

RESEARCH ARTICLE REVIEW

Written by: [Your Name]

I. Introduction

This research article review provides a comprehensive analysis of current studies on agricultural sustainability practices. The objective is to evaluate the effectiveness of various sustainability measures implemented in agriculture and to identify research gaps that could inform future studies. The review consolidates findings from multiple research articles to offer a cohesive understanding of the topic.

II. Methods

A. Selection Criteria

Research articles included in this review were selected based on their relevance to agricultural sustainability, published between 2051 and 2060. The focus was on peer-reviewed articles that addressed various sustainability practices, including soil management, water conservation, and crop rotation techniques.

B. Data Extraction

Data was extracted from the selected articles using a standardized form. Key aspects such as study objectives, methodologies, results, and conclusions were recorded. This process ensured that the review maintained consistency and reliability in summarizing the research findings.

C. Analysis

The extracted data was analyzed to identify common themes, trends, and discrepancies across the studies. Comparative analysis was employed to evaluate the effectiveness of different sustainability practices and to determine the overall impact on agricultural productivity and environmental health.
