Feinstein, 2005-08-11 Since the liberation of the Nazi concentration camps and recognition of the Holocaust as a watershed event of the twentieth century if not in Western Civilization itself the capacity of art to represent this event adequately has been questioned As it analyzes a cross section of Holocaust art within the context of art history. Absence Presence addresses the discussion head on and explores the interchange between media and horror. The book's contributors include case studies from a broad spectrum of artists in North America, Europe, and Israel to examine some of the more dominant themes in these artists' work. In addition to standard readings of Holocaust art, the essays help illuminate the issues of eugenics, the importance of art for Hitler and the Nazis, the immense pilfering of art that occurred during World War II, and the length and degree of the destruction of European Jewry, which forced artists to reinvent their work through their own fate. This selection of essays also provides alternative views to more typical readings on the Holocaust, specifically to the story of the Shoah as a relevant art subject and to those who have a right to create art about the Holocaust. These issues were the subject of an intense international debate based on an exhibition at New York's Jewish Museum titled Mirroring Evil. The retrospective brought to art a series of contemporary perspectives that represented both the outer edges as well as mainstream postmodern thinking concerning representations of the Holocaust. This book, which covers the art from the late 1980s through 2002, includes the work of an array of scholars, curators, and artists from many countries. It will be of great interest to art historians, Jewish scholars, and anyone interested in learning more about the art and artists of the Holocaust.

The Monumental Argyro

Loukaki, 2025-03-14 The Monumental is an interdisciplinary collection of original, cutting-edge contributions by international researchers pursuing the epistemology and ontology of monuments over time and geography. The contributors are specialists in geography, architectural theory, and history, prehistoric Greek and Roman archaeology, modern art, Byzantine studies, landscape theory, and heritage reception. Against the global climate of flux and uncertainty in the present, turbulent world, the durability of monuments as urban permanences emerges as one of the few remaining spatial and mental anchorages. As such, it is needed, maintained, enhanced, imitated, landscaped, and even invented. In particular, the monumental, a spatial and aesthetic phenomenon of perpetual importance, has recently acquired major new meanings. It now emerges as a key political, spatial, aesthetic, symbolic, architectural, and archaeological manifestation or entity, open to constantly new, even contradictory forms and expressions. This collection addresses the urgent need for relevant research on the monumental. It breaks new ground by posing fresh questions on the ontology, temporality, purpose, politics, scale, place, contestations, and aesthetics of and around the monumental from prehistoric time to the present, as well as in both Eastern and Western geographies. Monuments are explored as bearers of the urban, majestic, extraordinary, and sublime. The Monumental poses questions about changing perceptions, the evocative power of representation, identity, construction, ideology, and symbolism, the vital necessity for a communicative and active public space around monuments, imitation processes across geographical space-time, as well as the powers that construct, deconstruct, or identify the monumental, but also the anti-monumental, as such. Geographies of reference are the European space, the United States, and Asia. Wide-ranging theorizations alternate with in-depth analyses of paradigmatic cases. Conventional as well as alternative forms of the monumental in the present, shifting world are also pursued The Monumental is of great value and interest to scholars students and professionals in the fields of architectural theory history and design archaeology art theory and history Byzantine studies restoration urban design and planning human urban and cultural geography cultural studies social anthropology Asian studies as well as those in wider subdisciplines
