Revolution and Nationalism in the Sudan Mohamed Omer Beshir, 1974 Revolution and nationalism in the Sudan Muhammad 'Umar Bašhīr, 1974 Lost Nationalism Elena Vezzadini, 2015 Winner of the African Studies Association 2016 Bethwell A Ogot Book Prize A lively account of the 1924 Revolution in Sudan and the way in which the colonial situation has affected its representation a case in point in the histories of nationalist anti colonial movements in Africa and the Middle East

War of Visions Francis M. Deng, 2011-10-01 The civil war that has intermittently raged in the Sudan since independence in 1956 is according to Francis Deng a conflict of contrasting and seemingly incompatible identities in the Northern and Southern parts of the country Identity is seen as a function of how people identify themselves and are identified in racial ethnic cultural linguistic and religious terms The identity question related to how such concepts determine or influence participation and distribution in the political economic social and cultural life of the country War of Visions aims at shedding light on the anomalies of the identity conflict The competing models in the Sudan are the Arab Islamic mold of the North representing two thirds of the country in territory and population and the remaining Southern third which is indigenously African in race ethnicity culture and religion with an educated Christianized elite But although the North is popularly defined as racially Arab the people are a hybrid of Arab and African elements with the African physical characteristics predominating in most tribal groups This configuration is the result of a historical process that stratified races cultures and religions and fostered a passing into the Arab Islamic mold that discriminated against the African race and cultures The outcome of this process is a polarization that is based more on myth than on the realities of the situation The identity crisis has been further complicated by the fact that Northerners want to fashion the country on the basis of their Arab Islamic identity while the South is decidedly resistant Francis Deng presents three alternative approaches to the identity crisis First he argues that by bringing to the surface the realities of the African elements of identity in the North thereby revealing characteristics shared by all Sudanese a new basis for the creation of a common identity could be established that fosters equitable The Root Causes of Sudan's Civil Wars Douglas Hamilton Johnson, 2003 Sudan's post independence history has been dominated by long recurring and bloody civil wars Most commentators have attributed the country's political and civil strife either to an age old racial and ethnic divide between Arabs and Africans or to colonially constructed inequalities In The Root Causes of Sudan's Civil Wars Douglas H Johnson examines historical political economic and social factors to come to a more subtle understanding of the trajectory of Sudan's civil wars Johnson focuses on the essential differences between the modern Sudan's first civil war in the 1960s the current war and the minor conflicts generated by and contained within the larger wars Regional and international factors such as humanitarian aid oil revenue and terrorist organizations are cited and examined as underlying issues that have exacerbated the violence Readers will find an immensely readable yet nuanced and well informed handling of the history and politics of Sudan's civil wars The Sudan John Obert Voll, Sarah Potts Voll, 2016-10-04 Little known in the United States and Western Europe the Sudan is nevertheless a country of major importance in international affairs This analytic introduction to the modern Sudan first published in 1985 provides a summary of the basic dynamics of the country's political social cultural and economic life as well as a general framework for interpreting the modern Sudanese experience The authors present a clear picture of the Sudan as a distinctive entity with an identity all its own revealing however that almost paradoxically one of the most significant aspects of that identity is the place of the Sudan as a special link between different cultural patterns and socio political styles The Sudan is both a bridge and a melting pot and this provides the foundation of its unique character Class and Power in Sudan Tim Niblock,1987-08-01 With the attention of the industrialized world focused on the political economic and social strife of Africa Tim Niblock travels to Sudan for a first hand investigation of the socio economic structure of that continent's largest country His findings hold significant implications for the wider context of Africa the Arab countries and the Third World His is a systematic and comprehensive study of Sudanese politics A country with immense economic potential possessing extensive tracts of cultivable but currently uncultivated land Sudan could emerge as a major source of food for the Arab world Yet it is threatened by famine while attempts at development are frustrated by civil war and political disarray Niblock examines the political economic and social factors that have shaped the country's development The fate of Sudan will be critical to the political stability of North East Africa and the Red Sea area and the Sudanese experience is instructive for underdeveloped countries as a whole

Identity, Citizenship, and Violence in Two Sudans: Reimagining a Common Future A. Idris,2013-08-20 The 2011 split of Sudan and the conflicts that have followed make it a case of ongoing significance for understanding state building in Africa Examining both the north south divide and the spread of violence from Darfur this study shows how colonial legacies have shaped state formation and charts out a path to inclusive citizenship and democracy State institutions and leadership in Africa Irma Taddia,Tekeste Negash,2018-02-01 The central theme of this book is the role of education in the formation of a political class during and after the European colonial period in Africa The volume focuses on the various actors that informed and were part of this process such as African intellectuals and political leaders colonial troops European missionaries and administrators At the same time the collection analyses the historical processes connected to the emergence and development of a new African leadership such as the creation of a colonial school system the transformation of urban spaces the development of new environmental policies and the processes of nation building after independence The volume is made up of twelve contributions four on Ethiopia two on Eritrea two on the Sudan one on Somaliland two on Tanzania and one on Ghana Transforming Sudan Alden Young,2018 This book traces the formation of the Sudanese state following the Second World War through a developmentalist ideology
