Podcasting, and Puppetry Kristin Fontichiaro, 2007-03-30 Contrary to the trend to do away with arts education as an unnecessary expense in schools trying to boost student test scores this book promotes and explains the value of integrated arts instruction in furthering the accomplishment of curricular objectives and fostering student achievement Accomplished library media specialist and arts instructor Kristin Fontichiaro discusses how drama shadow puppetry and podcasting can be used as tools to meet curriculum objectives in the K 8 media center By concentrating on the process of creating a piece of drama or puppetry or a podcast as opposed to the goal of performance and by infusing the arts with curriculum objectives in story or research these techniques can intensify a child's learning and provide context for classroom curriculum objectives A discussion of the affective and academic benefits of this process based work as well as sample lessons are included Photographs and examples of student work illustrate the techniques Grades K 8 Chinese Shadow Theatre Fan Pen Li Chen, 2007-06-21 In her study of Chinese shadow theatre Fan Pen Li Chen documents and corrects misconceptions about this once popular art form Drawing on extensive research and fieldwork she argues that these plays served a mainly religious function during the Qing dynasty and that the appeal of women warrior characters reflected the lower classes high tolerance for the unorthodox and subversive Chinese Shadow Theatre includes several rare transcriptions of oral performances including a didactic play on the eighteen levels of Hell and Investiture of the Gods a sacred saga and translations of three rare hand copied shadow plays featuring religious themes and women warrior characters Chen examines the relationship between historical and fictional women warriors and those in military romances and shadow plays to demonstrate the significance of both printed works and oral transmission in the diffusion of popular culture She also shows that traditional folk theatre is a subject for serious academic study by linking it to recent scholarship on drama popular religion and popular culture

Light as Experience and Imagination from Paleolithic to Roman Times David S. Herrstrom, 2017-09-26 This book is an interdisciplinary synthesis and interpretation about the experience of light as revealed in a wide range of art and literature from Paleolithic to Roman times Humanistic in spirit and in its handling of facts it marshals a substantial body of scholarship to develop an explication of light as a central even dramatic reality of human existence and experience in diverse cultural settings David S Herrstrom underscores our intimacy with light not only its constant presence in our life but its insinuating character Focusing on our encounters with light and ways of making sense of these this book is concerned with the personal and cultural impact of light exploring our resistance to and acceptance of light Its approach is unique The book's true subject is the individual's relationship with light rather than the investigation of light's essential nature It tells the story of light seducing individuals down through the ages Consequently it is not concerned with the progress of scientific inquiries into the physical properties and behavior of light optical science but rather with subjective reactions to it as reflected in art Paleolithic through Roman architecture Egyptian Grecian Roman mythology and religion Paleolithic Egyptian and literature e.g. Akhenaten Plato Aeschylus Lucretius John the Evangelist Plotinus and Augustine This book celebrates the complexity of our relation to light's character No individual experience of light is truer than any other none improves on any previous experience of light's tidal pull on us And the wondrous variety of these encounters has yielded a richly layered tapestry of human experience By its broad scope and interdisciplinary approach this pioneering book is without precedent

Travel Shadows by Justinus Kerner Harold B. Segel, 2014-03-17 Justinus Kerner 1786-1862 was one of the most celebrated figures in nineteenth century German culture A physician by training he was also a leading member of the Swabian Romantic circle of poets which included among others Ludwig Uhland and Gustav Schwab Kerner's international fame rests primarily on his contributions to the investigation of paranormal phenomena The most important of these was his exhaustive case study Die Seherin von Prevorst The Seeress of Prevorst 1829 The book was translated into English in 1849 by the English writer Catherine Crowe 1803-76 Until the present this has been the only work of Kerner available in English Apart from his many scientific publications and his poetry Kerner was also the author of one of the more intriguing literary works of German Romanticism Die Reiseschatten Travel Shadows 1811 Ostensibly an account of his travels through Germany and Austria following his graduation from the University of Tübingen the book is a highly imaginative almost surreal concoction of Romantic sentimental grotesque satirical and Old German folkloric elements Attributed by Kerner to an itinerant shadow performer named Lux Travel Shadows was inspired by the tradition of Chinese Shadows ombres chinoises and represents Kerner's attempt to create a travel narrative in the form of a grandiose shadow show In the introduction to his translation of Travel Shadows the first in English Harold B Segel situates Kerner's work in the context of the emergence of a German shadow show tradition in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries

The Geometries of Afro Asia Joan Kee, 2023-04-18

How do we embark on a history of art that proceeds from the assumption of a global majority Taking as a rhetorical departure the construct of Afro Asia which doubles as both an ontological reference and an epistemological intervention this book centers the worlds Black and Asian artists initiate through their work Afro Asia breaks down delineated time into points trajectories angles magnitudes and relative positions so that temporality and chronology figure primarily as questions of geometry it asks if and how we can we be something other than what biology politics culture and economics tells us we are or must become Spanning North America Europe Asia and Africa this book challenges the institutionalization of contemporary art as a global enterprise increasingly governed by the judgments of a self selecting minority

The Visual World of Shadows Roberto Casati, Patrick Cavanagh, 2023-12-26 How the perception of shadows studied by vision scientists and visual artists reveals the inner workings of the visual system In The Visual World of Shadows Roberto Casati and Patrick Cavanagh examine how the perception of shadows as studied by vision scientists and visual artists reveals the inner workings of the visual system Shadows are at once a massive problem for vision which must distinguish them from objects or material features of objects and a resource signaling the presence location shape and size of objects Casati and Cavanagh draw up an inventory of information retrievable from shadows showing their amazing variety They present an overview of the visual system distinguishing between measurement and inference They discuss the shadow mission the work done by the visual brain to parse and perhaps discard the information from shadows shadow ownership the association of a shadow with the object that casts it shadow labeling the visual system s ability to tell shadows from nonshadows and the shadow concept our knowledge about shadows as a category Casati and Cavanagh then apply the theoretical apparatus they have developed for shadows to other phenomena illumination reflection and transparency Finally they examine the art of the shadow paying tribute to artists exploration of shadow analyzing a series of artworks reproduced in color from a rich and fascinating art historical corpus

Shadows of Empire Laurie Jo Sears, 1996 Shadows of Empire explores Javanese shadow theater as a staging area for negotiations between colonial power and indigenous traditions Charting the shifting boundaries between myth and history in Javanese Mahabharata and Ramayana tales Laurie J Sears reveals what happens when these stories move from village performances and palace manuscripts into colonial texts and nationalist journals and most recently comic books and novels Historical anthropological and literary in its method and insight this work offers a dramatic reassessment of both Javanese literary theatrical production and Dutch scholarship on Southeast Asia Though Javanese shadow theater wayang has existed for hundreds of years our knowledge of its history performance practice and role in Javanese society only begins with Dutch documentation and interpretation in the nineteenth century Analyzing the Mahabharata and Ramayana tales in relation to court poetry Islamic faith Dutch scholarship and nationalist journals Sears shows how the shadow theater as we know it today must be understood as a hybrid of Javanese and Dutch ideas and interests inseparable from a particular colonial moment In doing so she contributes to a re envisioning of European histories that acknowledges the influence of Asian African and New World cultures on European thought and to a rewriting of colonial and postcolonial Javanese histories that questions the boundaries and content of history and story myth and allegory colonialism and culture Shadows of Empire will appeal not only to specialists in Javanese culture and historians of Indonesia but also to a wide range of scholars in the areas of performance and literature anthropology Southeast Asian studies and postcolonial studies
