Reaching Children In War Sudan Uganda:

Reaching Children in War Cole P. Dodge, Magne Raundalen, 1991 Psychiatry and Decolonisation in Uganda Yolana Pringle, 2018-12-06 This open access book investigates psychiatry in Uganda during the years of decolonisation. It examines the challenges facing a new generation of psychiatrists as they took over responsibility for psychiatry at the end of empire and explores the ways psychiatric practices were tied to shifting political and development priorities, periods of instability and a broader context of transnational and international exchange. At its heart is a question that has concerned psychiatrists globally since the mid twentieth century: how to bridge the social and cultural gap between psychiatry and its patients. Bringing together archival research with oral histories, Yolana Pringle traces how this question came to dominate both national and international discussions on mental health care reform, including at the World Health Organization, and helped spur a culture of experimentation and creativity globally. As Pringle shows, however, the history of psychiatry during the years of decolonisation remained one of marginality and ultimately, in the context of war and violence, the decolonisation of psychiatry was incomplete.

Children and War James Marten, 2002-08-24 Children have always been involved in warfare. This text shows that they have contributed to home front war efforts and that war time experiences have always affected the ways children of war perceive themselves and their societies.

Internally Displaced, Refugees and Returnees from and in the Sudan Desirée Nilsson, 2000 Liguria is another country. They do things differently there, particularly when it comes to food. Lucio Galletto grew up in Liguria, at the eastern end of the Riviera di Levante coast, where the rising sun doesn't realize how special his region was until he fell in love with an Australian girl and traveled 12,000 kilometers to be with her. In 2008, Lucio and writer David Dale, along with photographer Paul Green, returned to the birthplace of ravioli and pesto and wild greens pie to investigate how the cooking of Lucio's region had evolved during his 25-year absence. They found a new breed of chefs, farmers, and fishermen adapting traditions to the environmental concerns of the 21st century. Still using the wonderful array of local herbs, vegetables, and seafood, they apply a lighter touch and a more adventurous spirit. In this stunningly photographed book, Lucio brings us the fruits of his travels: 180 delicious recipes that respect the experience of the past and anticipate the demands of the future; dishes that are fun to cook, beautiful to look at, a pleasure to share, and kind to the body. And importantly, that pay homage to the sunny Riviera di Levante from which Lucio's culinary journey began. This book was the winner of the 2008 Gourmand Award for Best Italian Cuisine Book, Australian Category, and the 2009 Cordon d'Or Cuisine

Child soldiers in international law Matthew Happold, 2022-12-20 Now available as an eBook for the first time this 2005 title in the Melland Schill series asks Can the use of children as soldiers be effectively regulated at an international level Child soldiers in international law examines how international law has developed to deal with this problematic and emotive issue Happold looks at the rules restricting the recruitment of children into armed forces rules which though important are often flouted but also at the wider legal issues arising from child soldiering to what extent can child soldiers be held criminally liable for their conduct How should they be treated when captured How are states obliged to demobilise and reintegrate them into their societies It also identifies a move away towards enforcement through the prosecution of those who recruit child soldiers and proposals for Security Council sanctions against governments and groups who breach their international obligations by using children in armed conflicts This study will be essential reading for those concerned with public international law human rights and the United Nations and peacekeeping Political Learning and Citizenship Education Under Conflict Orit Ichilov,2004-09-30 This book analyses social environments in conflict situations with a focus on Israel and Palestine and looks at the impact these environments have on the political learning and citizenship orientations of youngsters The A to Z of Human Rights and Humanitarian Organizations Robert F. Gorman,Edward S. Mihalkanin,2009-09-02 While the idea of human rights and humanitarian assistance has ancient roots evidence can be seen in such examples as the Ten Commandments the Bhagavad Gita and the teachings of Confucius and Socrates it wasn't until the 1800s that the first modern humanitarian and human rights organizations came to be The 19th century saw the beginning of the abolitionist movement the forming of a variety of women's suffrage organizations the formation and consolidation of national labor unions and the founding of the Red Cross This was followed by the inextricably intertwined story of war persecution violence and the growth of human rights and humanitarian organizations in the 20th century Bearing witness to some of the most horrific and blatant violations of human dignity the 20th century also beheld the first sustained global efforts to promote human rights at the international level The A to Z of Human Rights and Humanitarian Organizations follows major developments in the arena of human rights including the emergence of terrorism and international responses to it the establishment of an international criminal court the evolution of regional human rights bodies in Africa Europe and Latin America and the proliferation of new non governmental organizations and foundations dedicated to the promotion of human rights This is accomplished through a chronology an introduction appendixes photographs a bibliography and hundreds of cross referenced dictionary entries covering many of the key treaties agreements and definitions of human rights concepts important humanitarian organizations whether private governmental national or international and significant persons and events This realistic assessment of the advances in protection of human rights and the major difficulties still facing them is an excellent tool for students practitioners and libraries Contested Terrains And Constructed Categories George Clement Bond,2018-02-19 Contested Terrains and Constructed Categories brings together intellectuals from a variety of fields backgrounds generations and continents to deepen and reinvigorate the theoretical and intellectual integrity of African studies Building on recent debate within African studies that has revolved around the role of Africanists in the United States as gatekeepers of knowledge about Africa and Africans this volume of interdisciplinary essays focuses on the contested character of the production of knowledge itself In every chapter case studies and ethnographic materials drawn from such regions as South Africa Mozambique Zimbabwe the Malagasy Republic Angola Ghana and Senegal demonstrate the application of theory to concrete situations Children and Youth on the Front Line Jo Boyden, Joanna de Berry, 2005 This series reflects the multidisciplinary nature of the field and includes within its scope international law anthropology medicine geopolitics social psychology and economics The Power of Resistance Rowhea M. Elmesky, Carol Camp Yeakey, Olivia C. Marcucci, 2017-10-13 This book is guided through the powerful ideological frameworks of culture and social reproduction and looks specifically to the role of schooling as a vehicle for catalysing change
