

The background image is a photograph of a sunset. A large, dark tree branch hangs from the top left, framing the scene. The sun is a bright, glowing orb on the horizon, casting a warm orange and yellow light across the sky and the silhouettes of people in the foreground. The people are standing on a hill, looking out over a valley. The overall mood is peaceful and contemplative.

Shadow Of Imana:

The Shadow of Imana Véronique Tadjo, 2015-03-04 As evidence emerged of the genocide in Rwanda in 1994 the outside world reeled in shock What could have motivated these individual and collective acts of evil In 1998 V ronique Tadjo traveled to Rwanda to try to find out She started with the premise that what happened in Rwanda concerns us all We need to understand Our humanity is in peril The Shadow of Imana is a reminder that humankind the world over is capable of genocide Records of what the author saw sites of massacres corpses weapons dumps are combined with personal stories of traumatized returnees bereaved survivors rape victims orphans lawyers faced with the impossible task of doing justice prisoners But Tadjo s story goes beyond mere reportage of death and cruelty Her poetically wrought account incorporates traditional tales explores the spiritual legacy of the genocide and uncovers a healing vitality as well as a commitment to forgiveness V ronique Tadjo was born in Paris and grew up in C te d Ivoire The Shadow of Imana has been translated from the French by V ronique Wakerley Evil in Contemporary French and Francophone Literature Scott M. Powers, 2010-10-12 Evil remains a primary source of inquiry in contemporary literature of French expression even among its most secular writers In considering French speaking authors from France Belgium the United States the Maghreb and Sub Saharan Africa this collection delineates a rich international perspective on some of the most disturbing events of our time Each essay testifies to the urgency expressed in works of fiction to give an account of human catastrophes from the Shoah and the Rwandan genocide to the terrorist attacks of September 11 and the ongoing oppression of women in Islamic nations Themes underlying this volume include an investigation into the origins of evil its representations in writing and the ethical responsibilities of authors who write on human suffering Contemporary fiction on evil confronts us with fundamental questions Can evil be attributed to intentionality is evil subconscious or is it the result of impersonal forces Which styles of writing are ethically appropriate or effective for depicting evil Can we speak of a veritable poetics of evil shared by contemporary authors When does a literary text on evil become evil In providing informed and nuanced answers to these important questions the scholars engage in crucial theories of psychoanalysis post structuralism and post modernism address a number of issues raised by trauma and genocide studies and draw from critical frameworks in literary theory on testimony the limits of representing the extreme and transgressive writing Perpetrating Selves Clare Bielby, Jeffrey Stevenson Murer, 2018-11-19 This volume explores violent perpetration in diverse forms from an interdisciplinary and transnational perspective From National Socialist perpetration in the museum through post terrorist life writing to embodied performances of perpetration in cosplay the collection draws upon a series of historical and geographical case studies seen through the lens of a variety of texts with a particular focus on the locus of the museum as a technology of sense making In addition to its authored chapters the volume includes three contributed interviews which offer a practice led perspective on the topic Through its wide ranging approach to violence the volume draws attention to the contested and gendered nature of what is constructed as perpetration With a focus on perpetrator subjectivity or the perpetrator self it proposes that we approach perpetration as a form of doing and a doing that is bound up with the doing of one's gendered identity more broadly The work will be of great interest to students and scholars working on violence and perpetration in the fields of History Literary Studies Area Studies Women's and Gender Studies Museum Studies Cultural Studies International Relations and Political Science

War in African Literature Today Ernest Emenyonu, 2008 This issue of African Literature Today is devoted to studies of how African writers as historical witnesses have handled the recreation of war as a cataclysmic phenomenon in various locations on the continent The theoretical question is whether the fictionalized representation demonstrated equitable balance between socio-political messages lessons of war and the sanctity of art aesthetics Contributors have explored the subject from a variety of perspectives panoramic regional national and through comparative studies War has enriched contemporary African literature but at what price to human lives peace and the environment Publisher's description

At the Crossroads Rebecca Jones, 2019 Shortlisted for the SAUK Fage Oliver Prize 2020 Honorable Mention for the ALA First Book Award Scholarship 2021 A path-breaking contribution to the critical literature on African travel writing

