Feather Man Rhyll McMaster, 2007-05-01 Set in Brisbane during the stultifying 1950s, this account of the betrayal of love throws us into the disordered world of Sookie, a young artist. As she transits warily to the London of the swinging 70s, she comes up against those who would try to steal her very identity. Intelligent, mordantly funny, it is dark comedy with edges.

The Virtue of Giving Up Judith Anne Dent, 2017-07-21 This is the story of Judith Dent, a girl growing up in the middle of the last century, completely blind as well as autistic at a time when few people had even heard of autism. Judy, in her own words, was a child who could lie on the floor and scream until she turned blue from the sheer desperation of realizing she was different, not only from sighted children but from other blind children. Her family, including a mother suffering from paranoid schizophrenia, was unequipped and overwhelmed. Schools had no idea how to deal with her. How is it possible that Judith survived her early years, multiple suicide attempts, and hospitalizations, finally achieving success as a woman and wife living in her own home and as a PhD graduate? She lacked sight, but she brought to her writings here an extraordinary eye and memory for detail that make it almost possible for the reader to experience her world and understand how she did it.

That's just the way it goes in this world. The strong take what they want. The weak get what they're given. And she's been given a real sh t.
