The Cognitive Development of Reading and Reading Comprehension Carol McDonald Connor, 2016-02-26 Learning to read may be the most complex cognitive operation that children are expected to master, and the latest research in cognitive development has offered important insights into how children succeed or fail at this task. The Cognitive Development of Reading and Reading Comprehension is a multidisciplinary, evidence-based resource for teachers and researchers that examines reading comprehension from a cognitive development perspective, including the principal theories and methods used in the discipline. The book combines research into basic cognitive processes (genetics, perception, memory, executive functioning) and language with an investigation of the effects that context and environment have on literacy outcomes, making clear how factors such as health, family life, community policy, and ecology can influence children's cognitive development.

How to Use Decodable Books to Teach Reading Pamela Brookes, 2019-09-29 Sixty-five percent of U.S. fourth graders are not proficient readers because their teachers have not been taught how to teach reading using evidence-based methods. Up to 20% of children have dyslexia. Few receive the individualized teaching they need from their schools. To help parents and teachers who want to teach their children using an evidence-based, effective method, Pamela Brookes, the mother of a child with dyslexia, discusses their daily routine as she teaches her daughter to read using the decodable DOG ON A LOG Books series. As the author of DOG ON A LOG Books, Pamela also shares how to choose where in the series to start. She shares how she teaches each of the phonics rules used in the book series, along with the reasons for teaching the syllable types and handwriting. Although this booklet is meant to guide parents and teachers using DOG ON A LOG Books, the information can be adapted and applied to any systematic series of decodable books How to Use Decodable Books to Teach Reading is edited by Dr Nancy Mather a professor in learning disabilities reading and writing to make sure it follows the scientific research on teaching reading This edition includes information on Steps 1 to 10 of the DOG ON A LOG phonics rules Additional steps will be added as the future decodable chapter books are created All DOG ON A LOG Books follow a structured literacy Orton Gillingham based phonics sequence You can download printable gameboards flashcards and other literacy materials at www.dogonalogbooks.com