The Documentary Imagination in Twentieth-Century French Literature Alison James, 2020-09-03 The Documentary Imagination in Twentieth-Century French Literature identifies a documentary impulse in French literature that emerges at the end of the nineteenth century and culminates in a proliferation of factual writings in the twenty-first Focusing on the period bookended by these two moments it highlights the enduring concern with factual reference in texts that engage either with current events or the historical archive Specifically it considers a set of ideas and practices centered on the conceptualization and use of documents In doing so it contests the widespread narrative that twentieth-century French literature abandons the realist enterprise and argues that writers instead renegotiate the realist legacy outside or at the margins of the fictional space of the novel Analyzing works by authors including Gide Breton Aragon Yourcenar Duras and Modiano the book defines a specific documentary mode of literary representation that records assembles and investigates material traces of reality The document is a textual visual or material piece of evidence repurposed through its visual insertion textual transcription or description within a literary work It is a fact but it also becomes a figure standing for literature's confrontation with the real The documentary imagination involves a fantasy of direct access to a reality that speaks for itself At the same time it gives rise to concrete textual practices that open up new directions for literature by interrogating the construction and interpretation of facts

Sharing the Burden of Stories from the Tutsi Genocide Anna-Marie de Beer, 2020-04-23 This book deals with literary representations of the genocide of the Tutsis in Rwanda The focus is a transnational polyphonic writing project entitled Rwanda crime par devoir de mémoire Rwanda Writing by Duty of Memory undertaken in 1998 by a group of nine African authors This work emphasizes the Afropolitan cultural frame in which the texts were conceived and written Instead of using Western and Eurocentric tropes this volume looks at a so-called minority trauma an African conflict situated in a collectivist society and written about by writers from African origin This approach enables a more situated study in which it becomes possible to draw out the local notions of ubuntu oral testimonies mourning traditions healing and storytelling strategies and the presence of the invisible As these texts are written in French and to date not all of them have been translated into English most academic research has been done in French This book thus assists in connecting English speaking readers not only to a set of texts written in French with significant literary and cultural value but also to francophone trauma studies research

Far from My Father Véronique Tadjo, 2014-04-07 To attain some sort of universal value Véronique Tadjo has said a piece of work has to go deep into the particular in order to reveal our shared humanity In Far from My Father the latest novel from this internationally acclaimed author a woman returns to the Côte d'Ivoire after her father's death She confronts not only unresolved family issues that she had left behind but also questions about her own identity that arise amidst the tensions between traditional and modern worlds The drama that unfolds tells us much about the evolving role of women the legacy of polygamy and the economic challenges of daily life in Abidjan On a more autobiographical level the author depicts a daughter's efforts to come to terms with what she knew and did not know about her father Set against the backdrop of civil strife that has wracked the Côte d'Ivoire since the turn of the century this story shows Tadjo's remarkable ability to inhabit a character's inner world and emotional landscape while creating a narrative of great historic and cultural dimensions

