Narrative Justice Rafe McGregor, 2018-09-16 This book introduces narrative justice a new theory of aesthetic education the thesis that the cultivation of aesthetic or artistic sensibility can both improve moral character and achieve political justice The author argues that there is a subcategory of narrative representations that provide moral knowledge regardless of their categorisation as fiction or non fiction and which therefore can be employed as a means of moral improvement McGregor applies this narrative ethics to the criminology of inhumanity including both crimes against humanity and terrorism Expanding on the methodology of narrative criminology he demonstrates that narrative representations can be employed to evaluate responsibility for inhumanity to understand the psychology of inhumanity and to undermine inhumanity and are thus a means to the end of opposing injustice He concludes that the cultivation of narrative sensibility is an important tool for both moral improvement and political justice

The State of Race Sze Wei Ang, 2019-06-14 Contemporary ideas about race are often assumed to be products of specific locales and histories yet we find versions of the same ideas about race across countries and cultures How can we account for this paradox In The State of Race Sze Wei Ang argues that globalization has led to new ways of using racial stereotypes as shorthand for complex social relations in disparate national contexts Literature then provides a key to understanding these labels and the role that race has played in shoring up state power since World War II Ang contends that in an era marked by global economic dependence the nation state has only become more rather than less central to organizing social life via tropes of race that cast human and cultural differences in morally charged terms Focusing on a series of Asian American and Malaysian texts Ang tracks the significance of two figures in particular the model minority and the communist spy Appearing in novels politics and popular culture these stereotypes anchor powerful narratives about race global capital and state sovereignty In exploring the United States and Malaysia two countries that seem to not have much in common Ang reveals how they share very similar ways of conceptualizing race and sheds light on an emerging global story of value

Etgar Keret's Literature and the Ethos of Coping with Holocaust Remembrance Yael Seliger, 2024-01-16 This book highlights the need for a shift from thinking in terms of memories of traumatic events to changeable modes of remembrance The call for a fundamental change in approaches to commemorative remembrance is exemplified in literature written by the internationally acclaimed writer Etgar Keret Considered the most influential Israeli voice of his generation Keret s storytelling is in congruence with postmodern thinking Through transferring remembrance of the Holocaust from stagnant Holocaust commemoration museums and commemorative ceremonies to unconventional settings such as youngsters playing soccer or being forced to venture outdoors in a COVID 19 pandemic environment Keret's storytelling ushers in a unique approach to coping with remembrance of historical catastrophes The book is a valuable resource for students and scholars interested in pursuing the subjects of Etgar Keret's artistry and literature written in a post modern post Holocaust milieu about personal and collective traumatic remembrance Visions of Alterity Elke D'hoker,2021-11-15 Visions of Alterity Representation in the Works of John Banville offers detailed and original readings of the work of the Irish author John Banville one of the foremost figures in contemporary European literature It investigates one of the fundamental concerns of Banville's novels mediating the gap between subject and object or self and world in representation By drawing on the rich history of the problem of representation in literature philosophy and literary theory this study provides a thorough insight into the rich philosophical and intertextual dimension of Banville's fiction In close textual analyses of Banville's most important novels it maps out a thematic development that moves from an interest in the epistemological and aesthetic representation of the world in scientific theories over a concern with the ethical dimension of representations to an exploration of self representation and identity What remains constant throughout these different perspectives is the disruption of representations by brief but haunting glimpses of otherness In tracing these different visions of alterity in Banville's solipsistic literary world this study offers a better understanding of his insistent and thought provoking exploration of what it means to be human Religion and Cultural Studies Susan L. Mizruchi,2021-01-12 Americans have never been more religious than they are now at the dawn of the twenty first century By all reports attendance rates at traditional places of worship are high and rising the influx of new immigrant religions has revitalized standard faiths and drawn in those who had strayed from them Popular television shows like The Simpsons feature characters who go to church every Sunday and speak to God special events like the 1998 outdoor mass in Worcester Massachusetts for a comatose girl believed to have miraculous powers attract thousands of people This collection is both part of this ferment and an intellectual reflection upon it Religion and Cultural Studies features essays by major scholars from the fields of anthropology history literary criticism and religion in order to enrich critical discourse about religion and culture Despite the variety of disciplines represented by this group of scholars and the variety of cultures explored in their essays from fifteenth century Flemish asceticism and nineteenth century African American spiritualism to Russian blood libel trials and Alien Abduction Reports in the twentieth century their common ground is the question of religion's place in current American academic analysis and more broadly in American life today The volume's range of vocabulary and subject matter is aimed at vitalizing scholarly interest in the field of religion and cultural studies and deepening intellectual inquiry in the contemporary academy The contributors are Eytan Bercovitch Karen McCarthy Brown Gillian Feeley Harnik Richard Wightman Fox Jenny Franchot Giles Gunn Geoffrey Galt Harpham Bruce B Lawrence Jack Miles Susan L Mizruchi and

