Public Works Appropriations for 1961 United States. Congress. House. Committee on Appropriations,1960 Assessing China's Naval Power Sarah Kirchberger,2015-06-23 This book analyzes the rise of China's naval power and its possible strategic consequences from a wide variety of perspectives: technological, economic, and geostrategic, while employing a historical comparative approach throughout. Since naval development requires huge financial resources and mostly takes place within the context of transnational industrial partnerships, this study also consciously adopts an industry perspective. The systemic problems involved in warship production and the associated material, financial, technological, and political requirements currently remain overlooked aspects in the case of China. Drawing on first-hand working experience in the naval shipbuilding industry, the author provides transparent criteria for the evaluation of different naval technologies, strategic value, which other researchers can draw upon as a basis for further research in such diverse fields as International Security Studies, Naval Warfare Studies, Chinese Studies, and International Relations.

Report Canada. Dominion Water and Power Bureau,1916 Law, Violence and Constituent Power Héctor López Bofill,2021-05-30 This book challenges traditional theories of constitution making to advance an alternative view of constitutions as being founded on power which rests on violence The work argues that rather than the idea of a constitution being the result of political participation and deliberation all power instead is based on violence Hence the creation of a constitution is actually an act of coercion where through violence one social group is able to impose itself over others The book advocates that the presence of violence be used as an assessment of whether genuine constitutional transformation has taken place and that the legitimacy of a constitutional order should be dependent upon the absence of killing The book will be essential reading for academics and researchers working in the areas of constitutional law and politics legal and political theory and constitutional history Power ,1929 Power and the Engineer ,1907 The Journal of the Engineering Institute of Canada Engineering Institute of Canada,1927 Printers' Ink ,1924 Legislative Document New York (State).
