Beryl Dustin Galer,2023-11-07 Beryl Potter was a reserved working class mother of three living a decent life or so it seemed when a harmless slip and fall marked the unravelling of everything that she had known about herself and the world around her Over the course of six years she endured unimaginable pain As doctors raced to save her life her limbs and eyesight were taken from her one by one In the span of a few years she lost nearly half her body her financial security her home her husband and any semblance of a recognizable future A survivor of more than one hundred surgeries a dangerous opioid addiction and multiple suicide attempts Beryl Potter devoted herself to bettering the lives of other people with disabilities and made a tremendous contribution to disability awareness from the 1970s to 1990s In this unparalleled biography Dustin Galer demonstrates how Beryl Potter seemed to crack the code of the social system that oppressed her By wading into the weeds of her complicated life before and after her accident Galer leaves readers with a complex portrait of a woman who defied and challenged gender and disability norms of her time paving the way for disability justice The Lunatic Muse Joe Rosenblatt, 2007 Shadow Maker Rosemary Sullivan, 2001 King of Egypt, King of Dreams Gwendolyn MacEwen, 2009-11-07 The Insomniac Library is proud to reissue Gwendolyn MacEwen's second novel more than thirty years after its original appearance in 1971 The novel bears important resemblances to MacEwen's earlier Julian the Magician Writing to poet Al Purdy MacEwen confessed she wanted her second novel to be bulky readable and not overly mysterious Unlike in Julian however here MacEwen sets out to write a deeply serious novel that also functions as entertaining historical fiction The novel's hero is Akhenaton Pharaoh of Egypt's Eighteenth Dynasty who was the first ruler to introduce the idea of monotheism As Rosemary Sullivan remarks in her biography of MacEwen he was like Julian one more human being filled with the god lust Akhenaton's single mindedness in his quest for his own brand of reason is a powerfully paradoxical distillation of the artistic temperament originality fertility and beauty set against death and despair and an inability to love Julian the Magician Gwendolyn MacEwen, 2009-11-07 MacEwen described what she set out to achieve as a sort of powerful poetic mad half abandoned prose somewhere between Kenneth Patchen and Virginia Woolf Set in a medieval past that has distinctly modern overtones the novel is about Julian a young man who believes he is Christ Wandering the countryside in a horse drawn wagon Julian learns to suspend logic like a whale on a thread He becomes a master of alchemy performing miracles like curing the mad and changing water into wine When his rapt audiences begin to lose faith Julian must pay with his life MacEwen skillfully implies a relationship between alchemy miracles and belief and the art forms she is engaged in herself poetry and prose What is the price the writer magician must pay to engender belief in her audience Is something true merely because we believe it With an afterword by the author's sister Jacket Timothy Findley's Novels Between Ethics and Postmodernism Dagmar Krause, 2005 Timothy Findley 1930 2002 is one of the most important contemporary Canadian writers His novels have been classified as postmodern exhibiting characteristic features such as parody historiographic metafiction and hybrid genres This classification of Findley as a postmodern writer however largely neglects the fact that Findley is deeply committed to the exploration of certain ethical and political themes Recurring topics in his work are for instance fascism environmental concerns and the problem of responsibility Sparked off by the fascinating question of how postmodernism and ethics can be reconciled at all and inspired by the so called ethical turn in the literary theory of the 1990s this study supplies a closer look at Findley's ethics with regard to its postmodern potential A detailed analysis of five of his novels The Wars Famous Last Words Not Wanted on the Voyage The Telling of Lies and Headhunter explores the ethical dimension of Findley's work and its consequences for his categorization as a postmodern writer 15 Canadian Poets X 3 Gary Geddes, 2001 This is the fourth edition of Gary Geddes highly successful anthology of Canadian poetry All of the poets included in the previous editions have been retained although their selections have been carefully reconsidered Among new poets added to this edition are Anne Carson Dionne Brand Daphne Marlatt bpNichol

Robert Burns and Transatlantic Culture Sharon Alker, Leith Davis, 2016-04-08 While recent scholarship has usefully positioned Burns within the context of British Romanticism as a spokesperson of Scottish national identity Robert Burns and Transatlantic Culture considers Burns s impact in the United States Canada and South America where he has served variously as a site of cultural memory and of creative negotiation Ambitious in its scope the volume is divided into five sections that explore transatlantic concerns in Burns s own work Burns s early publication in North America Burns s reception in the Americas Burns s creation as a site of cultural memory and extra literary remediations of Burns including contemporary digital representations By tracing the transatlantic modulations of the poet and songwriter and his works Robert Burns and Transatlantic Culture sheds new light on the circuits connecting Scotland and Britain with the evolving cultures of the Americas from the late eighteenth century to the present Exchanges between Literature and Science from the 1800s to the 2000s Márcia Lemos, 2017-03-07

This collection of essays responds to the intense interest that the relations between the discourses of literature and other cultural practices and those of science have obtained throughout various fields of study Spanning a period between the mid nineteenth century and the twenty first century the work collected here is firmly focused on the cultural significance of scientific discoveries and practices and especially on the manifold representations of science and scientists in literature and the arts Its four sections develop from an initial moment of dwindling indefiniteness of borders between literature and the sciences to the historical perception of an increasing divide between the two cultures to use C P Snow s influential expression as well as calls for a form of convergence or consilience in Edward Wilson s words The final section turns to the medical sciences a porous scientific discipline in relation to the humanities which suggests that consilience can already be found partially in specific areas As such this collection contributes towards critically extending that integration through the discussion of key literary representations of science its promises and its problems