Jonathan Z Smith     Writing Wrongs Pramod K. Nayar,2014-03-21 This book examines the cultural apparatus of Human Rights in India today It unravels discourses of victimhood oppression suffering and witnessing through a study of autobiographies memoirs reportage and media coverage and documentaries Moving across multiple media and genres for their representations of Dalits riot victims prisoners abused and abandoned women and children examining the formal properties of victim texts for their documentation of trauma and analyzing the role of the sympathetic imagination Writing Wrongs inaugurates a whole new field in literary cultural studies by focusing on the narratives that build the culture of Human Rights It argues for taking this cultural apparatus as essential to the political and legal dimensions of Human Rights The book emphasizes the need for an ethical turn to literary cultural studies and a cultural turn to Human Rights studies arguing that a public culture of Human Rights has a key role to play in revitalizing civil society and its institutions It will be of interest to Human Rights scholars and activists and those in political science sociology literary and cultural studies narrative theory and psychology     Theology and Literature: Rethinking Reader Responsibility G. Ortiz,C. Joseph,2006-05-12 By examining theological and literary narratives through an engagement with well known theorists of reading and religion this collection of essays international in perspective brings together varied refreshing and provocative responses to well established literary and critical theories     Fiction and the Philosophy of Happiness Brian Michael Norton,2012-10-18 Fiction and the Philosophy of Happiness explores the novel s participation in eighteenth century inquiries after happiness an ancient ethical project that acquired new urgency with the rise of subjective models of wellbeing in early modern and Enlightenment Europe Combining archival research on treatises on happiness with illuminating readings of Samuel Johnson Laurence Sterne Denis Diderot Jean Jacques Rousseau William Godwin and Mary Hays Brian Michael Norton s innovative study asks us to see the novel itself as a key instrument of Enlightenment ethics His centralargument is that the novel form provided a uniquely valuable tool for thinking about the nature and challenges of modern happiness whereas treatises sought to theorize the conditions that made happiness possible in general eighteenth century fiction excelled at interrogating the problem on the level of the particular in the details of a single individual s psychology and unique circumstances Fiction and the Philosophy of Happiness demonstrates further that through their fine tuned attention to subjectivity and social context these writers called into question some cherished and time honored assumptions about the good life happiness is in one s power virtue is the exclusive path to happiness only vice can make us miserable This elegant and richly interdisciplinary book offers a new understanding of the cultural work the eighteenth century novel performed as well as an original interpretation of the Enlightenment s ethical legacy     Questioning Scotland E. Bell,2004-09-20 Questioning Scotland considers the ways in which Scottish Literature has often been discussed in parochial essentialist terms It suggests that Scottish literary studies must now expand its conceptual boundaries in order to account for changes taking place at wider European and global levels It is literary based but also scrutinizes the methodological construction process of national traditions Drawing on wider theories of postmodernism post nationalism and globalism it will help map the changing nature of national studies and Scottish studies in particular

Invoking Hope Phillip E. Wegner, 2020-06-30 An appeal for the importance of theory utopia and close consideration of our contemporary dark times What does any particular theory allow us to do What is the value of doing so And who benefits In Invoking Hope Phillip E Wegner argues for the undiminished importance of the practices of theory utopia and a deep and critical reading of our current situation of what Bertolt Brecht refers to as finsternen Zeiten or dark times Invoking Hope was written in response to three events that occurred in 2016 the five hundredth anniversary of the publication of Thomas More s Utopia the one hundredth anniversary of the founding text in theory Ferdinand de Saussure s Course in General Linguistics and the rise of the right wing populism that culminated in the election of Donald Trump Wegner offers original readings of major interventions in theory alongside dazzling utopian imaginaries developed from classical Greece to our global present from Theodor Adorno Ernst Bloch Alain Badiou Jacques Derrida Fredric Jameson Sarah Ahmed Susan Buck Morss and Jacques Lacan to such works as Plato s Republic W E B Du Bois s John Brown Isak Dinesen s Babette s Feast Kim Stanley Robinson s 2312 and more Wegner comments on an expansive array of modernist and contemporary literature film theory and popular culture With Invoking Hope Wegner provides an innovative lens for considering the rise of right wing populism and the current crisis in democracy He discusses challenges in the humanities and higher education and develops strategies of creative critical reading and hope against the grain of current trends in scholarship

