Re-Imagining the Parish Patrick J. Brennan,1991 Re-Imagining the Parish Patrick J. Brennan,1991-02-01

Re-imagining the Parish Patrick J. Brennan,1990 A new model for parish renewal in the area of evangelization catecheses and ministry Discusses the generation of small basic intentional communities an emphasis on adult education and the development of a family consciousness in ministry that recognizes today s pluralism of family styles Re-imagining Life

Together in America Catherine T. Nerney, Hal Taussig,2002 Well written and highly accessible this book interweaves a thorough review of developments in Christian community from the first century to the present with powerful new discoveries in scriptural theological and historical research that has uncovered deep communal strands in the foundational literature and notions of Christianity The result is a profound call for the renewal of Christian community and churches as crucial models and inspirations for the new search for wholeness in America Re-Imagining Democracy in the Mediterranean,

1780-1860 Joanna Innes, Mark Philp,2018-10-25 Mediterranean states are often thought to have democratised only in the post war era as authoritarian regimes were successively overthrown On its eastern and southern shores the process is still contested Re imagining Democracy looks back to an earlier era the late eighteenth and early nineteenth centuries and argues it was this era when some modern version of democracy in the region first began By the 1860s representative regimes had been established throughout southern Europe and representation was also the subject of experiment and debate in Ottoman territories Talk of democracy its merits and limitations accompanied much of this experimentation though there was no agreement as to whether or how it could be given stable political form Re imagining Democracy assembles experts in the history of the Mediterranean who have been exploring these themes collaboratively to compare and contrast experiences in this region so that they can be set alongside better known debates and experiments in North Atlantic states States in the region all experienced some form of subordination to northern great powers In this context their inhabitants had to grapple with broader changes in ideas about state and society while struggling to achieve and maintain meaningful self rule at the level of the polity and self respect at the level of culture Innes and Philip highlight new research and ideas about a region whose experiences during the age of revolutions are at best patchily known and understood as well as to expand understanding of the complex and variegated history of democracy as an idea and set of practices Re-Imagining

Community and Civil Society in Latin America and the Caribbean Roberta Rice, Gordana Yovanovich,2016-07-15 Latin American and Caribbean communities and civil societies are undergoing a rapid process of transformation Instead of pervasive social atomization political apathy and hollowed out democracies which have become the norm in some parts of the world this region is witnessing an emerging collaboration between community civil society and government that is revitalizing democracy This book argues that a key explanation lies in the powerful and positive relationship between community and civil society that exists in the region The ideas of community and civil society tend to be studied separately as analytically distinct concepts however this volume seeks to explore their potential to work together A unique contribution of the work is the space for dialogue it creates between the social sciences and the humanities Many of the studies included in the volume are based on primary fieldwork and place based case studies Others relate literature music and film to important theoretical works providing a new direction in interdisciplinary studies and highlighting the role that the arts play in community revival and broader processes of social change A truly multi disciplinary book bridging established notions of civil society and community through an authentically interdisciplinary approach to the topic

Re-Membering and Re-Imagining Nancy J. Berneking, Pamela Carter Joern, 2009-06-01 The most controversial ecumenical church event in decades the first Re Imagining Conference shook the foundations of mainline Protestantism In this anthology of ninety five articles reflections letters poetry and artwork participants in the conference offer a candid inside look at what actually occurred in Minneapolis and at the aftershocks that followed Amid the cacophonous rumors hearsay and ideological clashes that continue to stalk Re Imagining the clear voices in this remarkable volume reveal fresh ways of understanding faith God and community They speak to the church today and to the church of tomorrow

Re-imagining Social Work Jim Ife, Rimple Mehta, Sharlotte Tusasiirwe, 2023-12-21 Re imagining Social Work provides a unique perspective on how social work can evolve for the future

Reimagining Ministerial Formation David Heywood, 2021-04-30 The Church is currently experiencing a transition in the way it understands and practises both mission and ministry It is to be outward looking engaging with the wider community involving all its members in mission and clergy are to play the role of enablers and equippers of the ministry of the whole church However ministerial formation in colleges and courses throughout the country lags behind this emerging consensus Theological education is still largely based on academic models Reimagining Ministerial Formation offers a new way forward where ministry comes to be about the whole church and ministerial formation is about collaboration between clergy and laity It argues strongly for a shift away from front loaded training to a new focus on formation as a life long process

Called to be Stewards Patrick H. McNamara, 2003 Stewardship is an increasingly widespread program for enhancing both finances and ministry involvement in Catholic parishes Called to Be Stewards contains eight case studies of Catholic parishes that have implemented a stewardship program Each chapter offers accounts of stewardship implementation and growth

Religious Education at a Crossroads Franciose Darcy-Berube, 2006-06 Details the achievements and shortcomings of the past and the risks challenges and opportunities religious education will meet in moving into the next century

Reconstructing Catholicism Robert Ludwig, 2000-04-04 A leading pastoral theologian re imagines Catholicism for a new millenium

Re-imagining Periphery Charlotta Hillerdal, Kristin Ilves, 2020-06-30 This edited volume delves into the current state of Iron Age and Early Medieval research in the North Over the last two decades of archaeological explorations theoretical vanguards and introduction of new methodological strategies together with a growing amount of critical studies in archaeology taking their stance from a multidisciplinary perspective have dramatically changed our understanding of Northern Iron Age societies The profound effect of 6th century climatic events on social structures in Northern Europe a reintegration of written sources and archaeological material genetic and isotopic studies entirely reinterpreting previously excavated grave material are but a few examples of such land winnings The aim of this book is to provide an intense and cohesive focus on the characteristics of contemporary Iron Age research explored under the subheadings of field and methodology settlement and spatiality text and translation and interaction and impact Gathering the work of leading established researchers and field archaeologists based throughout northern Europe and in the frontline of this new emerging image this volume provides a collective summary of our current understandings of the Iron Age and Early Medieval Era in the North It also facilitates a renewed interaction between academia and the ever growing field of infrastructural archaeology by integrating cutting edge fieldwork and developing field methods in the corpus of Iron Age and Early Medieval studies In this book many hypotheses are pushed forward from their expected outcomes and analytical work is not afraid of taking risks thus advancing the field of Iron Age research and also hopefully inspiring to a continued creation of new knowledge
