connection both actual and perceived between sacred sources and the justification of violent acts as divinely mandated Fighting Words makes solid text based scholarship accessible to the general public beginning with the premise that a balanced approach to religious pluralism in our world must build on a measured well informed response to the increasingly publicized and sensationalized association of terrorism and large scale violence with religion In his introduction Renard provides background on the major scriptures of seven religious traditions Jewish Christian including both the Old and New Testaments Islamic Baha i Zoroastrian Hindu and Sikh Eight chapters then explore the interpretation of select facets of these scriptures focusing on those texts so often claimed both historically and more recently as inspiration and justification for every kind of violence from individual assassination to mass murder With its nuanced consideration of a complex topic this book is not merely about the religious sanctioning of violence but also about diverse ways of reading sacred textual sources
