Shadow Of The Object Psychoanalysis Of The Unthought Unknown:

The Shadow of the Object Christopher Bollas, 2017-07-20 In The Shadow of the Object Christopher Bollas integrates aspects of Freud's theory of unconscious thinking with elements from the British Object Relations School. In doing so he offers radical new visions of the scope of psychoanalysis and expands our understanding of the creativity of the unconscious mind and the aesthetics of human character. During our formative years we are continually impressed by the object world. Most of this experience will never be consciously thought of but it resides within us as assumed knowledge. Bollas has termed this the unthought known, a phrase that has ramified through many realms of human exploration including the worlds of letters, psychology and the arts. Aspects of the unthought known, the primary repressed unconscious, will emerge during a psychoanalysis as a mood, the aesthetic of a dream or in our relation to the self as other. Within the unique analytic relationship it becomes possible, at least in part, to think the unthought, an experience that has enormous transformative potential. Published here with a new preface by Christopher Bollas, The Shadow of the Object remains a classic of the psychoanalytic literature written by a truly original thinker.

The Poetics of Tenderness Robert Cantwell, 2017-12-13 The Poetics of Tenderness a literary critical essay on love grounded in the developmental theory of the British psychoanalyst Donald Winnicott and shaped by recent work on the neurobiology and anthropology of love. It maintains that sexual love is not merely an artifact or invention of culture but a vital manifestation of the culture making power itself. Calling upon Andreus Capellanus, Plato, Schopenhauer, Freud, William James, Hardy, Dreiser and Fitzgerald, D. H. Lawrence and Tom Stoppard among others, the book's aim is to turn the discussion of sexuality around to substitute for ideas and figures of violence and predation which have dominated our sexual imaginary for more than four decades, much older and more durable associations of sex and love with care, affection, beauty, memory, worthiness and ideality. It argues for a resurrection of tenderness and holds out the possibility that even where anything goes, love may yet be a source of sweetness and light that mutual respect, equity, justice and decency in the spheres of sex and love will more likely flow from compassion and sympathy than from anger, fear, suspicion, mistrust, resentment and bitterness. Close readings of two widely read novels, Dickens' Great Expectations and Nabokov's Lolita, preside over the discussion exploring these authors' distinctively detailed and probing accounts of love's unfolding in particular social, cultural, historical and psychological settings. Both novels proceed from deep within the authors' interior life; both novels release love from its normally deep entanglements with intimacy and isolation, compatibility and incompatibility, social place and social possibility, inspiring in their narrators a prolonged introspective inquiry into an all-consuming preoccupation which ultimately restores them to the moral order.

Derrida, Deleuze, Psychoanalysis Gabriele Schwab, 2007-11-23 Derrida, Deleuze, Psychoanalysis explores the critical relationship between psychoanalysis and the work of Derrida. Speech and Phenomena, Of Grammatology and his later writing on autoimmunity, cruelty, war and human rights and Deleuze's A Thousand Plateaus, Anti-Oedipus and more. Each essay illuminates a specific aspect of Derrida's and Deleuze's perspectives on psychoanalysis the human/animal boundary the child's polymorphism the face or mouth as constitutive of ethical responsibility toward others the connections between pain and suffering and political resistance the role of masochism in psychoanalytic thinking the use of psychoanalytic secondary revision in theorizing film and the political dimension of the unconscious Placing a particular emphasis on liminal figurations of the human and challenges to discourses on free will the essays explore shared concerns in Derrida and Deleuze with regard to history politics the political unconscious and resistance By addressing the need to overcome the split between the psychological and the political Derrida/Deleuze Psychoanalysis illuminates the ongoing relevance of psychoanalysis to critical interrogations of culture and politics and inspiring book Michael Ann Holly traces how this disjunction courses through the history of art and shows how it can give rise to melancholic sentiments in historians who write about art She confronts pivotal and vexing questions in her discipline Why do art historians write in the first place What kinds of psychic exchanges occur between art objects and those who write about them What institutional and personal needs does art history serve What is lost in historical writing about art The Melancholy Art looks at how melancholy suffuses the work of some of the twentieth century s most powerful and poetic writers on the history of art including Alois Riegl Franz Wickhoff Adrian Stokes Michael Baxandall Meyer Schapiro and Jacques Derrida A disarmingly personal meditation by one of our most distinguished art historians this book explains why to write about art is to share in a kind of intertwined pleasure and loss that is the very essence of melancholy Another Country Scott Herring,2010-06-01 The metropolis has been the near exclusive focus of queer scholars and queer cultures in America Asking us to look beyond the cities on the coasts Scott Herring draws a new map tracking how rural queers have responded to this myopic mindset Interweaving a wide range of disciplines art media literature performance and fashion studies he develops an extended critique of how metronormativity saturates LGBTQ politics artwork and criticism To counter this ideal he offers a vibrant theory of queer anti urbanism that refuses to dismiss the rural as a cultural backwater Impassioned and provocative Another Country expands the possibilities of queer studies beyond its city limits Herring leads his readers from faeries in the rural Midwest to photographs of white supremacists in the deep South from Roland Barthes s obsession with Parisian fashion to a graphic memoir by Alison Bechdel set in the Appalachian Mountains and from cubist paintings in Lancaster County to lesbian separatist communes on the northern California coast The result is an entirely original account of how queer studies can and should get to another country
