Pillars and Shadows John Braithwaite, Sinclair Dinnen, Matthew Allen, Valerie Braithwaite, Hilary Charlesworth, 2010-11-01 This volume of the Peacebuilding Compared Project examines the sources of the armed conflict and coup in the Solomon Islands before and after the turn of the millennium The Regional Assistance Mission to Solomon Islands RAMSI has been an intensive peacekeeping operation concentrating on building core pillars of the modern state It did not take adequate notice of a variety of shadow sources of power in the Solomon Islands for example logging and business interests that continue to undermine the state s democratic foundations At first RAMSI s statebuilding was neither very responsive to local voices nor to root causes of the conflict but it slowly changed tack to a more responsive form of peacebuilding The craft of peace as learned in the Solomon Islands is about enabling spaces for dialogue that define where the mission should pull back to allow local actors to expand the horizons of their peacebuilding ambition Unmasking Social Science Imperialism Tatah Mentan, 2015-02-02 Contemporary social science is a product of the capitalist world system and Eurocentrism is constitutive of the geoculture of this system characterized by the parochiality of its universalism assumptions about the superiority of Western civilization and imposition as the sole theory of global progress The creation of these structures of knowledge specifically the institutionalization of the social sciences is a phenomenon that is inextricably linked to the very formation and maturation of Europes capitalist world system or imperialism There is therefore nothing that is natural logical or accidental about the institutionalization of the social sciences These Europeanized structures of knowledge are imposed ways of producing knowledge of the world This Eurocentrism of social science has justifiably come under increasingly vigorous scrutiny especially in the period since 1945 with the formal decolonization of Africa Asia and much of the Caribbean This book forcefully argues that if social science is to make any progress in the twenty first century it must overcome its Eurocentric heritage that has distorted social analyses and its capacity to deal with the problems of the contemporary world and embrace other non Western funds of knowledge production
