Lord Jim After The Truth:

Lord Jim Ross C. Murfin, 1992 A tale of dramatic experiences in far away places and of the ongoing fight between the primitive and the civilized Lord Jim 1900 is one of Joseph Conrad's most highly regarded works His forceful style and perceptive treatment of very modern problems have earned him the respect and admiration of both the general reader and writers such as William Faulkner and Graham Greene Lord Jim After the Truth is only the second critical study devoted entirely to Conrad's most far flung and disparate novel It deftly combines a fascinating introduction to biographical and historical background a fast paced survey of major critical response chapters on the novel's significances and a clearly organized and carefully developed reading of Lord Jim Murfin argues that because Conrad's novel creates conditions that militate against one central viewpoint it cannot be declared optimistic or nihilistic any more than Jim can be called a hero or a failure Lord Jim After the Truth holds our constant interest in these issues by aiming a multifaceted interpretation towards reader response A strong chronology and annotated bibliography make it an essential reference tool for all fans of Lord Jim

The Cambridge Companion to Joseph Conrad J. H. Stape, 1996-06-27 The Cambridge Companion to Joseph Conrad offers a wide ranging introduction to the fiction of Joseph Conrad one of the most influential novelists of the twentieth century Through a series of essays by leading Conrad scholars aimed at both students and the general reader the volume stimulates an informed appreciation of Conrad's work based on an understanding of his cultural and historical situations and fictional techniques A chronology and overview of Conrad's life precede chapters that explore significant issues in his major writings and deal in depth with individual works These are followed by discussions of the special nature of Conrad's narrative techniques his complex relationships with late Victorian imperialism and with literary Modernism and his influence on other writers and artists Each essay provides guidance to further reading and a concluding chapter surveys the body of Conrad criticism

Heidegger on Literature, Poetry, and Education after the "Turn" James M. Magrini, Elias Schwieler, 2017-08-07 Offering new and original readings of literature poetry and education as interpreted through the conceptual lens of Heidegger's later philosophy of the Turn this book helps readers understand Heidegger's later thought and presents new takes on how to engage the themes that emerged from his later writing Suggesting novel ways to consider Heidegger's ideas on literature poetry and education Magrini and Schwieler provide a deep understanding of the Turn a topic not often explored in contemporary Heideggerian scholarship Their inter and extra disciplinary postmodern approaches offer a nuanced examination taking into account Heidegger's controversial place in history and filling a gap in educational research

Conrad's Fiction as Critical Discourse Richard Ambrosini, 1991-07-26 Joseph Conrad's comments about his works have commonly been dismissed as theoretically unsophisticated while the critical notions of James Woolf and Joyce have come to shape our understanding of the modern novel Richard Ambrosini's study of Conrad's Fiction as Critical Discourse makes an original claim for the importance of his theoretical ideas as they are formed tested and eventually redefined in Heart of Darkness and Lord Jim Setting the narrator's discourse in these tales in the context of the dynamic interplay of Conrad's fictional with his non-fictional writings and of the transformations in his narrative forms Ambrosini defines Conrad's view of fiction and the artistic ideal underlying his commitment as a writer in a new and challenging way Conrad's innovatory techniques as a novelist are shown in the continuity of his theoretical enterprise from the early search for an artistic prose and a personal novel form to the later dislocations of perspective achieved by manipulation of conventions drawn from popular fiction This reassessment of Conrad's critical thought offers a new perspective on the transition from the Victorian novel to contemporary fiction Intimations of Joseph Conrad G.W. Stephen

Joseph Conrad E M Forster D H Lawrence Henry James and Edith Wharton Robert Burden shows how travel enabled a new consciousness of mobility and borders during the modernist period For these authors Burden suggests travel becomes a narrative paradigm and dominant trope by which they explore questions of identity and otherness related to deep seated concerns with the crisis of national cultural identity He pays particular attention to the important distinction between travel and tourism at the same time that he attends to the slippage between seeing and sightseeing between the local character and the stereotype between art and kitsch and between older and newer ways of storytelling in the representational crisis of modernism Burden argues that the greater awareness of cultural difference that characterizes both the travel writing and fiction of these expatriate writers became a defining feature of literary modernism resulting in a consciousness of cultural difference that challenged the ethnographic project of empire

