Sexuality and the Reading Encounter Emma Wilson, 1996 Can fictions of desire determine real pleasures Do texts regulate the performance of our sexual identities In Sexuality and the Reading Encounter Emma Wilson offers a new account of the intimate relations between reading identity and identification Interweaving theoretical debate with analysis of texts by Proust Duras Tournier and Cixous her study reveals the formative potential and transferential pleasures of the reading encounter Drawing on an understanding of identity as performative alienated and fictitious this study argues that the fictions we read act as mirrors and decoys displaying seductive images of intelligible sexual identities The texts chosen for discussion here draw attention to the strategies by which identity is constructed textually They work thus to frame the reading encounter and to highlight its formative power In analysis of these texts this study works to cut across the axes of homosexuality and heterosexuality offering an alternative focus on the interdependence of identity and fantasy

The Culture of Pain David B. Morris, 1991-09-09 This is a book about the meanings we make out of pain The greatest surprise I encountered in discussing this topic over the past ten years was the consistency with which I was asked a single unvarying question Are you writing about physical pain or mental pain The overwhelming consistency of this response convinces me that modern culture rests upon and underlying belief so strong that it grips us with the force of a founding myth Call it the Myth of Two Pains We live in an era when many people believe as a basic unexamined foundation of thought that pain comes divided into separate types physical and mental These two types of pain so the myth goes are as different as land and sea You feel physical pain if your arm breaks and you feel mental pain if your heart breaks Between these two different events we seem to imagine a gulf so wide and deep that it might as well be filled by a sea that is impossible to navigate

When Love is the Law Dominiek Hoens, 2005 Levinas and Lacan Sarah Harasym, 1998-01-01 Draws attention to the enigmatic missed encounter between Emmanuel Levinas and Jacques Lacan and articulates the theoretical stakes and practical consequences of such a disjunctive encounter for ethics

New York Nouveau Sara Kippur, 2025-08-12 Postwar French writers were at the vanguard of global literary innovation from the experimental minimalism of the Nouveau Roman to the literary games of the OuLiPo but less often appreciated is the extent to which they worked closely with US editors and translators published actively with American presses and often theorized transatlantic connections within their work In this exciting new work Sara Kippur proposes a new French literary history that traces the deep connections between postwar literary experimentalism and the New York publishing industry compellingly arguing that US based editors publishers producers professors and translators crucially intervened to shape French literature While Kippur attends closely to well known writers such as Marguerite Duras Samuel Beckett Eug ne Ionesco Georges Perec and Alain Robbe Grillet she also amplifies the voices of those who have been less visible though no less relevant including women whose contributions have not received proper credit but who helped to foster a sense of new possibilities for twentieth century French writing With these untold histories stitched together in this book through new archival discoveries from special collections and personal archives on both sides of the Atlantic Kippur begins to dismantle rigid notions of canonicity authorship and national literature

In the Dark Room

Rosanna Maule, Julie Beaulieu, 2009 This book examines Duras's contribution to contemporary cinema The dark room in the collection's title refers to one of Duras's metaphors for the writing process la chambre noire as the solitary space of literary creation the place where she struggles to project her internal shadow onto the blank page The dark room is also a metaphor for the film theater and by extension for the filmic experience Duras rejected conventional forms of cinematic address that encourage the spectator to develop a positive identification with the film's diegesis and narrative Her films create unusual rapports between image and sound diegetic and extra diegetic elements and textual and intertextual dimensions of cinematic representation In doing so they allow the film spectator to establish new connections with the screen This collection focuses on the aesthetic conceptual and political challenges involved in Duras s innovative approach to cinematic representation from an interdisciplinary perspective including film and literary theory psychoanalytic analysis music theory gender studies and post colonial criticism The book opens with a theoretical introduction to Duras s cinematic practice and its peculiar position in contemporary cinema and contemporary film theory and is divided into five parts each one devoted to a specific aspect of Duras s films the interaction between literature and cinema Part One the reconfiguration of the cinematic gaze Part Two and of the image sound relation Part Three the representation of history and memory Part Four and of cultural identity Part Five

