

A black and white photograph of a person in traditional African attire, possibly a woman, walking across a checkered floor. In the background, there are several desks or tables, some with papers on them, suggesting an office or administrative setting. The person is wearing a light-colored, draped garment and has a bag or bundle slung over their shoulder.

Reaction And Renewal In South Africa:

Reaction and Renewal in South Africa Paul B. Rich, 2016-07-27 This volume is a timely survey of the changes that have been occurring in South African politics and society since the unbanning of the exile liberation movements in 1990. It brings together a collection of seasoned scholars who examine the debates over changes in such areas as the economy, the state, the legal system, the position of women, and foreign relations. The volume explores the forces pushing for radical change in South African society as well as those resisting it and is particularly notable for bringing a political science perspective to bear on such issues as the restructuring of government and the constitution. Contested Lands in Southern and Eastern Africa

Robin H. Palmer, 1997 Questions of land tenure and land reform and their impact on poor and vulnerable communities are of vital importance throughout Southern and Eastern Africa. From the vast literature on the subject, Robin Palmer has selected and summarized more than 300 recent books, articles, academic theses, and reports of conferences and workshops. This survey includes studies of Angola, Botswana, Kenya, Lesotho, Malawi, Mozambique, Namibia, Rwanda, South Africa, Swaziland, Tanzania, Uganda, Zambia, and Zimbabwe. In addition to major sections on economic and legal issues, special sections feature studies of Land and Pastoralism and Land and Women. Global Challenges and Local Reactions: Czech Republic and South

Africa Hana Horáková, Stephanie Rudwick, 2014 This book presents an interdisciplinary perspective on the large scale processes of socio-economic and political change of two young democracies post-apartheid South Africa and the post-socialist Czech Republic. As the political transition in both countries coincides with the intensified effects of globalization, especially with the advent of neoliberal economic ideologies and policies, the two countries exhibit a number of common features and parallels in their respective transitions and post-developments. The book's chapters describe the particular places South Africa and the Czech Republic occupy in the dual processes of internationalization and globalization. Series: International Politics Internationale Politik Vol 19 Subject: Politics Economics European Studies African Studies Nuclear Reactions

Mark S. Bell, 2021-04-15 Nuclear Reactions analyzes how nuclear weapons change the calculations states make in their foreign policies, why they do so, and why nuclear weapons have such different effects on the foreign policies of different countries. Mark S. Bell argues that nuclear weapons are useful for more than deterrence. They are leveraged to pursue a wide range of goals in international politics, and the nations that acquire them significantly change their foreign policies as a result. Closely examining how these effects vary and what those variations have meant in the United States, the United Kingdom, and South Africa, Bell shows that countries are not generically emboldened; they change their foreign policies in different ways based on their priorities. This has huge policy implications. What would Iran do if it were to acquire nuclear weapons? Would Japanese policy toward the United States change if Japan were to obtain nuclear weapons? And what does the looming threat of nuclear weapons mean for the future of foreign policy? Far from being a relic of the Cold War, Bell argues, nuclear weapons are as important in international politics today as they ever were. Thanks to generous funding from the University of