The Challenge of Bewilderment Paul B. Armstrong, 2018-03-15 The Challenge of Bewilderment treats the epistemology of representation in major works by Henry James Joseph Conrad and Ford Madox Ford attempting to explain how the novel turned away from its traditional concern with realistic representation and toward self consciousness about the relation between knowing and narration Paul B Armstrong here addresses the pivotal thematic experience of bewilderment an experience that challenges the reader's very sense of reality and that shows it to have no more certainty or stability than an interpretative construct Through readings of The Sacred Fount and The Ambassadors by James Lord Jim and Nostromo by Conrad and The Good Soldier and Parade's End by Ford Armstrong examines how each writer dramatizes his understanding of the act of knowing Armstrong demonstrates how the novelists attitudes toward the process of knowing inform experiments with representation through which they thematize the relation between the understanding of a fictional world and everyday habits of perception Finally he considers how these experiments with the strategies of narration produce a heightened awareness of the process of interpretation Redirections in Critical Theory Bernard McGuirk,2002-09-11 The essays in Redirections in Critical Theory re analyse major figures and discussions in critical theory asking questions often neglected or overlooked by a readership ever in pursuit of new theoretical positions Contributors look at the work of major theorists and writers including William Empson Deleuze Guattari Chekov and Jameson Concepts which have been destabilized in modern critical theory such as truth self action and history are reassessed through their work shedding new light on many important issues in critical studies today Redirections in Critical Theory brings together established critics and new names in the field of theory It will be an important text for students of literature critical theory and philosophy The Living Age ,1924

Acheraïou,2009-10-21 Joseph Conrad and the Reader is the first book fully devoted to Conrad s relation to the reader visual theory and authorship This challenging study proposes new approaches to modern literary criticism and deftly examines the limits of deconstructionist theories introducing groundbreaking new theoretical concepts of reading and reception Burning Down The House Rosemary Marangoly George,2019-04-09 This book views domesticity through multiple frames and surveys the rhetoric and practices of domestication in contemporary cultures It also examines the consequences and costs of homemaking in various geographic and textual locations The Longest Journey Eric Tagliocozzo,2013-04-25 The pilgrimage to Mecca or Hajj has been a yearly phenomenon of great importance in Muslim lands for well over one thousand years Each year millions of pilgrims from throughout the Dar al Islam or Islamic world stretching from Morocco east to Indonesia make the trip to Mecca as one of the five pillars of their faith By the end of the nineteenth century and the beginning of the twentieth fully half of all pilgrims making the journey in any given year could come from Southeast Asia The Longest Journey spanning eleven modern nation states and seven centuries is the first book to offer a history of the Hajj from one of Islam s largest and most important regions Joseph Conrad D C R A Goonetilleke,1990-11-19 Joseph Conrad Among the Anarchists David Mulry,2016-10-07 This book looks at the inception composition and 1907 publication of The Secret Agent one of Joseph Conrad's most highly regarded political novels and a core text of literary modernism David Mulry examines the development and revisions of the novel through the stages of the holograph manuscript first as a short story then as a serialized sensation fiction in Ridgway's Militant Weekly for the American market before it was extensively revised and published in novel form Presciently anticipating the climate of modern terror Conrad's text responds to the failed Greenwich Bombing the first anarchist atrocity to occur on English soil This book charts its historical and cultural milieu via press and anarchist accounts of the bombing to place Conrad foremost among the dynamite fiction of revolutionary anarchism and terrorism in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries Interactive Fictions Yael Halevi-Wise, 2003-09-30 Arguing that genre must play a role in our study of narrative fiction this tour of the novel examines interactive storytelling scenes in which characters argue about how to tell a tale that meets their respective social and aesthetic expectations Through intense readings of interactive storytelling scenes in works spanning the 17th through 20th centuries Halevi Wise demonstrates how dramatized arguments about storytelling open a window on social and generic dilemmas affecting the narrative of each novel at the time of its composition Examined in detail are Cervantes' Don Quixote Sterne's Tristram Shandy Austen's Northanger Abbey Dickens's Little Dorrit Conrad's Lord Jim Yehoshua's Mr Mani and Esquivel Like Water for Chocolate Redressing an imbalance between sociological approaches that displace aesthetic considerations and aesthetic analyses that bracket cultural phenomena the author shows why both genre and culture must be taken into account when we analyze the formation and reception of a narrative Each interactive storytelling event illustrates how social and aesthetic interests compete and reinvent themselves within their framing texts and those texts' respective national and historical contexts Just as social interactions cannot be indefinitely displaced in the study of narrative fiction genre cannot be ignored in the study of identity politics What emerges from this unique examination is a postmodern poetics of the novel that takes genre and history into account