Mediating Violence from Africa George MacLeod, 2023-10 Mediating Violence from Africa explores how African and non African Francophone authors filmmakers editors and scholars have packaged interpreted and filmed the violent histories of post Cold War Francophone Africa This violence much of which unfolded in front of Western television cameras included the use of child soldiers facilitated by the Soviet Union's castoff Kalashnikov rifles the rise of Islamist terrorism in West Africa and the horrific genocide against the Tutsi in Rwanda Through close readings of fictionalized child soldier narratives cinematic representations of Islamist militants genocide survivor testimony and Western scholarship George S MacLeod analyzes the ways Francophone African authors and filmmakers as well as their editors and scholarly critics negotiate the aesthetic political cultural and ethical implications of making these traumatic stories visible MacLeod argues for the need to periodize these productions within a post Cold War framework to emphasize how shifts in post 1989 political discourse are echoed contested or subverted by contemporary Francophone authors filmmakers and Western scholars The questions raised in Mediating Violence from Africa are of vital importance today How the world engages with and responds to stories of recent violence and loss from Africa has profound implications for the affected communities and individuals More broadly in an era in which stories and images of violence from terror attacks to school shootings to police brutality are disseminated almost instantly and with minimal context these theoretical questions have implications for debates surrounding the ethics of representing trauma the politicization of memory and Africa's place in a global as opposed to a postcolonial or Euro African economic and political landscape Decolonizing Translation Kathryn Batchelor, 2014-04-08 The linguistically innovative aspect of Francophone African literature has been recognized and studied from a variety of angles over recent decades yet little attention has been paid to what happens to such literature when it is translated into another language Taking as its corpus all sub Saharan Francophone African texts that have ever been published in English this book explores the ways in which translators approach innovative features such as African language borrowings neologisms and other deliberate manipulations of French depictions of sociolinguistic variation and a variety of types of wordplay The implications of their translation decisions are drawn out with reference to the broader significances that are often accorded to postcolonial literature and earlier critics calls for a decolonized translation practice are explored from both a practical and theoretical angle These findings are used to push towards a detailed investigation of the postcolonial turn in translation studies drawing on the work of key postcolonial theorists such as Homi K Bhabha and Gayatri Spivak This is a timely and incisive critical assessment of contemporary discourses on the ethics and politics of translation After Memory Matthias Schwartz, Nina Weller, Heike Winkel, 2021-06-08 Even seventy five years after the end of World War II the commemorative cultures surrounding the War and the Holocaust in Central Eastern and South Eastern Europe are anything but fixed The fierce debates on how to deal with the past among the newly constituted nation states in these regions have already received much attention by scholars in cultural and memory studies The present volume posits that literature as a medium can help us understand the shifting attitudes towards World War II and the Holocaust in post Communist Europe in recent years These shifts point to new commemorative cultures shaping up after memory Contemporary literary representations of World War II and the Holocaust in Eastern Europe do not merely extend or replace older practices of remembrance and testimony but reflect on these now defunct or superseded narratives New narratives of remembrance are conditioned by a fundamentally new social and political context one that emerged from the devaluation of socialist commemorative rituals and as a response to the loss of private and family memory narratives The volume offers insights into the diverse literatures of Eastern Europe and their ways of depicting the area s contested heritage Rwanda Genocide Stories Nicki Hitchcott, 2015 A critical study of fictional responses by authors inside and outside Rwanda to the 1994 genocide The genocide perpetrated against the Tutsis of Rwanda explained to its children Jean-Marie Vianney Rurangwa, 2025-07-01 In a dialogical clear pedagogical style and a resolutely scientific documented and reasoned approach the author through his spokesman Professor Jean de Dieu Namahire explains the unheard of crime that bereaved Rwanda in 1994 by answering questions about its genesis its execution and its memory A beautiful work that easily instructs any reader and is a high quality didactic tool for parents and teachers Koulsy Lamko postfacer Art from Trauma Rangira Béatrice Gallimore, Gerise Herndon, 2019-08 What is the role of aesthetic expression in responding to discrimination tragedy violence even genocide How does gender shape responses to both literal and structural violence including implicit linguistic familial and cultural violence How might writing or other works of art contribute to healing Art from Trauma Genocide and Healing beyond Rwanda explores the possibility of art as therapeutic capable of implementation by mental health practitioners crafting mental health policy in Rwanda This anthology of scholarly personal and hybrid essays was inspired by scholar and activist Chantal Kalisa 1965 2015 At the commemoration of the nineteenth anniversary of the genocide in Rwanda organized by the Rwandan Embassy in Washington DC Kalisa gave a presentation Who Speaks for