international museum professionals architects designers and academics this book highlights the complexity and significance of museum space studies recent developments in museum architecture and exhibition design Re-Shaping Learning: A Critical Reader Anne Boddington, Jos Boys, 2012-01-01 Learning Spaces is an emerging field fuelled by a growing interest in the relationships between learning and spaces in which it takes place whether conceptual personal social physical and or virtual It is concerned with making learning spaces that can better meet the needs of 21st century learners academics and other related publics In post compulsory education this has opened up many interesting and important issues There remains a lack of any theoretical understanding as to how such spaces should be conceived or designed and hardly any critical discussion about effective frameworks for either the development of contemporary learning spaces or for assessing their impact on learning teaching and research At the same time there is much debate about what the purposes of post compulsory education should be as well as concerns about where and by whom it should be provided We therefore need to urgently improve our understanding of the interactions between learning and space It is essential that we not only share perspectives theories and methodologies but also critically reflect on our own different assumptions and work together to build better models for post compulsory education in the future To help in this process this book is designed as a critical reader that can enable researchers academics students and managers involved in Learning Spaces to share and engage with some key ideas issues and texts A central aim is to bring together some of the best research from across the many different disciplines concerned with learning spaces including education architecture anthropology human computer interaction estate planning and museum studies Reshaping Learning is thus intended for anyone interested in and wanting to think more about learning spaces whether as users clients or managers or who are want to better understand interactions between the social and the spatial Systems Thinking in Museums Yuha Jung, Ann Rowson Love, 2017-10-06 Systems Thinking in Museums explores systems thinking and the practical implication of it using real life museum examples to illuminate various entry points and

stages of implementation and their challenges and opportunities Its premise is that museums can be better off when they operate as open dynamic and learning systems as a whole as opposed to closed stagnant and status quo systems that are compartmentalized and hierarchical This book also suggests ways to incorporate systems thinking based on reflective questions and steps with hopes to encourage museum professionals to employ systems thinking in their own museum Few books explore theory in practice in meaningful and applicable ways this book offers to unravel complex theories as applied in everyday practice through examples from national and international museums

Place-Based Spaces for Networked Learning Lucila Carvalho, Peter Goodyear, Maarten de Laat, 2016-07-01 With the boundaries of place softened and extended by digital communications technologies learning in a networked society necessitates new distributions of activity across time space media and people and this development is no longer exclusive to formally designated spaces such as school classrooms lecture halls or research laboratories Place based Spaces for Networked Learning explores how qualities of physical places make both formal and informal education in a networked society possible Through a series of investigations and case studies it illuminates the structural composition and functioning of complex learning environments This book offers a wealth of key design elements and attributes for productive learning that educational designers can reuse in multiple contexts The chapters examine how places are modified expanded or supplemented by networking technologies and practices in order to create spaces in which learners can collaboratively develop new understandings connections and capabilities Utilizing a range of diverse but complementary perspectives from anthropology archaeology architecture geography psychology sociology and urban studies Place based Spaces for Networked Learning addresses how material places and digital spaces are understood how sense can be made of new assemblages and configurations of tasks tools and people how the real time analysis of new flows of data can inform and entertain users of a space and how access to the digital realm changes our experiences with both places and other people

Redisplaying Museum Collections Hannah Paddon, 2016-04-08 This is the first book to examine in depth the multi million pound redisplay and reinterpretation process in British museums in the early twenty first century Acknowledging the importance of the Heritage Lottery Fund

HLF as project catalyst Hannah Paddon explains and explores the complex process from the initial stages of project conceptualisation to the final stages of museum re opening and exhibition evaluation She also provides an in depth look using three case study museums at the factors which shape each museum redisplay project including topics such as museum architecture government agendas and the exhibition team Finally the book offers discussions and conclusions around pitfalls and successes and thoughts about the future of collection redisplay Inside the Freud Museums Joanne

Morra,2017-12-11 Sigmund Freud spent the final year of his life at 20 Maresfield Gardens London surrounded by all his possessions in exile from the Nazis The long term home and workspace he left behind in Berggasse 19 Vienna is a seemingly empty space devoid of the great psychoanalyst s objects and artefacts Now museums both of these spaces resonate powerfully Since 1989 the Freud Museum London has held over 70 exhibitions by a distinctive range of artists including Louise Bourgeois Sophie Calle Mat Collishaw Susan Hiller Sarah Lucas and Tim Noble and Sue Webster The Sigmund Freud Museum Vienna houses a small but impressive contemporary art collection with work by John Baldessari Joseph Kosuth Jenny Holzer Franz West and Ilya Kabakov In this remarkable book Joanne Morra offers a nuanced analysis of these historical museums and their unique relationships to contemporary art Taking us on a journey through the site responsive artworks exhibitions and curatorial practices that intervene in the objects spaces and memories of these museums Joanne Morra offers a fresh experience of the history and practice of psychoanalysis of museums and contemporary art Re-shaping Cities

Michael Guggenheim,Ola Söderström,2009-12-04 This original collection examines how architectural ideas social models and building forms circulate round the world and become mediated and adapted to local conditions The book shows how types such as skyscrapers mosques or living history museums are imported adapted and contested in different societies and how urban landscapes are reshaped by the global circulation of models drawn from elsewhere Written by scholars from different disciplinary backgrounds architecture anthropology geography linguistics science studies and sociology the book draws its inspiration from a series of different approaches and offers both original theoretical reflection and carefully crafted case studies The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells,2005 Museum Practice ,2006 From Periphery to Center Pat Villeneuve,2007 This book examines museum education from the perspective of 33 authors from the field resulting in a collective vision elevating the function of education within museums A variety of perspectives offered throughout the collection of essays push further thinking and encourage robust debate Both museum practitioners and university level students will find the contents of this book useful as it delves into theory but it also informs on exemplary models of practice Museum education has developed much over the past 20 years yet there remains an opportunity to advance its position within art museums with effective practice and the creation of successful programs Museums and Communities Ivan Karp,Christine Mullen Kreamer,Steven Lavine,1992 Papers presented at a conference at the Smithsonian Institution International Center March 21 23 1990 Situation Aesthetics Kirsi Peltomaki,2010-03-05 The first book length study of this influential artist's work focusing on the participatory role of the human subject rather than the art object Michael Asher doesn't make typical installations. Instead, he extracts his art from the institutions in which it is shown, culling it from collections, histories, or museums' own walls. Since the late 1960s, Asher has been creating situations that have not only taught us about the conditions and contexts of contemporary art but have worked to define it. In Situation Aesthetics, Kirsi Peltomäki examines Asher's practice by analyzing the social situations that the artist constructs in his work for viewers, participants, and institutional representatives, including gallery directors, curators, and other museum staff members. Drawing on art criticism, the reports of viewers and participants in Asher's projects, and the artist's own archives, Peltomäki offers a comprehensive account of Asher's work over the past four decades. Because of the intensely site-specific nature of this work, as well as the artist's refusal to reconstruct past works or mount retrospectives, many of the projects Peltomäki discusses are described here for the first time. By emphasizing the social and psychological sites of art rather than the production of autonomous art objects, Peltomäki argues, Asher constructs experientially complex situations that profoundly affect those who encounter them, bringing about both personal and institutional transformation.