Naming Evil, Judging Evil Ruth W. Grant, 2008-09-15 Is it more dangerous to call something evil or not to This fundamental question deeply divides those who fear that the term oversimplifies grave problems and those who worry that to effectively address such issues as terrorism and genocide we must first acknowledge them as evil Recognizing that the way we approach this dilemma can significantly affect both the harm we suffer and the suffering we inflict a distinguished group of contributors engages in the debate with this series of timely and original essays Drawing on Western conceptions of evil from the Middle Ages to the present these pieces demonstrate that while it may not be possible to definitively settle moral questions we are still able and in fact are obligated to make moral arguments and judgments Using a wide variety of approaches the authors raise tough questions Why is so much evil perpetrated in the name of good Could evil ever be eradicated How can liberal democratic politics help us strike a balance between the need to pass judgment and the need to remain tolerant Their insightful answers exemplify how the sometimes rarefied worlds of political theory philosophy theology and history can illuminate pressing contemporary concerns

National Plots Andrea Cabajsky, Brett Josef Grubisic, 2010-10-04 Fiction that reconsiders challenges reshapes and or upholds national narratives of history has long been an integral aspect of Canadian literature Works by writers of historical fiction from early practitioners such as John Richardson to contemporary figures such as Alice Munro and George Elliott Clarke propose new views and understandings of Canadian history and individual relationships to it Critical evaluation of these works sheds light on the complexity of these depictions The contributors in National Plots Historical Fiction and Changing Ideas of Canada critically examine texts with subject matter ranging from George Vancouver's west coast explorations to the eradication of the Beothuk in Newfoundland Reflecting diverse methodologies and theoretical approaches the essays seek to explicate depictions of the historical in individual texts and to explore larger questions relating to historical fiction as a genre with complex and divergent political motivations and goals Although the topics of the essays vary widely as a whole the collection raises and answers questions about the significance of the roles historical fiction has played within Canadian culture for nearly two centuries

Reading Unruly Zahi Zalloua, 2014-05-01 Drawing on literary theory and canonical French literature Reading Unruly examines unruliness as both an aesthetic category and a mode of reading conceived as ethical response Zahi Zalloua argues that when faced with an unruly work of art readers confront an ethical double bind hesitating then between the two conflicting injunctions of either thematizing making sense of the literary work or attending to its aesthetic alterity or unreadability Creatively hesitating between incommensurable demands to interpret but not to translate back into familiar terms ethical readers are invited to cultivate an appreciation for the unruly to curb the desire for hermeneutic mastery without simultaneously renouncing meaning or the interpretive endeavor as such Examining French texts from Montaigne's sixteenth century Essays to Diderot's fictional dialogue Rameau's Nephew and Baudelaire's prose poems The Spleen of Paris to the more recent works of Jean Paul Sartre's Nausea Alain Robbe Grillet's Jealousy and Marguerite Duras's The Ravishing of Lol Stein Reading Unruly demonstrates that in such an approach to literature and theory reading itself becomes a desire for more an ethical and aesthetic desire to prolong rather than to arrest the act of interpretation

Reason After Its Eclipse Martin Jay, 2016-04-21 Tackles a question as old as Plato and still pressing today What is reason and what roles does and should it have in human endeavor The eminent intellectual historian Martin Jay surveys Western ideas of reason particularly in German philosophy from Kant to Habermas

Vigilant Memory R. Clifton Spargo, 2006-09-01 Vigilant Memory focuses on the particular role of Emmanuel Levinas's thought in reasserting the ethical parameters for poststructuralist criticism in the aftermath of the Holocaust More than simply situating Levinas's ethics within the larger context of his philosophy R Clifton Spargo offers a new explanation of its significance in relation to history In critical readings of the limits and also the heretofore untapped possibilities of Levinasian ethics Spargo explores the impact of the Holocaust on Levinas's various figures of injustice while examining the place of mourning the bad conscience the victim and the stranger neighbor as they appear in Levinas's work Ultimately Spargo ranges beyond Levinas's explicit philosophical or implicit political positions to calculate the necessary function of the memory of injustice in our cultural and political discourses on the characteristics of a just society In this original and magisterial study Spargo uses Levinas's work to approach our understanding of the suffering and death of others and in doing so reintroduces an essential ethical element to the reading of literature culture and everyday life

The Premodern Condition Bruce Holsinger, 2005-12 Bruce Holsinger identifies and explains an affinity for medievalism and medieval studies among the leading figures of critical theory His book contains original essays by Bataille and Bourdieu translated into English that testify to the strange persistence of medievalisms in French postwar writings
