stories which like all fables promote cultural values and respect among generations Quests for Fire ,2012-09-04 It is hard to imagine life without fire Heat light food where would we be without these essentials Although we do not rely on fire as much today as in times past nor have as much direct contact with it fire was often crucial to survival when the stories in this collection were first told People often told stories about it what their lives were like without fire how they first acquired it and how it changed their lives This collection of nine traditional tales retold by Jon C Stott draws from eight different countries Learn how Maui stole fire twice New Zealand how Coyote and his friends captured fire United States how Opossum brought fire back to the people Mexico and how Vasilisa used the Baba Yaga s fire Russia The main characters of these stories differ in many aspects Some are well known heroes and some are insignificant members of their groups Some made their quests for fire alone and some worked with others Some were brave and unselfish and some sought personal glory But all knew that fire was essential for their people Camping with Kids Jayne Seagrave,2004 Children have certainly altered my camping life writes Jayne Seagrave in this latest addition to her popular camping series She rises to the challenge wonderfully however and with this detailed guide in hand so will many other camping enthusiasts who feel daunted by the prospect of camping with kids Seagrave covers it all from camping while pregnant to camping with pre teens and all age brackets in between For this guide she has chosen her favourite family oriented government owned campgrounds in B C as well as a small selection in Alberta Each entry provides historical environmental and recreational information As always Seagrave offers candid first hand experiences and practical tips on what to bring what to expect at each campground how to avoid potential hazards and the ins and outs of the reservation system With over 20 000 fans who have bought her camping books and a range of media personnel who have dubbed her their experts Jayne may know more about B C campgrounds than any other mother in the province Canadian Books in Print. Author and Title Index ,1975 Canadian Wildlife Activity Book Tom Hunter,2015-03-23 Tom Hunter s outstanding artwork and clever brainteasers provide entertainment and instruction for children parents and teachers Canada is home to hundreds of species of amphibians reptiles and insects as well as over 1 200 different kinds of larger animals birds fish and mammals Hunter provides an introduction to many of these species Canadian Wildlife Activity Book Volume Two contains over 200 detailed illustrations ranging from Rocky Mountain bighorn sheep to leopard frogs which help children identify and appreciate their magnificent wildlife heritage The Canadian Library Association calls this a splendid activity book drawings are accurate and the animals look as if they could step off the page invaluable on a family camping holiday Nature's Circle Robert James Challenger,2011-03-01 This is Robert James Challenger s fifth collection of beautifully illustrated easy to read short stories that impart practical moral lessons about life in today s world As in Aesop s fables and First Nations legends animals birds and insects are the ones who do the teaching Mother Eagle helps her daughter overcome her sibling rivalry An encounter with Mosquito teaches a little girl that revenge doesn t make a person feel any better Little Orca learns from his grandfather that being grown up has very little to do with how big you are Exploring a range of contemporary issues including bullying and dealing with the death of loved ones these stories are relevant and readable As appealing to parents and teachers as they are to children they are a wonderful way to convey values of respect cooperation and kindness Ecologies of the Heart E. N. Anderson, 1996-03-28 There is much we can learn about conservation from native peoples says Gene Anderson While the advanced nations of the West have failed to control overfishing deforestation soil erosion pollution and a host of other environmental problems many traditional peoples manage their natural resources quite successfully And if some traditional peoples mismanage the environment the irrational value some place on rhino horn for instance has left this species endangered the fact remains that most have found ways to introduce sound ecological management into their daily lives Why have they succeeded while we have failed In Ecologies of the Heart Gene Anderson reveals how religion and other folk beliefs help pre industrial peoples control and protect their resources Equally important he offers much insight into why our own environmental policies have failed and what we can do to better manage our resources A cultural ecologist Gene Anderson has spent his life exploring the ways in which different groups of people manage the environment and he has lived for years in fishing communities in Hong Kong Malaysia Singapore Tahiti and British Columbia as well as in a Mayan farmtown in south Mexico where he has studied fisheries farming and forest management He has concluded that all traditional societies that have managed resources well over time have done so in part through religion by the use of emotionally powerful cultural symbols that reinforce particular resource management strategies Moreover he argues that these religious beliefs while seeming unscientific if not irrational at first glance are actually based on long observation of nature To illustrate this insight he includes many fascinating portraits of native life He offers for instance an intriguing discussion of the Chinese belief system known as Feng Shui wind and water and tells of meeting villagers in remote areas of Hong Kong s New Territories who assert that dragons live in the mountains and that to disturb them by cutting too sharply into the rock surface would cause floods and landslides which in fact it does He describes the Tlingit Indians of the Pacific Northwest who before they strip bark from the great cedar trees make elaborate apologies to spirits they believe live inside the trees assuring the spirits that they take only what is necessary And we read of the Maya of southern Mexico who speak of the lords of the Forest and the Animals who punish those who take more from the land or the rivers than they need These beliefs work in part because they are based on long observation of nature but also and equally important because they are incorporated into a larger cosmology so that people have a strong emotional investment in them And conversely Anderson argues that our environmental programs often fail because we have not found a way to engage our emotions in conservation practices Folk beliefs are often dismissed as irrational superstitions Yet as Anderson shows these beliefs do more to protect the environment than modern science does in the West Full of insights Ecologies of the Heart mixes anthropology with ecology and psychology traditional myth and folklore with informed discussions of conservation efforts in industrial society to reveal a strikingly new approach to our current environmental crises Canadian Books in Print 2002 Marian Butler,2002-02