Marguerite Duras Deborah N. Glassman,1991 The work of writer and filmmaker Marguerite Duras raises theoretical issues of representation and formal issues of cinematic and literary languages The novel Le Ravissement de Lol V Stein and the film India Song are examine using a psychoanalytic model of interpretation

Theory's Autoimmunity Zahi Zalloua,2018-10-15 Engaging scholars from across humanistic fields grappling with the role and value of theory in our times Theory s Autoimmunity argues for reclaiming theory s skepticism as a value To cultivate theory s skeptical impulses is to embrace what Jacques Derrida has termed autoimmunity a condition of openness to the outside openness of the self the community democracy or other ideals that allows for change Openness to change comes with risks and the self protective temptation to immunize oneself or one s community against these risks is strong Yet without such risks without openness to otherness no encounter with the new with difference can ever take place Without autoimmunity theory becomes stagnant and programmatic unable to receive and respond to the other or the event to address revise and produce new meanings Taking up the challenge of thinking theory as skepticism with and against philosophy this study turns to literature as an interlocutor investigating the ways theory like the literary works of Montaigne Baudelaire Stendhal Morrison or Duras declines to put on the interpretive brakes to stop reading at a point of understanding Undoing and remaking itself theory those critical interpretive practices that revel in the creation and proliferation of meaning becomes autoimmune

Metafolklore Alexander V. Avakov,2012-12-11 The book is organized in Folklore Units Each Folklore Unit has Context and may have one or more Metacontexts with citations of works of great philosophers or writers hence the title of the book is Metafolklore The book covers the life of immigrants from the USSR in the U S remembers life in Russia and gradually concentrates on the modus operandi of the KGB FBI CIA NYPD NSA ECHELON Foreign Intelligence Surveillance Court AI and ISI It covers frontiers of legal theory of surveillance What distinguishes this book is the intensely personal account of the events and issues

Intentionality, Desire, Responsibility A.W.M. Mooij,2010-09-14 Recently the predominance of natural sciences seems to have cast doubt on the legitimacy of the human sciences Adopting a phenomenological and hermeneutical point of view this book is intended to contribute towards a justification of the human sciences taking account of quintessentially human characteristics The basic assumption is that man interprets his own experience and the world around him yielding to the limitations imposed by language Central themes are intentionality and causality desire and lack responsibility and loss of responsibility Relevant domains are psychopathology and psychoanalysis following Lacan's interpretation and law The rich phenomenological traditions in these domains will be drawn from throughout this book Reading Relationally Laurie Edson, 2000 How reading literature through the lens of visual art sheds new light on the accomplishments of modernist and postmodernist writers The Cambridge Introduction to Literature and Psychoanalysis Jean-Michel Rabaté, 2014-09-22 Taking Sigmund Freud's theories as a point of departure Jean Michel Rabat's book explores the intriguing ties between psychoanalysis and literature Incriminations Karen S. McPherson, 2021-09-14 Maintaining that women's storytelling is a telling activity Karen McPherson reads for guilt in novels by five twentieth century writers Simone de Beauvoir L'Invitation Marguerite Duras Le ravissement de Lol V. Stein Anne H. Bert Kamouraska Virginia Woolf Mrs Dalloway and Nicole Brossard Le désert mauve She finds in the vocabulary and atmosphere of these novels a linking of female protagonists to crime and culpability The guilt however is not clearly imputed or assumed it tends to trouble the conscience of the entire narrative Through critical close readings and an inquiry into the interrelations among narration transgression and gender McPherson explores how the women in the stories come under suspicion and how they attempt to reverse or rewrite the guilty sentence The author examines the complex process and language of incrimination reflecting on its literary philosophical social and political manifestations in the texts and contexts of the five novels She looks for signs of possible subversion of the incriminating process within the texts Can female protagonists and women writers escape the vicious circling of the story that would incriminate them In the course of this book the stories are made to reveal their strikingly modern and postmodern preoccupations with survival Enacting Past and Present Michaela M. Grobbel, 2009-01-28 Through a discussion of Walter Benjamin Sigmund Freud Mieke Bal and others author Michaela Grobbel focuses on the work three women authors as types of performance which lead to representations of memory These women writers foreground the present but also critically demonstrate the complex relationship of the present to the past Grobbel's work is a critical addition to any discussion of feminism memory and literary modernism
