Angeles where Hollywood lived Palm Springs where Hollywood vacationed San Diego where the Navy went the California Institute of Technology in Pasadena where Einstein went and changed his view of the universe and college towns like Berkeley We read about the rich urban life of San Francisco and Los Angeles and in newly important communities like Carmel and San Simeon the home of William Randolph Hearst where each Thursday afternoon automobiles packed with Hollywood celebrities would arrive from Southern California for the long weekend at Hearst Castle The 1930s were the heyday of the Hollywood studios and Starr brilliantly captures Hollywood films and the society that surrounded the studios Starr offers an astute discussion of the European refugees who arrived in Hollywood during the period prominent European film actors and artists and the creative refugees who were drawn to Hollywood and Southern California in these years Igor Stravinsky Arnold Schoenberg Man Ray Bertolt Brecht Christopher Isherwood Aldous Huxley Thomas Mann and Franz Werfel Starr gives a fascinating account of how many of them attempted to recreate their European world in California and how others like Samuel Goldwyn provided stories and dreams for their adopted nation Starr reserves his greatest attention and most memorable writing for San Francisco For Starr despite the city's beauty and commercial importance San Francisco's most important achievement was the sense of well being it conferred on its citizens It was a city that magically belonged to everyone Whether discussing photographers like Edward Weston and Ansel Adams hard boiled fiction writers or the new breed of female star Marlene Dietrich Jean Harlow Bette Davis Carole Lombard and the improbable Mae West The Dream Endures is a brilliant social and cultural history in many ways the most far reaching and important of Starr's California books

The Recursive Frontier Michael Docherty, 2024-05-01 The Recursive Frontier is an innovative spatial history of both the literature of Los Angeles and the city itself in the mid twentieth century Setting canonical texts alongside underexamined works and sources such as census bulletins and regional planning documents Michael Docherty identifies the American frontier as the defining dynamic of Los Angeles fiction from the 1930s to the 1950s Contrary to the received wisdom that Depression era narratives mourn the frontier's demise Docherty argues that the frontier lives on as a cruel set of rules for survival in urban modernity governing how texts figure race space mobility and masculinity Moving from dancehalls to offices to oil fields and beyond the book provides a richer more diverse picture of LA's literary production during this period as well as a vivid account of LA's cultural and social development as it transformed into the multiethnic megalopolis we know today

Shades of Noir Joan Copjec, 1993 For this was the summer when after the hiatus of the Second World War French critics were again given the opportunity to view films from Hollywood The films they saw including The Maltese Falcon Double Indemnity Laura Murder My Sweet and The Woman in the Window prompted the naming and theorization of a new phenomenon film noir Much of what has been written about the genre since has remained within the orbit of this preliminary assessment While sympathetic towards the early French critics this collection of original essays attempts to move beyond their first fascinated look Beginning with an autonomy of that look of the poujadist climate that nourished it and the imminent collapse of the Hollywood studio system that gave it its mournful inflection Shades of Noir re explores and calls into question the object first constructed by it The impetus for this shift in perspective comes from the films themselves viewed in the light of contemporary social and political concerns and from new theoretical insights Several contributions analyze the re emergence of noir in recent years most notably in the hybrid forms produced in the 1980s by the merging of noir with science fiction and horror for example Blade Runner and Angel Heart and in films by black directors such as Deep Cover Straight out of Brooklyn A Rage in Harlem and One False Move Other essays focus on the open urban territory in which the noir hero hides out the office spaces in Chandler and the palpable sense of waiting that fills empty warehouses corridors and hotel rooms Finally Shades of Noir pays renewed attention to the lethal relation between the sexes to the femme fatale and the other women in noir As the role of women expands the femme fatale remains deadly but her deadliness takes on new meanings Contributors Janet Bergstrom Joan Copjec Elizabeth Cowie Manthia Diawara Frederic Jameson Dean MacCannel Fred Pfeil David Reid and Jayne L Walker Marc Vernet Slavoj Zizek

A Mysterious Something in the Light Tom Williams, 2013-09-01 The life of Raymond Chandler has long been obscured by secrets and half truths as deceptive as anything in his novel The Long Goodbye Now drawing on new interviews previously unpublished letters and archives on both sides of the Atlantic Tom Williams casts a new light on this most mysterious of writers The Raymond Chandler revealed is a man troubled by loneliness and desertion from an early age Born in Chicago in 1888 his childhood was overshadowed by the collapse of his parents marriage his father s alcohol fuelled violence eventually forcing the boy and his doting mother to leave for Ireland and later London But class bound England proved stifling and Chandler in his twenties and eager to forge a new life returned to the United States where in corruption ridden Los Angeles he met his one great love Cissy Pascal a married woman eighteen years his senior It was only during middle age after his alcoholism wrecked a lucrative career as an oilman that Chandler seriously turned to crime fiction And his legacy the lonely ambiguous world of Philip Marlowe endures compelling generations of crime writers to follow him In this long awaited new biography Tom Williams shadows one of the true literary giants of the twentieth century and considers how crime writing was raised to the level of art

Golden Dreams Kevin Starr, 2011-09-09 A narrative tour de force that combines wide ranging scholarship with captivating prose Kevin Starr s acclaimed multi volume Americans and the California Dream is an unparalleled work of cultural history In this volume Starr covers the crucial postwar period 1950 to 1963 when the California we know today first burst into prominence Starr brilliantly illuminates the dominant economic social and cultural forces in California in these pivotal years In a powerful blend of telling events colorful personalities and insightful analyses Starr examines such issues as the overnight creation of the postwar California suburb the rise of Los Angeles as Super City the reluctant emergence of San Diego as one of the largest cities in the nation and the decline of political centrism He explores the Silent Generation and the emergent Boomer youth cult the Beats and the Hollywood Rat Pack the pervasive influence of Zen Buddhism and other Asian traditions in art and design the rise of the University of California and the emergence of California itself as a utopia of higher education the cooling of West Coast jazz freeway and water projects of heroic magnitude outdoor life and the beginnings of the environmental movement More broadly he shows how California not only became the most populous state in the Union but in fact evolved into a mega state en route to becoming the global commonwealth it is today Golden Dreams continues an epic series that has been widely recognized for its signal contribution to the history of American culture in California It is a book that transcends its stated subject to offer a wealth of insight into the growth of the Sun Belt and the West and indeed the dramatic transformation of America itself in these pivotal years following the Second World War Raymond Chandler William Marling, 1986 A critical study tracing the relationship between style and era for each of Chandler's seven full length books
