Reaching Just Settlements:

Hearings United States. Congress. House. Committee on Interior and Insular Affairs, 1951 Investor-State Dispute Settlement Scott Miller, Gregory N. Hicks, 2015-02-02 Investor State Dispute Settlement ISDS is a provision in Bilateral Investment Treaties BITs and other international investment agreements that allows investors to enter arbitration with states over treaty breaches ISDS has become controversial in the United States and our negotiating partners critics including some governments have argued that ISDS is unnecessary while others insist it is illegitimate as public policy Treaty based investment protection represents a major advance in the fair treatment of aliens and the peaceful resolution of disputes Given the alternatives withdrawing from investment treaties the logical conclusion of the critics position would likely have negative consequences for economic growth and the rule of law This report is an empirical review of ISDS based on the record of disputes under existing investment treaties , Recovering Canada John Borrows, 2017-06-22 Canada is covered by a system of law and governance that largely obscures and ignores the presence of pre existing Indigenous regimes Indigenous law however has continuing relevance for both Aboriginal peoples and the Canadian state In his in depth examination of the continued existence and application of Indigenous legal values John Borrows suggests how First Nations laws could be applied by Canadian courts and tempers this by pointing out the many difficulties that would occur if the courts attempted to follow such an approach By contrasting and comparing Aboriginal stories and Canadian case law and interweaving political commentary Borrows argues that there is a better way to constitute Aboriginal Crown relations in Canada He suggests that the application of Indigenous legal perspectives to a broad spectrum of issues that confront us as humans will help Canada recover from its colonial past and help Indigenous people recover their country Borrows concludes by demonstrating how Indigenous peoples law could be more fully and consciously integrated with Canadian law to produce a society where two world views can co exist and a different vision of the Canadian constitution and citizenship can be created Hearings, Reports and Prints of the House Committee on Education and Labor United States.
