Blackmore, Marita Sánchez-Moreno, Naarah Sawers, 2016-10-18 The significance of Higher Education to national knowledge based economies has made the sector the object of government policies international monitoring and corporatization This radical global restructuring of higher education is gendered in its processes practices and effects Exploring how the re organisation of the sector has redefined academic management and professional roles and identities this book considers the different impacts of structural change for men and women working at diverse levels of the academy Drawing from empirical studies undertaken in Europe North America Asia and Australasia the contributions offer a range of theoretical and methodological perspectives including large scale comparative data and case studies They inform what is a key policy issue in the 21st century the re positioning of women in the academy and leadership Despite a range of institutional equity strategies in which women learnt the rules of the game this book shows that structural and cultural barriers often conceptualised through metaphors such as sticky floors glass ceilings chilly climates or dead end pipelines have not disappeared as might be expected as the academy becomes numerically feminized Each chapter provides an insight into how historical legacies cultural contexts geographic locations modes of regional and institutional governance and national policies are mediated and vernacularized through practice by localized gender regimes and orders This book was originally published as a special issue of Gender and Education      Understanding Feminism Peta Bowden, Jane Mummery, 2014-12-05

Understanding Feminism provides an accessible guide to one of the most important and contested movements in progressive modern thought Presenting feminism as a dynamic multi faceted and adaptive movement that has evolved in response to the changing practical and theoretical problems faced by women the authors take a problem oriented approach that maps the complex strands of feminist thinking in relation to women s struggles for equal recognition and rights and freedom from oppressive constraints of sex self expression and autonomy Each chapter focuses on a different cluster of concerns demonstrating key moves in second wave feminist thought as well as some of the diversity in response strategies that encompass both socio economic and cultural symbolic concerns This approach not only shows how central feminist insights theories and strategies emerge and re emerge across different contexts but makes clear that far from being over feminism remains a vital response to the diverse issues that women and men find pressing and socially important      Feminist

Perspectives on Terrorism Aleksandra Gasztold, 2020-04-01 This book explores terrorism and security issues from feminist perspectives putting gender and androcentrism at the heart of its analysis It argues against traditional research approaches to political violence and terrorism in particular that are dominated by the male gaze and individual stereotypes and perspectives and that feminist approaches offer a fresh perspective on security research Our current understanding of political violence is primarily based on the experiences of men and as such the challenge in terrorism and radicalization research is to demonstrate that women s studies on security and terrorism satisfy certain universal criteria The author shows how a post positivist approach can be useful in gaining insights into terrorism and violent extremism and how to address these phenomena The book presents theoretical foundations based on various feminist assumptions and exposes the essence of feminism its conceptual grid gender variabilities and the developments in feminist thinking and theory Furthermore it discusses the trends in feminist epistemology and explains female radicalization to terrorist activity the specificity of female terrorism and the roles of women in deradicalization processes as well as their impact on counterterrorism policy The book concludes that gender difference as a constitutive variable of social reality is of key importance in studies on terrorism and counterterrorism Fourth International Handbook of Globalisation, Education and Policy Research Joseph

Desire, Violence, and Insecurity in Mediterranean Nation States A. Agathangelou, 2004-10-14 At the intersection of the warmth of hearth and home and the dangers of the street lies the tenuous position of women engaged in reproductive labour those involved in the sex trade and those in domestic positions These are women who are vulnerable exploited and whose dirty work allows for the reproduction of traditional social mores and roles Yet while they are used to sustain tradition dialectically they reflect the hyperconnections of globalization through the migration of women the development of placement agencies that often are little but fronts for transnational crime and the transfer of money from the developed countries to the oppressed world This book focuses on the interaction of the global and the local through a close investigation of the political economy of desire and reproduction in three states that blur the line between developed and developing Greece Turkey and Cyprus These are countries at the crossroads in flux whose peripheral siting at the centre of global capitalism provides unusual insight into the dark recesses of patriarchy paternalism and exploitation     Sceptical History

Hélène Bowen Raddeker, 2007-04-30 A highly original work in history and theory this survey considers major themes including identity class and sexual difference and weaves them into debates on the nature and point of history Sceptical History arrives at new ways of doing history that consider non Western history and feminist approaches Using a wide range of historical and cultural contexts the study draws extensively on feminist scholarship both feminist history and postcolonial feminism
