with today s technologies The book first introduces the major influence postmodern had on global thought before turning to algorithms digital space digital time data visuals and the concept to digital forgeries By taking a closer look at these themes it establishes a platform to create more robust humanist theories for the third millennium This book will appeal to graduate students and established scholars in the Digital Humanities who are looking for diverse and energetic theoretical approaches that can truly come to terms with the digital world

The Crisis from Within: Historians, Theory, and the Humanities Nigel Raab,2015-05-19 In The Crisis from Within Nigel Raab explores weaknesses that emerge when using interdisciplinary theories in historical analysis With chapters that focus on knowledge language memory imagining and inventing and civil society the analysis reveals how theoretical applications can be the source of interpretive confusion By drawing from a global range of historical works Nigel Raab demonstrates how this problem concerns all historical sub fields From science in the seventeenth century to communism in the twentieth century theories often overdetermine analysis in a way the historian never intended After the enthusiastic reception of theory for over a generation The Crisis from Within argues that the time has come to pause and think seriously about how we wish to proceed with theory

Theoretical Schools and Circles in the Twentieth-Century Humanities Marina Grishakova,Silvi Salupere,2015-04-10 Schools and circles have been a major force in twentieth century intellectual movements They fostered circulation of ideas within and between disciplines thus altering the shape of intellectual inquiry This volume offers a new perspective on theoretical schools in the humanities both as generators of conceptual knowledge and as cultural phenomena The structuralist semiotic phenomenological and hermeneutical schools and circles have had a deep impact on various disciplines ranging from literary studies to philosophy historiography and sociology The volume focuses on a set of loosely interrelated groups with a strong literary linguistic and semiotic component but extends to the fields of philosophy and history the interdisciplinary conjunctions arising from a sense of conceptual kinship It includes chapters on unstudied or less studied groups such as Tel Aviv School of poetics and semiotics or the research group Poetics and Hermeneutics The volume presents a significant supplement to the standard historical accounts of literary critical and related theory in the twentieth century It enhances and complicates our understanding of the twentieth century intellectual and academic history by showing schools and circles in the state of germination dialogue controversy or decline in their respective historical and institutional settings while reaching simultaneously beyond those dense settings to the new cultural and ideological situations of the twenty first century

The Social Construction of Public Administration Jong S. Jun, 2012-02-01 In this conceptual guided tour of contemporary public administration Jong S Jun challenges the limitations of the discipline which he argues make it inadequate for understanding today's complex human phenomena Drawing on examples and case studies from both Eastern and Western countries he emphasizes critical and interpretive perspectives as a counterforce to the instrumental technical rationality that reduces the field to structural and functionalist views of management He also emphasizes the idea of democratic social construction to transcend the field's reliance on conventional pluralist politics Jun stresses that public administrators and institutions must create opportunities for sharing and learning among organizational members and must facilitate interactive processes between public administrators and citizens so that the latter can voice their problems and opinions The future role of public administrators will be to transcend the limitations of the management and governing of modern public administration and to explore ways of constructing socially meaningful alternatives through communicative action and the participation of citizens

Oakeshott on History Luke O'Sullivan, 2003 This book challenges the common view that Michael Oakeshott was mainly important as a political philosopher by offering the first comprehensive study of his ideas on history It argues that Oakeshott's writings on the philosophy of history mark him out as the most successful of the philosophers who attempted to establish historical study as an autonomous form of thought during the twentieth century It also contends that his work on the history of political thought is best seen in the context of debates over the origins of the liberal state For the first time extensive use has been made of unpublished material in the collection of Oakeshott's papers at the LSE resulting in an intellectual biography that should be of interest both to first time students and those already familiar with his published works