the Survivors of the Genocide against Tutsi Kalisa devoted her energy to giving expression to those whose voices had been distorted or silenced The essays in this anthology address how the production and experience of visual dramatic cinematic and musical arts in addition to literary arts contribute to healing from the trauma of mass violence offering preliminary responses to questions like Kalisa's and honoring her by continuing the dialogue in which she participated with such passion sharing the work of scholars and colleagues in genocide studies gender studies and francophone literatures Handbook of Autobiography / Autofiction Martina Wagner-Egelhaaf, 2019-01-29 Autobiographical writings have been a major cultural genre from antiquity to the present time General questions of the literary as e.g. the relation between literature and reality truth and fiction the dependency of author narrator and figure or issues of individual and cultural styles etc. can be studied preeminently in the autobiographical genre Yet the tradition of life writing has in the course of literary history developed manifold types and forms Especially in the globalized age where the media and other technological cultural factors contribute to a rapid transformation of lifestyles autobiographical writing has maintained even enhanced its popularity and importance By conceiving autobiography in a wide sense that includes memoirs diaries self portraits and autofiction as well as media transformations of the genre this three volume handbook offers a comprehensive survey of theoretical approaches systematic aspects and historical developments in an international and interdisciplinary perspective While autobiography is usually considered to be a European tradition special emphasis is placed on the modes of self representation in non Western cultures and on inter and transcultural perspectives of the genre The individual contributions are closely interconnected by a system of cross references The handbook addresses scholars of cultural and literary studies students as well as non academic readers Death, Image, Memory Piotr Cieplak, 2017-08-05 This book explores how photography and documentary film have participated in the representation of the 1994 genocide in Rwanda and its aftermath This in depth analysis of professional and amateur photography and the work of Rwandan and international filmmakers offers an insight into not only the unique ability of images to engage with death memory and the need for evidence but also their helplessness and inadequacy when confronted with the enormity of the event Focusing on a range of films and photographs the book tests notions of truth evidence record and witnessing so often associated with documentary practice in the specific context of Rwanda and the wider representational framework of African conflict and suffering Death Image Memory is an inquiry into the multiple memorial and evidentiary functions of images that transcends the usual investigations into whether photography and documentary film can reliably attest to the occurrence and truth of an event Queen Pokou Véronique Tadjou, 2009-12-19 Tadjou uses her powerful and fertile imagination to rekindle an ancient Akan myth and deliberately sets it ablaze Woven into the historic frame of the founding of the Baoule people by Queen Abraha Pokou in 18th Century Cote d'Ivoire Tadjou explores not only the most intimate of relationships that between mother and child but also the Trans Atlantic Slave Trade Ultimately Tadjou invites us to reflect on the bloody ethnic wars that engulfed West Africa at the end of the 20th century Intimate Enemies Kathryn Batchelor, Claire Bisdorff, 2013-04-30 The concept of translation has become central to postcolonial theory in recent decades This volume draws together reflections by translators authors and academics working across Africa the Caribbean and the Indian Ocean areas where the linguistic legacies of French colonial operations are long lasting and complex The Cambridge Companion to the African Novel F. Abiola Irele, 2009-07-23 Africa's strong tradition of storytelling has long been an expression of an oral narrative culture African writers such as Amos Tutuola Naguib Mahfouz Wole Soyinka and J M Coetzee have adapted these older forms to develop and enhance the genre of the novel in a shift from the oral mode to print Comprehensive in scope these new essays cover the fiction in the European languages from North Africa and Africa south of the Sahara as well as in Arabic They highlight the themes and styles of the African novel through an examination of the works that have either attained canonical status an entire chapter is devoted to the work of Chinua Achebe or can be expected to do so Including a guide to further reading and a chronology this is the ideal starting point for students of African and world literatures Writing and Filming the Genocide of the Tutsis in Rwanda Alexandre Dauge-Roth, 2010-04-27 Writing and Filming the Genocide of the Tutsis in Rwanda Dismembering and Remembering Traumatic History is an innovative work in Francophone and African studies that examines a wide range of responses to the 1994 genocide of the Tutsis in Rwanda From survivor testimonies to novels by African authors to films such as Hotel Rwanda and Sometimes in April the arts of witnessing are varied comprehensive and compelling Alexandre Dauge Roth compares the specific potential and the limits of each medium to craft unique responses to the genocide and instill in us its haunting legacy In the wake of genocide urgent questions arise How do survivors both claim their shared humanity and speak the radically personal and violent experience of their past How do authors and filmmakers make inconceivable trauma accessible to a society that will always remain foreign to their experience How are we transformed by the genocide through these various modes of listening viewing and reading
