The Mediterranean Russell King,Lindsay Proudfoot,Bernard Smith,2014-02-25 This book addresses contemporary geographical issues in the Mediterranean Basin from a perspective that recognizes the physical characteristics and cultural interactions which link the different Mediterranean states as a recognisable geographic entity Sixteen chapters each deal with a major geographical issue currently facing the Mediterranean each providing an invaluable summary of the extensive but widely dispersed literature relating to Mediterranean issues Particular emphasis is placed on the interaction between society and environment in terms of environmental management differential regional development and its associated political demographic cultural and economic tensions

The Textual Life of Savants Gisli Pálsson, 2013-11-26 First Published in 1995 This book focuses on the role and significance of texts and textualism for anthropology and ethnography and more specifically the understanding of particular aspects of Icelandic society and history The discussion is centred on a range of issues moving between general social theory and ethnographic details the immediate present and the distant past language and production fieldwork and the act of writing texts sagas novels and ethnographies and real life In each case however it draws attention to what may be called a pragmatist approach a concern with action and agency as they constitute and are constituted by social life Such an approach I hold is an important and timely remedy to current textualism the trendy theoretical tradition often described as the linguistic turn

Italy Roland Sarti, 2009 Exploring more than 500 years of the country's history Italy provides readers interested in modern Italy or European history with a greater understanding of Italy's past from the Renaissance to the present This guide presents the milestones in Italy's history in an interesting and readable way

Centuries of Child Labour Marjatta Rahikainen, 2017-07-05 Centuries of Child Labour argues that some of the conventional wisdom on child labour can be qualified and even questioned if we turn from the experiences of leading 19th century countries such as Britain and France to economically and politically weaker countries of Northern Europe Taking a long term perspective from the seventeenth to the twentieth century Marjatta Rahikainen conveys a richer sense of child labour by comparing the experiences of the Northern European Scandinavian periphery to the paradigmatic cases of Britain and France

Catastrophe and Creation K. Elkhalm Friedmann, 2014-03-18 First Published in 1992 This is a study of what happened to Kongo society and culture at the turn of the 20th century when the area was brutally violated and colonized by Europeans This book is the outcome of a project called Society and Culture in Crisis whereby the author found that evolution was a continuous more or less unbroken process only at the global system level whereas repeated rises and falls took place at the local level This study closely looks at the declining development process in the Lower Congo and calls to the effects of colonization on society and culture

Unstructuring Chinese Society Allen Chun, 2004-08-02 Unstructuring Chinese Society is a culmination of long term field work and archival research that challenges existing theories of social organisation and cultural change The book makes new sense of historical contradictions political conflicts and deep seated social transformations that have underlined the experience of colonial rule and the practices of local institutions in Hong Kong over the past century By focusing on the ongoing interactions of discourse practices and global local relations in cultural terms Unstructuring Chinese Society puts forth a fresh perspective in the field of historical anthropology while addressing ongoing critical concerns in postcolonial theory and our understanding of tradition and modernity The Return of Ainu Katarina Sjoberg,2013-10-31 First Published in 1993 This book is the outcome of a project called Intercultural Relations in Japan with Special Reference to the Integration of the Ainu The author s main concern is the phenomenon called Fourth World Populations After having read a book entitled Aiona by the French linguist Pierre Naert she decided to investigate further the Ainu people and their integration into the Japanese nation state Islamic Law on Peasant Usufruct in Ottoman Syria Sabrina Joseph,2012-05-08 Drawing on Hanafi legal texts from Ottoman Syria between the 17th and early 19th centuries this book examines how jurists balanced the rights and obligations of tenants and landlords on state and waqf lands contributing in the process to the dynamism of the law and the adaptability and longevity of the Ottoman land system The Magical Body Richard Eves,2014-01-09 An intriguing exploration of the role and significance of the body in the world of a Pacific Islands People the Lelet of New Ireland Papua New Guinea In vivid ethnographic detail the monograph captures the fluidity and complexity of Lelet conceptions of corporeality and their significance to identity as they encounter the influences of modernity in the form of colonialism Christianity and cash cropping The author examines the importance of the body to constructions of identity and difference and its role in the constitution of place and space The book provides a richly detailed ethnographic study of magical belief and the body whilst paying particular attention to the polyvalent meanings of bodily images and metaphors as they are used in numerous contexts of magic Androgynous Objects Maureen A. MacKenzie,2019-01-25 Androgynous Objects explores the way meaning is encoded in material culture by focusing on the androgynous symbolism of the looped string bag or bilum of the Telefol people of Central New Guinea The web of meanings woven into the bag is shown to extend beyond women s lives and bodies It is open to manipulation and reformation in a variety of contexts and is used by both Telefol women and men to explore and so explain the complexities and ambiguities inherent in their social life The Hard People Patrick Heady,2013-12-19 Heady draws on both participant observation and interviews with older informants to trace the effects of recent exogenous technological and institutional changes and the way local people have responded to them His findings relate to such themes of recent history as nationalism regionalism and anti clericalism and contribute to the theoretical debate on the relevance of structuralist anthropology to European societies Mayan People Within and Beyond Boundaries Peter Hervik,1999 First Published in 2003 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company Savage Money C.A. Gregory,2005-08-02 This volume is not simply another general theory of world system It is a theoretically and ethnographically informed collection of essays which opens up new questions through an examination of concrete cases covering global and local questions of political economy Dresden Elizabeth A. Ten Dyke,2014-05-22 The collapse of the German Democratic Republic prompted the East Germans to confront their personal cultural and international past This study of the Wende the turn of events in 1989 is based on ethnographic and anthropological research conducted in the early 1990s Liz Ten Dyke has developed a finely nuanced portrait of the city and its residents as they were caught up in the economic political and social turmoil that characterized the immediate post socialist period By weaving together scholarly research oral history and ethnographic excursions or narratives of salient experiences this book makes an important contribution to the study of social aspects of the past Moving beyond paradigms presently shaping the study of memory it details the paradoxes and contradictions inherent in remembering making manifest the link between such contradictions and larger symbolic and political economic contexts In this way the author situates the study of memory in history and shows that it is the mutability of memory in conjunction with the uncertainty of history that render the past a dynamic and powerful force in human society

Worlds of Food Kevin Morgan, Terry Marsden, Jonathan Murdoch, 2006-01-12 From farm to fork the conventional food chain is under enormous pressure to respond to a whole series of new challenges food scares in rich countries food security concerns in poor countries and a burgeoning problem of obesity in all countries As more and more people demand to know where their food comes from and how it is produced issues of place power and provenance assume increasing significance for producers consumers and regulators challenging the corporate forces that shape the placeless foodscape Far from being confined to niche products questions about the origins of food are also surfacing in the conventional sector where labelling has become a major political issue Drawing on theories of multi level governance three leading scholars in the field explore the geo politics of the food chain in different spatial arenas the World Trade Organization where free trade principles clash with fair trade concerns in the debate about agricultural reform the European Union where producers are under pressure from environmentalists for a more traceable and sustainable food system and the US where there is a striking contradiction between the rhetoric of free markets and the reality of a heavily subsidised farming sector To understand the local impact of these global trends the authors explore three different regional worlds of food the traditional world of localised quality in Tuscany the peripheral world of commodity production in Wales and the frontier world of agri business in California
