Magic Action Cut Outs:

Foundations of the Mind Evgenii Vasil'evich Subbotskiĭ, 1993 In the wake of Jean Piaget's work on children's understanding of reality it is generally accepted that by age two children assume that an object hidden in a box will remain there unchanged until someone tampers with it Eugene Subbotsky persuasively demonstrates that many children and some adults will often accept mysterious disappearances and creations perceiving them not as tricks or illusions but as actual occurrences His analysis clearly shows that alongside our everyday belief in object permanence we also have a set of quasi-magical beliefs that can be activated by appropriate situations and behaviors The acceptability of these beliefs will vary from culture to culture and will be widespread among preliterate peoples but less obvious in advanced industrial countries The author a Russian psychologist draws on his own extensive research and examines other taken-for-granted concepts such as the distinction between animate and inanimate Foundations of the Mind amply illustrated with experimental material has enormous implications for the study of both child development and the psychology of human beliefs It attacks our complacent and often culturally biased faith in the nature of reality and as such will become required reading for all psychologists

Duranti, 1992-05-21 The last decade has seen a fundamental rethinking of the concept of context Rather than functioning solely as a constraint on linguistic performance context is now also analysed as a product of language use In this new perspective language and context are seen as interactively achieved phenomena rather than predefined sets of forms and contents The essays in this collection written by many of the leading figures in the social sciences critically reexamine the concept of context from a variety of different angles and propose new ways of thinking about it with reference to specific human activities such as face-to-face interaction radio talk medical diagnosis political encounters and socialisation practices Each essay is prefaced by an introduction by the editors which provides relevant theoretical and methodological background and demonstrates its relation to other essays in the volume The editors' general introduction provides a lucid overview of the issues currently debated Rethinking Context will be required reading for everyone working within the fields of linguistic anthropology sociolinguistics discourse analysis pragmatics conversation analysis and the sociology of language The

The Films of Fritz Lang Tom Gunning, 2019-07-25 In this volume Tom Gunning examines the films of Fritz Lang not only as a stylistically coherent body of work but as an attempt to portray the modern world through cinema The world of modernity in which systems replace individuals is conveyed by Lang's mastery of cinematic set design composition and editing Lang presents not only a decades long vision of cinematic narrative which can be compared to that of Alfred Hitchcock or Jean Renoir but a view of modernity that relates strongly to the ideas of Adorno Brecht Benjamin and Kracauer From the sweeping allegorical films of the 20s to the chilly and abstract thrillers of the 50s Lang's films Gunning claims are among the most precious records of the twentieth century The Films of Fritz Lang immeasurably enriches our understanding of a great artist and in so doing reimagines what a film artist is an author who fades away even in being recognised and interpreted an enigmatic figure at the junction of aesthetics history biography and theory
