South Australia and Federation Peter Anthony Howell, Peter Howell, 2002 South Australia and Federation presents a lively and lucid account of what was happening in South Australia at a vital turning point in its history. The federation era was the highwater mark of South Australia's interaction with people in the rest of Australia. Elected representatives of the central colony state played a key role in creating and shaping the new Australian nation in its formative years. Peter Howell tells this story in the context of fresh examination of the ways in which South Australians were developing their own community.

John Gould's Extinct and Endangered Birds of Australia Sue Taylor, 2012 In 1838 John Gould, the father of Australian ornithology, visited Australia with the intention of gathering material for his great work on Australian birds. In the resulting publication The Birds of Australia in seven volumes, 1848, and the accompanying Supplement, 1869, Gould named for the first time no fewer than 32 Australian bird species. Gould's words about the Norfolk Island Kaka were prophetic: the last bird of its kind died in a cage in London in 1851. Since then a number of other species illustrated in The Birds of Australia have become extinct, and others are now facing extinction. John Gould's Extinct and Endangered Birds of Australia features 59 plates of birds from Gould's eight-volume work: birds that today are threatened or that no longer exist. Featuring exquisite full-colour lithographs reproduced from the National Library of Australia's copy of The Birds of Australia, this book gives an insight into the history of each bird's European discovery as well as its subsequent fortunes or misfortunes.
